WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—A reaction against invoking the [illegible] of cloture on the Swing-Johnson [illegible] bill developed today when, it [illegible] victory virtually was in sight. COOLIDGE VETOES FARM AID BILL AS ECONOMIC FOLLY

Plan Also Held Unconstitutional; Overriding of Ban Unlikely; Sane Relief Proposed

The full text of President Coolidge's message vetoing the McNary-Haugen bill will be found on Page 4, Part I, of this edition of The Times.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Because the McNary-Haugen bill is unconstitutional, because it would penalize one group of farmers for the benefit of another group, because it would endanger the general economic stability of the country as a whole and because it is impractical in many of its provisions, President Coolidge today sent the measure back to Congress without his approval. An attempt to override the veto will be made in the Senate tomorrow but without hope of success. Accompanying the President's veto message was an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Sargent outlining the unconstitutional features of the so-called farm relief measure, which had price fixing and an artificial stimulation of production as its essential features.

Although of considerable length the veto message would have assumed the proportions of a book, President Coolidge said, if he had undertaken to recite all the reasons why he should not approve it.

"Of course," he said, "it includes some good features. Some of its provisions intended to aid and strengthen co-operative marketing have been borrowed from proposals that do represent the general trend of constructive thought on the agricultural problem.

URGES SANE PROGRAM

"In this measure, however," he observed, "these provisions are all completely subordinated to the main objective, which is to have the government dispose of export surpluses at a loss and make some farmer-taxpayers foot the bill."

The President renewed his recommendation that constructive farm relief legislation be enacted.

"Other plans have been proposed in Congress," he said, "for advancement in this recovery, which plans offer promise of sound assistance to the farmers without these unconstitutionalities, invasions of executive authority, this contracting with packers and flour millers and other manufacturers, this overproduction with its inflation and inevitable crash, without this indirect price fixing, buying and selling, this creation of huge bureaucracies. They are, on the contrary, devoted entirely to the principle of building up farmer-controlled marketing concerns to handle their problems, including occasional surplus production and applicable to all agriculture and not to a minor fraction. I have frequently urged such legislation."

DOUBTS BILL'S BACKING

The President denied that the farmers as a whole desired the enactment of the McNary-Haugen measure, drawing attention to the fact that many of the largest farm organizations have refused to support it and that substantial minorities of organizations recorded as favoring the bill have protested its approval.

"What the farmers want," he informed the Congress, "and what the American people as a whole will approve, is legislation which will not substitute governmental bureaucracy for individual and co-operative initiative, but will facilitate the constructive efforts of the farmers themselves in their own self-governed organizations."

Veto of the proposal occasioned little surprise either in the Senate or House, where the President's unfavorable views were fully understood.

REPASSAGE UNLIKELY

A canvass of sentiment in the Senate and House indicates that supporters of the bill cannot muster the two-thirds vote in either wing of the Capitol necessary to pass it over the veto.

From the standpoint of political consequences, no President in recent years has been called upon to face a more difficult situation than President Coolidge encountered in the farm proposal, as many of those taking a leading part in its advocacy openly threaten to lead a revolt against his administration throughout

Terrific Seas Threaten to Engulf Bulk of Fishing Fleet

Liners and Small Power Boats Also in Danger as Winds Rage

SEWARD (Alaska) Feb. 25. (AP)—Caught in the full fury of a terrific sub-Arctic storm, the Alaskan halibut fishing fleet of 270 vessels tonight was being helplessly buffeted by mountainous waves, which are believed to have destroyed many of the smaller craft.

Ships which limped into Seward late today reported that 150 of the 270 vessels may be unable to reach ports of refuge.

Snow, hail and lightning tonight added to the perils of the fishing craft, already tossed about by a gale sweeping out of the north across the Gulf of Alaska.

Their anchors dragging before the wind, the mail steamer Starr and the halibut boats Cape Beal and Attu narrowly escaped destruction today when they were swept perilously near to the shore here. The Starr was within fifty feet of shore when addi-

BROWNWOOD (Tex.) Feb. 25.—[To the Editor of The Times.] Well, Calvin vetoed the McNary-Haugen bill. One thing, nobody can ever accuse the President of being a "yes" man. I am with him on this. Never could see why the bill raised the price on a hog and not on a cow, raised it on an ear of corn but not on a potato. You see, that shows you where class will tell. The old Congressmen and Senators got scared by the vetoes back home, but Cal went through. That is the difference between a big man and a little one.

CHILE DEPORTS AGITATORS

Premier Ibanez Loads Prominent Opponents on Train for Unknown Destination

SANTIAGO (Chile) Feb. 25. (AP)—A special train carrying a number of persons who have been ordered deported in connection with Premier Ibanez's campaign to stamp out the opposition to the government left this afternoon for an unknown destination. Orders are to be transmitted to its crew as the train proceeds.

Among the passengers making the compulsory journey were Manuel Rivas Vicuna, former Premier; Rafael Gumcio, director of the Conservative newspaper Diario Ilustrado and former president of the Chamber of Deputies; the Radical Deputy Santiago La Barca, and a number of other members of Parliament and men in public life.

TOUCHING SCENES

Touching scenes attended the departure of the train. Many in the crowd which gathered expressed sympathy with the deported men.

Overriding the decision of the Supreme Court suspending the deportation order against Rivas Vicuna until its constitutionality could be examined, the government arrested him this morning and ordered him to prepare for deportation. Going still further, the government authorities also arrested Felipe Urzua, president of the Court of Appeals, before which many of those arrested had laid their cases.

More than 100 persons have been arrested in Santiago and other parts of the republic for political reasons, according to latest reports. Among them is the Liberal Deputy Enrique Matta Figueroa, nephew of President Figueroa-Larrain of Chile. Matta has been a constant opponent of Premier Ibanez, whom he often assailed in fiery speeches in the chamber.

The Communist newspaper La Jornada of Valvivia has been closed by the government.

EXTRA SESSION URGED

Members of the Chamber of Deputies are circulating a petition to be presented to the president of the Senate, requesting him to convoke Congress in extraordinary session to discuss the situation.

Much speculation is going on as to the final destination of those who have been ordered deported. According to some reports they will be sent to Valparaiso and embarked for Ecuador, while others say many of them will be sent to Easter Island, which lies in the Pacific Ocean about 2000 miles off the Chilean coast.

Gen. Carlos Ibanez recently brought about the resignation of the Chilean Cabinet and the formation of a new ministry, headed by himself with the announced intention of combating Bolshevism.

RADIO BOARD FOUND HARD TO SELECT

President, However, Will Send Names to Senate Before Adjournment

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—His task rendered somewhat difficult by limitations placed by Congress on his appointing power, President Coolidge is going over the 900 applications he has received for appointment to the recently-created Board of Radio Commissioners and will send his nomination to the Senate before Congress adjourns.

The radio bill approved by Congress and signed by the President provides for a board of five commissioners, each representing a geographical district. Another provision of the bill requires that not more than three members shall belong to the same political party. The latter provision drew from the White House today the dry observation that the existing state of political affairs in the country makes it difficult to determine individual political affiliations.

In connection with his consideration of those suggested for appointment as radio commissioners, President Coolidge let it be known today that he desires at least one radio expert on the new board and that he also will desire other members individually or severally to possess a knowledge of public-service regulations, business experience and a knowledge of law.

Bay City Hopes to See Rainless Week-end Again

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—For the first time this month, the Weather Bureau held out hope that the Bay District will experience a rainless week-end. The forecast is tempered, however, with the prediction that it will be cloudy.

A new low-pressure area is off the North Pacific Coast, but is making little headway, Forecaster Reed announced. The extreme northern part of the State may get rain from it tomorrow.

Storm warnings remain displayed along the Oregon and Washington shores, but were taken down along the California coast today.

While "partly cloudy weather with moderate temperature" is forecast by Col. H. B. Hersey, United States Meterologist, for today and probably Sunday, the prediction carries with it no indication of rain within the next twenty-four hours, it was announced at the local headquarters last night.

During the previous twenty-four hours, a rainfall of .04 of an inch was reported at Santa Barbara. Imperial Valley, Newport Harbor and Pomona all reported a trace.

CHARGES OF CLUBBING IN RIOT TRIAL

Harvard Students Opening Defense Deny Police Had Provocation for Action

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Testimony that police used their clubs without provocation during their clash with Harvard students in Harvard Square on the 12th inst., was given in District Court today as the defense opened its case, at the trial of thirty-five students and four other men on charges resulting from the encounter.

Earlier in the day the prosecution had rested after calling twenty-four witnesses, sixteen of whom were policemen, in an attempt to show that the students had started a riot by throwing eggs and other missiles after leaving a midnight show and smoker at the University Theater.

All except fourteen of the thirty-nine defendants rested their cases without offering any evidence, their counsel contending that no evidence against them had been introduced.

The defense of the remaining fourteen defendants was then opened with the testimony of unwarranted use of force by the police. The star witness for the defense was Oliver D. Ferguson of Paducah, Ky., a strapping six-footer, who had been identified by prosecution witnesses as putting up such a battle that it took four policemen to overpower him and put him in a patrol wagon.

Bearing the scars of four head wounds and numerous bruises received in the battle, Ferguson related how he had been seized from behind and struck on the head while crossing Harvard Square from his room to a restaurant.

FOREIGN TROOPS SET UP BARRIERS IN SHANGHAI

Thousands Pace Picket Lines to Save International Section; Warning Given Factions

SHANGHAI, Feb. 25. (AP)—Thousands of the regulars—fighting men of Great Britain, France and Italy—paced a twenty-mile line of barbed wire, sandbags and machine guns today to check any attempted entrance into the foreign settlements of Shanghai by warring factions in China's unheaval. On board ship, ready to move into the line if needed, were 2400 American marines and bluejackets. Washington had ordered that they be landed when necessary to protect American lives and property and not before. American authorities ashore believed the necessity had not yet arisen.

Behind the line of foreign troops, which surrounded the international settlement and French concession and reached some distance into native Shanghai, were 8000 foreigners possessing property valued at $16,000,000 gold.

The day passed quietly enough. A ceaseless rain that made a quagmire of the country curtailed the movements of Chinese troops around the defense line, and lessened the activities of armies concentrating for the struggle to determine possession of Shanghai and Kiangsu Province.

MORE ARRIVE

The Shantungese troops from the north continued to arrive, however, to reinforce the demoralized forces of the defeated Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang against the threatened advance of the Cantonese.

Foreign soldiers and marines formed the defense line in response to the request of the Municipal Council to the consuls of foreign powers to aid in the defense of the city. Three thousand British troops took up their positions along the line. With them went marine of France and Italy.

The international settlement boundaries had been strengthened freshly with barbed wire, and the French had wired their entire boundary, which adjoins the native city of Shanghai.

The diplomatic body, stirred to action by the shelling of the French settlement by poor marksmen of a Chinese gunboat shooting at an arsenal a mile away, issued an official warning to leaders of the contending Chinese armies that foreign authorities will be constrained to take measures to protect foreign life if the Chinese do not cease endangering it.

The stern admonition of the foreign consuls said that "in the course of party strife, the authorities of the inetrnational settlement have scrupulously abstained from favoring any of the conflicting parties," and that the Chinese are expected to treat foreign life and property with respect.

WARNING ISSUED TO HEADS OF FACTIONS

PEKING, Feb. 25. (AP)—The diplomatic body yesterday issued a warning to the heads of the conflicting Chinese armies saying that in view of the possibility that military action in the region of Shanghai at any moment may endanger foreign life and property, it expects them to take all measures necessary to avoid incidents which would constrain foreign authorities to take measures "indispensable to the protection of their nationals."

The foreign representatives pointed out that the bombardment of the French settlement and a part of the native section of Shanghai last Tuesday by a Chinese gunboat which had deserted the defending forces of Marshal Sun Chuan-Fang showed the possibility of danger to the foreign section. The gunboat aimed to shell Marshal Sun's arsenal by firing over the city, but the shells fell short.

The French Minister here issued a declaration regarding the French quarter in Shanghai, declaring the French authorities there were determined to take measures which the situation may render indispensable.

The declaration of the diplomatic body informed the leaders of the warring Chinese factions that it felt it necessary to remind them that the international settlement of Shanghai, like other foreign concessions in China, had been established by virtue of regular agreements with the Chinese government, in order to make it possible for foreigners to reside there and carry on trade freely.

"In the course of party strife in that region," continues the declaration, "the authorities of the international settlement have scrupulously

Chaplin Divorce Case Brings to Light Organization for Hollywood Purity

Leading Male Actors Strive to Keep Cinema Industry Clean from Inside

[Copyright, 1927, by New York News.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—An organization made up of the leading stars of the motion-picture world to protect the name of Hollywood and its film colony has been brought to light by the Chaplin divorce tangle. This self-protecting organization was formed by the players in an effort to check wild life in the motion-picture firmament.

The treasury of the organization is guaranteed. The board of directors is permitted to spend large sums of money where it thinks it is necessary to protect the reputation of the stars and to advance the commercial value of the film in which the star under scrutiny is featured.

This is the first public announcement of this organization, although it has been in operation for several months.

Membership is confined to leading male actors.

KEEPING CLEAN

Most of the members are family men, stars of ability and respectability who believe the film industry can be kept clean from within. Once each week the directors of this organization meet at the home of a member.

Many rising young actors, and actors who have had their careers cut short by a sudden termination of engagements, do not know they have ended their days of success in Hollywood because of some indiscretion. They do not know the agents of this organization of stars are checking every member of the film colony.

Sweeping aside every effort to influence him, Charlie Chaplin today sent word to Hollywood that he will stand for no interference in his private affairs and will demand a court decision of his divorce suit with Lita Grey.

READY TO FIGHT

He made it clear that any amount of pressure to save the film industry will be in vain. Also he let it be known that he will remain in New York until the eve of his actual trial in court, and then will go to Los Angeles prepared to battle to the finish.

Diplomatic denials that Joseph M. Schenck and Samuel Goldwyn were here as ambassadors of the massed stars of the film industry to persuade Chaplin that he must make a private settlement were made today. But it was learned authoritatively that the stars not only had joined together to function in the Chaplin case, but had formed an organization to combat as far as possible all unfavorable publicity about Hollywood. The forming of the organization was not provoked, however, by the Chaplin case. It was in existence several weeks before Lita Grey served her papers.

It was not formed at the suggestion of Will Hays, official guide of

CHICAGO HAS DE LUXE COP

Wedded to Rich Widow He Arrives in Limousine With Chauffeur to "Pound Beat"

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Every morning at the Woodlawn Police Station a limousine drives up to the curb, a chauffeur hastens from his seat to open the door and Policeman Patrick Butler steps out jauntily. "Be back at 4," he tells the man and enters the station to greet his envious, gaping and frequently ironic brother policemen.

Butler's grand arrival has been going on ever since three weeks ago he married Mrs. Edward Leitelt, widow of one of the founders of the Leitelt Brass Foundry, makers of stop-and-go signals and street markers, whose fortune is estimated at more than a million. She and her new husband live in a great brick house whose grounds cover an entire block at 8026 Dante avenue where a corps of servants busy themselves with the day's work as the master steps out to walk his beat.

MONEY NO DIFFERENCE

"Sure, I'm staying on my job. The bucks don't make any difference," said Patrolman Butler as he delivered a group of children on their way to the Parkridge School safely across the Illinois Central tracks at Seventy-first street and Ridgeland avenue.

"No, I have not gone in for polo or golf. I play handball or punch the bag when I want a little exercise, same as I always did.

"No dress suits for Paddy, either. I like my work and I am going to stick to it. The only difference is now that my pay check is—my pin money, you might call it."

He smiled a broad and humorous smile.

PREFERS BEAT

"Yes, my wife wants me to go into the real-estate business, but I am sticking to my beat."

Asked whether his chaufeur wore a livery, Patrolman Butler again smiled broadly.

"Say—it's me that's got the livery," he replied, indicating his snappy blue uniform.

Mrs. Butler frequently leaves her home early of a morning to walk with her husband to the Seventy-first street crossing, where he stays until the children are safely in school. Tomorrow, on his day off, Patrolman Butler will go to Cedar Lake to look over their summer home.

IMPERIAL VALLEY FLOOD PERIL SHOWN IN REPORT

Snowfall in Upper Drainage Basin of Colorado River 48 Per Cent Heavier Than Normal

CALEXICO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Snowfall in the upper drainage basin of the Colorado River is 48 per cent heavier than normal and "dangerously high water is probable in the late spring and early summer." This report received here in a telegram today from J. M. Sherier, United States meteorologist at Denver, adds confirmation to previous forecasts indicating that Imperial Valley faces one of the most critical flood seasons in its history. Mr. Sherier's message was as follows:

"Snow at Steamboat Springs, Colo., 43 inches; Dillon, 27 inches; Crested Butte, 72 inches; Rico, 26 inches; Cumbre Pass, 89 inches. These depths average 48 per cent above normal, ranging from approximately 12 per cent at Dillon to 95 per cent at Crested Butte. Dangerously high water probable in late spring and early summer, if protracted periods of high temperatures occur. More definite forecast impossible at present time. Complete snowfall report made end of March."

A forecast of the disastrous results that may accompany a record flood next spring was furnished last week when a passing storm flood from the Arizona drainage basin inundated several hundred acres of cotton land in Lower California, swept away sections of the Pescadero levee and undermined other portions. Only the heroic efforts of ranches in the Volcano Lake district prevented many thousands of acres from being submerged.

It is generally assumed here that the fate of the Swing-Johnson bill will be determined finally tomorrow afternoon, when the Senate casts its vote on the cloture petition of Senator Johnson. 'It is predicted here today that in the event of unfavorable action on the Boulder measure and its definite elimination so far as this session of Congress is concerned, there will be initiated a concerted effort to obtain special flood legislation during the closing days of the session. Friends of Representative Swing, who have so far refused to join in such a move on the ground that it might interfere with the success of the bill, are expected to withdraw their opposition if the major project should be defeated in tomorrow's vote.

CONGRESS AGREES ON SHIP BILL

Senate Accepts House Amendment Appropriating $450,000 for Cruisers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Senate today accepted the House amendment to the naval appropriation bill providing $450,000 toward construction of three light cruisers.

The bill now goes to President Coolidge, who has opposed any appropriation for cruisers pending the outcome of efforts to bring about further limitation of naval armament.

Previously the Senate had approved an amendment providing $1,200,000 for beginning construction of the cruisers, the last eight authorized more than two years ago. Later, after House and Senate conferees failed to agree on the question, it reaffirmed this action.

Yesterday, however, the House reversing its previous refusal to vote any funds for cruisers, adopted the $450,000 amendment, accepted today by the Senate, without debate or a record vote.

Girl Finds Two Brothers After Ten-Year Quest

CEDAR RAPIDS (Iowa) Feb. 25. (Exclusive) — The happiest girl in Iowa tonight is Lucille Lynch, who for the past ten years has been searching for three brothers. She found Frank here tonight, learned that Leo is a bluejacket aboard the U.S.S. Arizona, due at the Brooklyn Navy yard next week, and when he arrives he will receive a letter from a sister he has never seen. If she knew the whereabouts of her brother William and her mother, her happiness would be complete.

Seventeen years ago, the Lynch family was broken up through the death of the father. Leo and William were sent to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Davenport and Lucille was adopted by the Kinney family at Creston. Ten years ago she began a search for her brothers but found no trace. A few days ago she wrote police here and the letter happened to fall into the hands of George Powers, sergeant of police. He knew a Frank Lynch and phoned him. Lynch got in communication with his sister, went to Creston yesterday and brought her here today.

WAR-TIME EMOTIONS STIRRED UP IN LONDON

[Copyright, 1927, Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Anxious emotions of war days stirred London with the announcement that 3000 British troops had taken up positions at the outer defense lines of the Shanghai settlement and the crisis is felt here to be near.

Little else is discussed in clubs and restaurants, while the newspapers are issuing extras with each bit of news. The unanimous declaration issued by the Peking diplomatic body is taken here as amounting almost to a threat to the military leaders of both sides of the warring Chinese, indicating that thorough measures will be taken to insure the safety of the foreigners.

Satisfaction is expressed in diplomatic circles over the calmness and lack of hostile demonstrations attending the huge parade at Hankow yesterday, indicating that the situation is easier there, despite reports of renewed anti-British outbursts.

A meeting of the committee on imperial defense today gave rise to a report that certain aid from the dominions may be granted in China if it is needed.

A parliamentary paper issued today shows that there is an imposing array of sixty-two British warships in Chinese waters, twelve of which are cruisers.

The proper flags were removed and the Nationalist flag run up instead. Two of the Standard Oil vessels later were released, but the third still serves as a troop ship.

BELGRADE, Feb. 25. (AP) — Jugo-Slavia is excited over third-degree methods used by the police. The uproar was such that the session was suspended.

RIVER CLOTURE BALLOT TODAY

Senate Set for Crucial Test on Colorado Bill

Verdict Will Decide Fate of Plan This Session

sudden appearance of a lobby obviously not directly concerned with the situation created suspicion rather than confidence.

It therefore is possible that some of the Boulder Dam advocates have over-reached themselves and by introducing professional political methods at an inopportune time again sidetracked the Colorado River program.

Senator Johnson declined to speculate as to the probable outcome of his drive for a vote. Some of those said to possess his confidence volunteered the information that less than a majority of the Senators thus far have pledged themselves to support cloture. A two-thirds majority of those present and voting is necessary to invoke the rule.

The situation was more or less complicated late this afternoon when Senator Harrison of Mississippi, after a vain attempt to reach a vote on the Muscle Shoals bill, introduced an amendment attaching his measure as a rider on the Swing-Johnson bill.

LITTLE EFFECT

Under Senator Harrison's amendment the conference report on Muscle Shoals of February 7, 1925, is to be incorporated on the Boulder dam bill, splitting the measure into two sections, one labeled the Boulder dam project and the second the Muscle Shoals project. It is an inauspicious time from the standpoint of the Senate to inject Muscle Shoals into any issue, and the action of the Senator from Mississippi is regarded by many as simply a gesture for home consumption. It is not believed in the Senate that this action has had any effect on the cloture vote due tomorrow.

Amendments to the Swing-Johnson bill were introduced by Senators Ashurst and Cameron. The one introduced by Senator Cameron is a substitute bill, and those introduced by Senator Ashurst radically would change the Swing-Johnson bill and eliminate the Boulder Canyon site.

None of the amendments is considered important. They all were laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

PROTEST VOICED

Late in the afternoon Senator Cameron gained the floor to protest passage of the cloture. He began his speech thus:

"Mr. President, when Christ was crucified He cried, 'Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do.' I am appealing to the Senate in that spirit—not in anger, but in sorrow."

He then went on to explain that he was fighting for the sovereign rights of his State, for the life of his State, and demanded that the Senate hear the case of Arizona at a time when there are Senators present and awake. He protested the danger of invasion by alien hordes nourished by the waters of the Colorado, which, he explained, would be let down into Mexico by the Boulder Canyon dam in such quantities as to make Mexican lands rich enough to support coolie labor, and cause a huge far eastern colonization on the boundaries of this country.

Should the Swing-Johnson supporters succeed in turning the tide that now seems to be setting so strongly against them and win their fight for cloture, it is conceded that approval by the Senate can be reached before the Senate adjourns Monday.

Advocates of the bill in the House assert it can be approved in that body within the six hours of debate recommended by the Rules Committee.

On motion of President Workman and on the recommendation of Councilman Criswell sent by telegraph from Washington, the City Council yesterday adopted a resolution protesting against the filibuster against the Boulder Dam bill in the United States Senate and reiterating the Council's indorsement of the bill. Copies of the resolution were telegraphed to President Coolidge and California Representatives at Washington.

Mayor Cryer yesterday afternoon sent telegrams to President Coolidge, Vice-President Dawes and the California Senators at Washington congratulating them on their work for Boulder Dam legislation on behalf of the people of Los Angeles. He urged the officials to "keep up the good work" so that the bill can be enacted into law by the present Congress.

SHORTRIDGE TELLS OF HIS AID FOR BILL

Explaining his part in the fight for the passage of the Boulder Canyon Dam bill, Senator Shortridge yesterday wired Charles O. Goodwin, real estate man with offices in the Washington Building, the following:

"Am co-operating and doing everything in my power to secure passage of Boulder Dam bill before adjournment. Have joined with my colleague in attempt to secure cloture on bill and motion for same. We are putting forth every possible effort in behalf of this all-important legislation before adjournment. I sincerely hope for success.

"SAMUEL SHORTRIDGE."

IMPERIAL VALLEY GROUP SENDS APPEAL

EN CENTRO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Resolutions appealing to President Coolidge, members of his Cabinet and Congressmen in Washington to throw their entire weight of influence into a final effort to obtain passage of the Swing-Johnson bill were authorized at a mass meeting of valley citizens in the public park here last night. More than 300 attended the meeting, which was called by Mayor Bucklin.

GOV. YOUNG GETS ENCOURAGING REPORT

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Gov. Young announced this morning that he had received a wire from Washington indicating definite hopes that the Swing-Johnson Boulder Canyon dam bill for Colorado River development "will get somewhere this session."

Former State Senator Carr, appointed by the Governor on the California committee now in Washington to press the legislation, telegraphed the Governor today that there is something better than a strong possibility that the bill will get to a vote under the cloture rule sought by Senator Johnson.

"All of the power of the State administration is back of the move to do everything possible to put it across," the Governor said. "It appeared to be a miracle if the bill could get over, due to the filibuster, but now it seems just possible that this miracle will come true at this session. If it goes through the Senate it will go through the House.

"I am satisfied that the only thing to have done was to invoke the cloture. I think that the way the bill has been handled for us is one of the cleverest moves that I have seen.

"I am formulating wires to Washington urging that everything possible be done to have the Senate pass the bill."

ARIZONANS FLAY LA FOLLETTE'S STAND

PHOENIX, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The labor-union section of the Legislature today joined with representatives of the railroad brotherhoods' lobby in wiring expression of fierce denunciation to Senator La Follette concerning his action in opposing the filibuster against the Swing-Johnson bill. His vote is called astounding and in defiance of laws of justice, seeking to rob Arizona of a natural heritage to aggrandize California, which has magnificent resources of her own.

The wire was joined in by H. S. McCluskey, member of the Arizona committee to the Los Angeles conferences, member of the State Industrial Commission and chairman of the law and legislation committee of the Arizona Federation of Labor. Telegrams were received from Senator Ashurst and Representative Hayden that they are hopeful of success in the vote to be taken tomorrow.

A flood of telegrams is going out tonight to members of the Senate demanding defeat of the river bill.

COOLIDGE RIVER AID ASKED

State Development Association and W. H. Crocker Plead for Cloture Pressure

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Appeals to intercede with the Senate to exercise cloture on Colorado River legislation were addressed to President Coolidge today by the California Development Association, and by William H. Crocker, Republican National Committeeman for California.

The Development Association urged action on the Colorado River legislation as an emergency measure and stressed the impending danger from floods. The message read:

"This State Chamber of Commerce whose membership comprises thousands of individuals, firms, corporations and trade associations throughout the State of California, respectfully, but urgently, requests that you intervene and urge upon Congress to exercise cloture with respect to the Colorado River legislation. This issue is of paramount importance to the West and it would appear that the major problems have been settled.

"After years of labor given freely by public-spirited citizens, after the mass of engineering reports and recommendations have been studied, mastered and co-ordinated and in recognition of the constantly recurring peril to property of thousands of our citizens, it appears a crime to delay the enactment of legislation which would bring about a solution of this involved problem.

"As determined by United States Weather Bureau reports, upper regions of the Colorado River drainage basin are now packed with a much greater amount of snow than for several years past. With normal climate and melting, conditions this summer a greater flow than any on record is possible. This national emergency should be considered now while Congress is in session.

[Signed]

"R. B. HALE, president, California Development Association."

Crocker's message pointed out that the Boulder Dam measure is of prime importance to California and particularly to the southern part of the State. He closed with an appeal to the President to assist in its passage.

The telegram follows:

"Dear Mr. President, may I ask your support and approval with the Senate to adopt cloture so that the Boulder Dam bill may be accorded right of vote. This measure is very vital to California and means a great deal to people of the southern part of the State. We therefore appeal to you to help in its passage."

NEW ARMY BILL PASSES IN SENATE

Housing Measure Calling for $6,515,000 Voted as President Signs Another

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—While President Coolidge today signed one army housing bill, authorizing an expenditure of $4,776,000, the Senate passed another to expend $6,515,000 for the same purpose. They would provide a building program for the next two years.

Among the larger items in the bill, which by the President's signature became law, were $1,086,000 for Fort Jay, Governor's Island, N. Y., $1,300,000 for March Field, Cal., and $521,000 for Brooks Field, Tex. The entire amount to be expended is to be derived from sale of surplus War Department property.

The Senate, in passing the second bill, struck from it a total of $1,876,000 which the House had included.

The items eliminated were $1,776,000 for the primary flying school at San Antonio, Tex., and $100,000 for Scott Field, Ill., where it had been proposed to build a hospital. The measure now goes to conference in order that an agreement may be reached.

Larger items remaining in the bill which now goes to conference were $500,000 for Camp Lewis, Wash.; $560,000 for air corps barracks at Panama; and $262,000 for Fort Bragg, N. C.

tional anchors checked its race toward the rocks.

Numerous small gasoline boats were swept from their moorings on the Seward water front. The waters of Resurrection Bay here were sent spraying over the town by the last of the northern gale.

The liner Admiral Watson of the Pacific Steamship Company remained stormbound in Seward tonight. The vessel was compelled to leave its moorings on the water front and anchor in the outer harbor when the gale was seen to be increasing in fury.

The only protected harbors immediately available to the halibut vessels, which fish many miles out at sea, are those at Seward and at Nuka Bay, eighty miles west of here. Veteran navigators, who declared the present storm is the worst in years, expressed grave doubts that many of the ships will be able to reach shelter before they succumb to ravages of the gale.

NEWSPAPER TYROS GET TASTE OF WORK

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 25.—Forty future newspaper reporters and embryonic editors spent two hours last night in intimate association with the gathering and editing of copy, composition, make-up, stereotyping and printing of a daily newspaper. The forty scribes constituted a new class in news and editorial writing, under the University of California extension division; and Leslie S. Storrs, city editor of the Santa Monica Evening Outlook, was in charge as instructor, following his appointment at Berkeley. Storrs conducted his class through all departments of the newspaper with which daily proprietorship at the city desk has made him familiar.

ARMS STAND OF AMERICA GRATIFYING

League Pleased at Plan to Join in Parley for Supervision of Plants

GENEVA, Feb. 25. (AP)—Gratification was expressed in League of Nations circles today at the formal announcement that the United States government has accepted the League's invitation to co-operation in preparatory arrangements for on international conference on the supervision of the private manufacture of arms and ammunition.

Washington informed the League that Hugh S. Gibson, recently appointed Ambassador to Belgium and long active as American representative in disarmament discussion at Geneva, will sit with the special commission which will open its sessions on March 14 to lay the ground work for an international conference which probably will be held some time this year.

By accepting the invitation, it is felt here, the United States has taken another big step in its drive to reduce cessive armaments. Acceptance by the United States caused gratification in League circles, first because it is felt to mark an increase of American collaboration in League activities and, secondly, vecause it will assure earnest American help in solving all aspects of the problem of armaments.

The chief function of the projected international conference will be to seek international supervision of the private maufacturer of arms by turning the glare of publicity on all output, thus permitting the world to place is finger on just where and how many implements of war are being turned out.

Previous to that, in the East, he was shown as a five-gaited horse, with but moderate success His name then was Peavine's Dream. Fourteen splendid three-gaited horses contested for the stake tonight.

CLAIMANTS TOLD TO DISCUSS DAMAGES

ANAHEIM, Feb. 25.—Property owners and residents of the section north of town recently inundated by oil and water are being urged by George W. Reid, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, to communicate with him relative to filing claims against the Union Oil Company. The breaking of an 80,000-barrel Union Oil Company storage tank in the Richfield district is blamed by the property owners for the oil deluge which covered a large section of this city during the recent storm. Secretary Reid declared that the Chamber of Commerce is planning to file a claim for damages suffered by the Orange Show Grounds.

THIRD CLOTURE PETITION FILED

Lenroot Seeks Debate Limit on Building Question

Senate Legislative Tangle Proves Complicated

Resolution by Reed Helps to Clog Machinery

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Filing of a third cloture petition today further complicated the tangle of legislation in the Senate.

The latest cloture petition was presented by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, who seeks to limit debate on the question of concurrence by the Senate in a House amendment to a public buildings bill. The original Senate bill provided $25,000,000 for the purchase of land in the District of Columbia, while the House amendment added $100,000,000 to the $165,000,000 already available over a period of years for the construction of public buildings throughout the country.

The public buildings bill was brought before the Senate today, but Senator Lenroot soon found that it would be caught in the various filibusters in progress.

VOTE TOMORROW

As the parliamentary situation now stands, the question of cloture on the Boulder Canyon Dam bill will be put to a vote at 1 o'clock tomorrow. After that measure is entirely disposed of the question of cloture on the Tyson bill for the retirement of emergency disabled officers will come to a vote. The Lenroot cloture proposal for the public buildings bill will have to wait its turn until the other two are out of the way.

The resolution of Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, for a continuation of the authority of his special slush-fund committee, continued to help clog the legislative machinery today. The Senate was kept in session until 7 o'clock tonight by a wrangle over the disposition of this resolution. Senator Reed first asked unanimous consent to take it up at a night session tonight. This was objected to and he later asked unanimous consent for consideration at a night session Tuesday. When that met with objection he moved to make it a special order for consideration during the day on Tuesday. This finally was agreed to.

MUSCLE SHOALS BILL

The Muscle Shoals controversy has become involved with the Boulder Dam legislation. Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, introduced today the old Underwood Muscle Shoals bill, which was passed by both houses two years ago, but failed of enactment because of a filibuster against the conference report, as an amendment to the Boulder Dam bill.

The Senate discussed the Muscle Shoals question for two hours today, finally by a vote of 49 to 35 adopting a motion by Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, to refer the Deneen Muscle Shoals bill to the Committee on Agriculture. This bill embodies the recommendation of the joint Congressional committee, of which Senator Deneen, Republican, Illinois, was chairman, for the acceptance of the offer of the Associated Power Company. Senator Deneen opposed the sending of the bill to committee. The effect of the action was to sidetrack this measure and pave the way for a final effort by the Committee on Agriculture to put through some sort of an emergency proposal.

Aged Uncle of Coolidge Loses Job as Fiddler

PLYMOUTH (Vt.) Feb. 25. (AP)—"Uncle" John Wilder, 81-year-old uncle of President Coolidge, has lost his place as the featured violin player in the Coolidge home-town orchestra, an organization in which the majority of the musicians claim kinship to the President.

"I have been expelled," "Uncle" John" said today. "The orchestra desires my presence no longer."

Herbert Moore, cousin of the President and orchestra announcer, said the old-time fiddler's absence was the result of his own decision not to accompany the orchestra on long night trips to fill winter engagements.

GUSHER IN MEXICO UP TO CALLES

Sinclair Well Shut in Pending Decision on Use of Pipe Line

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Attention in oil circles is focused on the announcement that the Mexican Sinclair Petroleum Company has brought in a 6000-barrel well in the San Isidro district, municipality of Papantla, State of Vera Cruz. This is believed to be the first potential well brought in in what is known as the south or light field, located south of the Tuxpam River, bordering the famous Golden Lane, since January 1, when the Sinclair and other oil companies refused to accept the Mexican petroleum law.

The well is now closed in, and the question is raised as to whether the Mexican government will issue the necessary pipe-line permit to allow transportation of the oil over the Penn-Mex Company pipe line to Tuxpam, which is the nearest port for delivery to the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, with which Sinclair has contracted to deliver all oil from this district.

The special point raised is the fact that the Sinclair interests and the Penn-Mex hold a joint interest in the well in question, with Sinclair not having accepted the oil law and the Penn-Mex having done so. Sinclair's leased titles in the field antedate the Constitution of 1917.

So far Sinclair has spent more than a million dollars in the San Isidro district, four previous drillings resulting in dry holes. Fifty thousand acres in the district are controlled by Penn-Mex, and the remaining 12,000 by Sinclair.

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 25. — Henry J. Law, whose name, police assert, is more legal than the Soldiers' Home address he uses, was arrested here by Police Sergeant Buck and Officer Myatt for the unusual offense of stealing his own car. He further disclosed that he now travels under the name of Charles Brewster Ross of 3338 Forest street, Kansas City, and while not too busy disclosing his identity to anyone who will listen he paints houses for a living. Acting Captain Ayres was interested. He made this testimony a matter of record. But when Ross strung out too tenuously his story of the kidnaping and subsequent happenings his credulity was somewhat strained.

BRITISH NICARAGUA MOVE APPROVED BY COOLIDGE

Removal of Nationals by Warship Within Monroe Doctrine; Diaz Asks New Treaties

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Action of the British government in sending a warship to Nicaragua for the purpose of removing any British nationals desiring to leave the revolution-torn republic is not regarded by President Coolidge as a violation of America's Monroe Doctrine.

This was made plain at the White House today, where it was learned that the President believes the British move wholly justified under existing conditions as no means are available at this time for accommodating British subjects who may wish to leave Nicaraguan ports.

It is the understanding of the White House and of the State Department that the British do not propose to land a military force in Nicaragua but will continue to depend upon this government and its naval forces for protection of British nationals.

NO LOSS OF LIFE

British and Italian residents have suffered property losses during the Nicaraguan revolution but thus far to the understanding of President Coolidge that no loss of life among foreign residents has occurred. This applies also to Americans in Nicaragua, many of whom have damage claims to file against one or the other of the native belligerents. Considerable damage occurred in some of Nicaragua's principal cities due to rioting and one small town was destroyed by fire. The loss to foreigners is not known.

The fact was reiterated at the White House today that this government has followed its present course in the Nicaraguan crisis solely through a determination to prevent unnecessary bloodshed and property damage. It is conservatively estimated that hundreds of lives and millions of dollars' worth of property have been saved by the prompt application of this policy which has extended to the persons and property of Europeans residing in the Central American republic.

WILL UPHOLD DOCTRINE

The White House indorsement of the sending of a British cruiser on the ground ascribed by the British Foreign Office included an explanation that the United States is prepared to insist upon strict observance of the provisions of the Monroe Doctrine frowning upon the landing of any armed European force in any Latin-American country for the acquisition of territory or the enforcement of police authority.

In this connection it was recalled that some years ago President Roosevelt vigorously objected when Germany sought to seize property in Venezuela to assure the settlement of certain German claims.

The tenor of the White House observations indicated to those who conferred with Mr. Coolidge today that the administration is taking every precaution necessary under the circumstances and that nothing has been attempted or approved that is incompatible with international law and the policies and precedents of this government.

BLAMES
FOR MORE MARINES

PUERTO CABEZAS (Nicaragua) Feb. 25. (AP)—Dr. Juan Sacasa, head of the Liberal government here, believes that the action of the United States in sending more marines to Nicaragua was prompted by the successes of the Liberal forces in their campaign against the army of the Conservative government at Managua, headed by Gen. Diaz.

IN NEW OF CONCESSIONS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—A plea of President Diaz of Nicaragua to the American people for favorable consideration of proposals he has made to the Washington government to establish new treaty relations between the two countries for the purpose of stabilizing economic and political conditions in Nicaragua was made public today by the Nicaraguan legation here.

The communication outlines the proposals which include guarantees by the United States, of the integrity and independence of Nicaragua which would in turn guarantee American rights to the Nicaraguan canal route.

"In return for these guarantees which would sound the death knell of coups d'etat and revolutions in Nicaragua," the Diaz message said, "my government would concede to the United States the right to intervene in Nicaragua whenever it might be necessary in order to make effective the guarantees mentioned above."

An essential part of the program, President Diaz said, would be American co-operation through a military mission to establish an adequate Nicaraguan constabulary upon which the armies would be disbanded.

The project also contemplates the borrowing by Nicaragua ultimately of sums aggregating $20,000,000 for the purpose of meeting present obligations and to construct a railroad and highways from the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts.

An American financial adviser and a collector-general of revenues would be provided for, as well as American financial and engineering assistants and sanitation programs and development of other public works.

The communication said that "as matters now stand" Nicaragua and her Central American neighbors frequently have "the intervention of foreign armed forces in our territory, directed exclusively for the protection of American and foreign lives and property."

"We have, therefore, reached the conclusion," it said, "that we want to derive for ourselves some benefit and permanent advantage from American intervention, which we have thus far found inevitable, and at the same time transfer it from its present somewhat vague de facto basis to a well-defined de jure status with clearly stated responsibilities and apparent benefits for the intervenor and the intervened."

WHOLESALE DEATH PLOT SUSPECTED

Girl Killed by Poison and Boy Seriously Ill in Odd Bay City Tragedy

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—A 16-year-old girl lies dead in South San Francisco and an 8-year-old Oakland boy is recovering from a severe illness in what bay authorities believe to be either a wholesale poison plot or a very strange coincidence.

Meantime, a warrant has been issued in Oakland for the arrest of Frank Parisi, posing as an "undercover agent" for the immigration authorities, on a charge of mixing poison with foodstuffs with intent to injure human beings.

The dead girl was Elvira Fiorentino, who died after being the only member of the family to partake of vegetables from the family garden at the evening meal. Half a score of chickens and two pigeons were found dead in the yard. It is believed the vegetable garden, to which the fowls had access, was sprayed with poison.

The warrant for the arrest of Parisi was sworn to by Joseph Fiorentino, lamp shade worker of Oakland, who is no relation to the Fiorentino family of South San Francisco despite the similarity of names.

According to Fiorentino's story, he suspects Parisi of attempting to "wipe out the whole Fiorentino family with poison."

Fiorentino said that two of his children—Victor, 8, and Enrico, 2—came home from play with a box of candy given them by a strange man after taking them for a ride in his automobile. Victor became severely ill.

"I killed two women in Chicago with poison," Parisi is asserted to have told Fiorentino and "I could get rid of your family in the same way."

Babe Ruth Goes Free but Faces Another Charge

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—George Herman (Babe) Ruth, home-run king, today was acquitted by Justice Chambers of the charge of having violated the State child labor law. The complaint against Ruth was obtained by Deputy State Labor Commissioner Gue and resulted from Ruth's appearance in vaudeville here, when he called youngsters to the stage and presented them with baseballs.

In his decision today Justice Chambers declared there was no evidence showing collusion between Ruth and any of the children who went on the stage, but that on the contrary there was every reason to believe that any child in the audience could respond to Ruth's general invitation. Immediately following the ruling by Justice Chambers a new complaint against Ruth was obtained by Gue.

The new complaint charges Ruth with violation of Sec. 273 of the Penal Code, relating to the employment of children. Ruth did not appear in person in court today, his defense being handled by two attorneys.

Hotel Manager Ends Life When Two Suffocate

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Mrs. Nettie Reneau, 43 years of age, and her 18-months-old baby were found dead in their suite in a fashionable apartment-hotel on the North Side today. Death apparently was caused by fumes from a fumigating material.

Shortly afterward the body of John Rich, manager of the hotel, was found on a coal pile in the boiler room, evidently a suicide in remorse. Rich retired to his rooms after he was told of the two deaths and was not seen again until hotel employees found his pajama-clad body in the basement with a pistol at his side.

Liquid cyanide of potassium had been used to fumigate an empty apartment yesterday, but so thick were the fumes when police were called that they had difficulty in reaching the body of Mrs. Reneau, where it lay beside the bay's crib.

BOMB SHAKES HOME OF JUDGE IN THREAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Threats that the home of John Palmieri, former City Court judge, would be blown up unless he paid $50,000 to the writers of anonymous letters were followed early today by the explosion of a bomb in front of his home in Brooklyn. The family escaped injury. The property is one of the show places along Ocean Parkway. The bomb had been hidden in shrubbery in front of the house.

MOROCCO TRIBESMEN ENGAGE IN OUTBREAK

RABAT (Morocco) Feb. 25. (AP)—An outbreak among dissident tribes is reported from the Spanish zone. It is said the Ktama tribe forced the Spanish auxiliaries occupying Bab Silb to evacuate the locality after eight days' fighting. The Ktamas are stated to be advancing on Targout.

ENGLISH RUSE BALKS SOVIET

Moscow Beat in Delivery of Threatening Note

Bolsheviks Sought to Make First Accusations

Messenger Put Off Until Ultimatum Dispatched

[Copyright, 1927, by Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—A dramatic story illustrating the backstage events in the diplomacy connected with the precipitate dispatch of the British note to the soviets Wednesday was revealed today.

The text of the note was much milder than the original stern form before alteration by the Cabinet. It had been ready for more than five weeks awaiting an opportune moment to be sent.

Through the indiscretions of the London press and through other means more effective, though less obvious, the Bolsheviks obtained the information, and Moscow rushed to London the text of the note with the intention of cutting crossways ahead of the British document and taking the wind out of Great Britain's sails by leveling the same accusations against the British government which were now leveled at the commissars by Sir Austen Chamberlain, the British Foreign Secretary.

PLANS REVEALED

M. Rosengolz, the soviet acting charge d'affaires, in fact, let the cat out of the bag by telling diplomatic friends he intended to call at the Foreign Office Wednesday afternoon to present the soviet bombshell.

This news, coming to the ears of the British, stirred them to immediate action. When M. Rosengolz asked for an interview at the Foreign Office Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock he was put off until Thursday, while the British note was rushed to him after a final consideration in Wednesday's Cabinet meeting at which it is now known, Chancellor Churchill was obliged by Sir Austen to consent to the insertion of a sentence of direct menace to rupture the diplomatic relations, which the original draft limited only to an indication of danger of the lapse of the present trade agreement.

The arrival of the note at the soviet Embassy Wednesday came as a terrible jolt to M. Rosengolz, who told his friends that the Moscow chiefs would have his scalp because he did not get his note in first. The sudden decision to rush the note was indicated in Wednesday's papers. All announced that the note "would not be sent until a favorable opportunity arose."

BREAK EXPECTED

Because of the personalities in which the note was framed, referring to Foreign Minister Tchitcherin's "haunted, nervous mind," and bluntly charging him with prevarications, it is believed in some circles here that the Bolsheviks will not reply.

The early rupture of diplomatic relations is expected in some government quarters. It is expected that the Laborites will ask an early chance to debate the note, to which the government will accede.

There will be a further debate on the Russian propaganda question two weeks hence when, Commander G. D. Fanshawe announced, he will offer a resolution against "the interference of other states with British affairs."

Milk Scandal in Rome Brings Heavy Penalty

ROME, Feb. 25. (AP)—Premier Mussolini's nation-wide campaign for the encouragement of large families in Italy and a corresponding effort to reduce the infantile death rate has led to the discovery of a bad milk scandal in Rome.

Special public agents have found 168 cases of skimming milk and adulterating it, in some cases with dirty water, during January and almost as many thus far this month.

The government has announced that such cases will be dealt with severely, additional heavy fines will be imposed, flagrant cases will result in jail sentences and black lists of offenders will be published.

Tablet Placed in Memory of Oatman Family

PHOENIX, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Gov. Hunt dared mud and high water yesterday for a circuitous trip via Casa Grande to Oatman Flat, fifteen miles east of Agua Caliente, to dedicate a tablet to the memory of the ill-fated Oatman family. There were few at the ceremonial, road conditions preventing attendance of a delegation of Phoenix members of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which first took up the idea of marking the Oatman graves, one of the historic spots of the Southwest.

The tablet tells the story of the massacre of the family by Indians in 1851, with added recital that the tablet has been erected by the State Highway Department. It also bears the names of the Governor and State Engineer. The D.A.R. organization expects at a later date to set a monument at the grave or on the main roadway, at the nearest available point.

NATIONAL GUARD MUST PAY GAS TAX

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (AP)—All gasoline sold to National Guard units, as well as all fuel sold by post exchanges to individuals for the operation of motor vehicles on the highways, is subject to the 2-cent gasoline tax, U. S. Webb, Attorney-General, informed the State Board of Equalization in an opinion handed down here today. The gas tax law frees governmental agencies and departments from the tax, but Webb holds the Guard is not a department of the government and that the post exchanges are operated for the benefit of the army and navy personell and likewise cannot be considered as departments of the government.

MARSHAL FENG IDENTIFIED

Chinese "Christian General" Said to ob Hungarian Who Once Was American Army Major

BRIDGEPORT (Ct.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Feng Yu Hsiang, China's "Christian general," was Maj. John Fengya of the United States Army during the Philippine insurrection and is of Hungarian rather than of Chinese descent, according to information received by Rev. Stephen F. Chernitzky of this city.

FENG YU-HSIANG

Dr. Fengya of Kassa, Czecho-Slovakia, recognized a photograph of the "Christian general" published in a Kassa newspaper as that of his missing brother, said Mr. Chernitsky, who gave details of Feng's earlier life as described by his brother. Fengya or Feng, was born in Kassa, then in Hungary, and after graduation from the grammar and high schools of his native city attended the Hungarian Naval Academy. Upon completion of his course there he came to the United States and joined the American army at the outbreak of Aguinaldo's insurrection.

Resigning at the close of the fighting, he went to China and married a Chinese girl.

Marshal Feng, founder of the Kuomintang, or National armies, has figured prominently in the warfare in China for five years.

Recently the "Christian general" has been described as an "independent militarist" awaiting an opportunity to join the Chinese conflict in Honan Province either on the side of the Peking forces or the Nationalists.

DECLARES GENERAL TO BE HIS BROTHER

BUDAPEST (Hungary) Feb. 25. (AP) Feng Yu-Hsiang, the "Chinese Christian general," is in reality a Hungarian adventurer who served for a period in the American army before going to China, says Judge Fengya of Kassa, Czecho-Slovakia, who declares the general is his brother.

Judge Fengya asserted that Feng held a commission as an American army captain, but finding American life too tame, he wandered to China, marrying the daughter of a native prince.

Town Flooded by Ice Jam and Break in Dike

WATERLOO (Neb.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Water rushed knee-deep through the streets of Waterloo today and the town of 400 faced its most serious flood threat in years as the result of a mile-long ice jam in the Elkhorn River and the breaking of a dike.

The water spread through the town and into virtually every house after a long dike near the town broke, letting the water pour in from the west as well as from the north, where an ice gorge had formed between the Lincoln Highway and the Union Pacific Railroad bridges.

Many families were driven from their homes and at least two men were marooned by the icy flood. Residents worked throughout the night to move belongings out of the danger zone.

It was believed impossible to repair the dike, because of difficulty in approaching the break, and the lack of materials.

Arizona Learns Boycott Rumor Merely Canard

PHOENIX, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Keen interest has been aroused in Arizona by a statement in a Los Angeles evening paper to the effect that decision against the use of Douglas (Ariz.) plaster in construction of the new Los Angeles City Hall had been made because "certain Arizona politicians are credited with doing everything in their power to block the two greatest municipal projects Los Angeles ever undertook—the Boulder Dam development and the Colorado River aqueduct."

The Arizona Industrial Congress at once took up the matter with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. Reply has been received that no action such as indicated ever has been taken. The use of Arizona plaster never has been even mentioned. It is assumed that Douglas hardly could compete in laid-down cost with plaster from points much nearer.

In any event, no discrimination has been manifested against any products from any point, the only questions to be considered being those of quality and price.

SUICIDES IN EAST LAID TO CLIMATE

Coast Professor Believes Rigors of Winter Cause Students to Kill Selves

BERKELEY, Feb. 25. (AP)—Dr. W. W. Campbell, president of the University of California, believes that the suicide epidemic among eastern college students may be due to depression brought on by hardships endured during the winter.

"Many students undergo severe hardships in winter, and a state of depression, caused, perhaps, by lack of sleep, lack of food, or lack of heat or clothing, is the natural result, said Dr. Campbell. "The fact that no student tragedies of this nature have happened in California, where we have no such contributing causes, would support this theory."

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 25. (AP)—Student suicides like those of other members of society are due to the social pressure of modern times and not to the strain of college life, in the opinion of Dr. Myron C. Barlow, professor of psychology at the University of Utah. He said they are the result of a lack of emotional balance, a condition that may be found in any branch of society.

Dr. Barlow's opinion was voiced after he had asked members of his class what in life would cause them to commit suicide should they contemplate the act.

MORAVIA (Iowa) Feb. 25. (AP)—Deena Reich, 16 years of age, high-school student, died last night after drinking poison.

ITALY HALTS FERRERO IN TOUR PLANS

Historian Virtually Held Prisoner by Mussolini as He Starts for America

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—"Virtually a prisoner in Italy," Guglielmo Ferrero, noted historian, has canceled a lecture tour of the United States.

Charles I Reid, lecture manager, today made public a letter from the historian saying that Mussolini had asked him "as a personal favor not to insist for the moment on going to America."

"The government," the letter said, "seems to fear my passing the frontier. For the moment, therefore, I am virtually a prisoner in Italy."

Ferrero's silence on Fascism in his current writings is regarded by Reid as indicating that relations between the historian and the Fascist government have not been the most cordial.

"You can judge hence what rich fruits have been reaped for our liberty by the great war," Ferrero's letter concludes. "I will watch the situation closely and will seize the occasion of any change, always possible, to obtain the desired passport, but it is not possible to make any guess as to the epoch in which such change is likely to take place."

Last December passports were refused Ferrero and his wife to visit Geneva.

He had been scheduled to address forty universities and clubs in this country.

COMPULSORY VOTING IN IRISH FREE STATE

DUBLIN, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Legislation to compel every voter in the Irish Free State to record his vote, under penalties for failure, will be introduced shortly. The government party says this is necessary, as at previous elections only 45 per cent of the total electors voted. This is tantamount with the instruction of the government to proceed at once. Further, the party requires that the new legislation be operative for the coming general election for deputies in the Dail Eireann in June.

BUCKNER WILL RESIGN OFFICE

Daugherty Prosecutor Says Salary Inadequate

Makes Dramatic Denial of Playing Politics

To Quit Within Two Months; Trial End Delayed

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—A government official who is resigning because he cannot live on the salary Uncle Sam pays him today sought jail sentences for two former government officials whom he charged accepted between $100,000 and $200,000 graft.

Emory R. Buckner, United States Attorney of this district for two years, made the announcement of his intention to resign within two months while answering allegations of negligence and "politics" as he summed up for the government in the Daugherty-Miller trial today. He said he couldn't live on the salary he drew and that was his only reason for leaving office. He was appointed by President Coolidge on recommendation of Justice Harlan Stone, then Attorney-General.

Buckner announced his resignation in dramatic fashion, once being husky-voiced with emotion as he strode up and down in front of the jury box. He turned at times to Harold F. Corbin of counsel for Harry M. Daugherty, and Aaron Sapiro, counsel for Thomas W. Miller, and shook a finger at them. Corbin, summing up yesterday for former Atty.-Gen. Daugherty, had said that he would vote for Buckner for the next Governor of New York, but that he did not wish to see Buckner climb into a higher office over Harry M. Daugherty's grave. Sapiro, summing up for Miller, had charged there was a difference between Washington and New York political attitudes on the Daugherty-Miller trial and that Buckner had been negligent of his official duties in permitting one of the assistant district attorneys, not then admitted to the bar, to try cases for the government.

Having defended himself against the negligence charge by saying it was not the State's business what the Federal courts do, Buckner said:

DENIES IMPUTATION

"Mr. Sapiro, in his summing up, said you might surmise a difference of opinion between Washington politics and New York State politics and that might be the basis for this flimsy prosecution of conspiracy. What is the big idea? No man in the United States, in office or out of office, has ever talked to me about prosecuting this case or not prosecuting this case, and if anybody will produce the name of the man who says that I have ever been approached either to go on with the case or stop the case, I will ask the judge to reopen this case and put him in the witness chair."

Sapiro interrupted, saying: "If Your Honor please, I do not believe that anybody in the world made such a suggestion, by implication or otherwise."

"I am not a politician," Buckner continued, "I never held an elective office in my life. Although always a Republican and belonging to the organization, I never even held an office in the organization. I came here by invitation of the Attorney-General of the United States, extended through a third party.

"With my girls to educate and support, I cannot live on my savings longer. I must go back to my private practice. Those two years are up Wednesday. Within a month or two months, when I can arrange the details that have gotten behind due to this case, according to my arrangement made two years ago with Atty.-Gen. Sargent, before this case was even heard of, I go back to my private practice.

"Four years and a half at the beginning of my career I was a prosecutor, here, in the District-Attorney's office, and investigating the police department, and never in those four and a half years has anybody, until yesterday, accused me of being inhuman or accused me of trying for myself or my own preferment, to injure a fellow-being. I would rather be accused of murder than have that interpretation put upon my conception of my oath of office."

ENDING DELAYED

Buckner's summation, which dwelt largely with the validity of the claims of the Societe Suisse Pour Valeurs de Metaux for $7,000,000 proceeds of the sale of impounded German-owned shares of the American Metal Company, was not concluded when court adjourned. Judge Knox dismissed the jury until Monday with instructions that he would charge them Tuesday, allowing Buckner another day to conclude.

Daugherty and Miller are charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of their honest judgment in connection with the allowance of the Societe Suisse claims. It is charged that Miller received $50,000 and Daugherty about $140,000 of $391,000 in Liberty bonds paid to John T. King, former National Republican Committeeman from Connecticut, for aid given Richard Merton, German metal magnate, in having the claims allowed. Jess W. Smith, Daugherty's handy man, the government alleges, represented the former Attorney-General in an agreement to pass the claims.

OKLAHOMA CITY, (Okla.) Feb 25. (AP)—The antirevalution bill which would have prohibited teaching in State-supported schools of any story of creation of man other than that set out in the Bible was killed by the State House of Representatives today after the educational committee reported that the bill "do pass."

The bill was killed by a vote of 46 to 30.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. Full Text of Forceful Message of President in Returning McNary-Haugen Bill to Congres

DETAILED REASONS GIVEN FOR VETOING MEASURE

Actual Working Out of Proposal Traced to Demonstrate Practical Defects

"To the Senate:

"The conditions which Senate bill 4808 is designed to remedy have been, and still are, unsatisfactory in many cases.

"No one can deny that the prices of many farm products have been out of line with the general price level for several years. No one could fail to want every proper step taken to assure to agriculture a just and secure place in our economic scheme. Reasonable and constructive legislation to that end would be thoroughly justified and would have the hearty support of all who have the interests of the nation at heart. The difficulty with this particular measure is that it is not framed to aid farmers as a whole and it is, furthermore, calculated to injure rather than protect the general public welfare.

BLOW AT SCIENCE

"It is axiomatic that progress is made through building on the good foundations that already exist. For many years—indeed, from before the day of modern agricultural science—balanced and diversified farming has been regarded by thoughtful farmers and scientists as the safeguard of our agriculture.

"The bill under consideration throws this aside as of no consequence. It says in effect that all the agricultural scientists and all the thinking farmers of the last fifty years are wrong; that what we ought to do is not to encourage diversified agriculture but instead put a premium on one-crop farming.

"The measure discriminates definitely against products which make up what has been universally considered a program of safe farming. The bill upholds as ideals of American farming the men who grow cotton, corn, rice, swine, tobacco or wheat, and nothing else. These are to be given special favors at the expense of the farmer who has toiled for years to build up a constructive farming enterprise to include a variety of crops and live stock that shall, so far as possible, be safe, and keep the soil, the farmer's chief asset, fertile and productive.

SECTIONAL EVILS

"The bill singles out a few products, chiefly sectional, and proposes to raise the prices of those regardless of the fact that thousands of other farmers would be directly penalized. If this is a true farm relief measure, why does it leave out the producers of beef cattle, sheep, dairy products, poultry products, potatoes, hay, fruit, vegetables, oats, barley, rye, flax and the other important agricultural lines? So far as the farmers as a whole are concerned, this measure is not for them. It is for certain groups of farmers in certain sections of the country. Can it be thought that such legislation could have the sanction of the rank and file of the nation's farmers?

"This measure provides especially for the payment by the Federal Board of all losses, costs and charges of packers, millers, cotton spinners, or other processors who are operating under contract with the board. It contemplates that the packers may be commissioned by the government to buy hogs enough to create a near scarcity in this country, slaughter the hogs, sell the pork products abroad at a loss, and have their losses, costs and made good out of the poskets of farm taxpayers. The millers would be similarly commissioned to operate in wheat or corn and have their losses, costs and charges paid by farm taxpayers.

INCREDIBLE PLAN

"It is roughly estimated that in this country there are 4000 millers, over 1000 meat packing plants and about 1000 actual spinners. No one can say definitely after reading this bill whether each of these concerns would be entitled to receive a cantract) with the government. Certainly no independent concern would continue in business without one. Each of the agencies holding a contract — the efficient and inefficient alike — would be reimbursed for all their losses, costs and charges.

"It seems almost incredible that the producers of hops, corn, wheat, rice, tobacco and cotton should be offered a scheme of legislative relief in which the only persons who are guaranteed a profit are the exporters, packers, millers, cotton spinners, and other processors.

"Clearly this legislation involves governmental fixing of prices. It gives the proposed Federal board almost unlimited authority to fix prices on the designated commodities. This is price-fixing, furthermore, on some of the nation's basic foods and materials. Nothing is more certain than that such price fixing would upset the normal exchange relationships existing in the open market and that it would finally have to be extended to cover a multitude of other goods and services. Government price fixing, once started, has alike no justice and no end. It is an economic folly from which this country has every right to be spared.

POWER DELEGATED

"This legislation proposes, in effect, that Congres shall delegate to a Federal farm board, nominated by farmers, the power to fix and collect a tax, called an equalization fee, on certain products produced by those farmers. That certainly contemplates a remarkable delegation of the taxing power. The purpose of that tax, it may be repeated, is to pay the losses incurred in the disposition of the surplus products in order to raise the price on that portion of the products consumed by our own people.

"This so-called equalization fee is not a tax for purposes of revenue in the accepted sense. It is a tax for the special benefit of particular groups. As a direct tax on certain of the vital necessaries of life, it represents the most vicious form of taxation. Its real effect is an employment of the coercive powers of government to the end that certain special groups of farmers and processors may profit temporarily at the expense of other farmers and of the community at large.

AGAINST REASON

"The chief objection to the bill is that it would not benefit the farmer. Whatever may be the temporary influence of arbitrary interference, no one can deny that in the long run prices will be governed by the law of supply and demand. To expect to increase prices and then to maintain them on a higher level, by means of a plan which must of necessity increase production while decreasing consumption, is to fly in the face of an economic law as well established as any law of nature. Experience shows that high prices in any given year mean greater acreage the next year, because adverse weather conditions may produce a smaller crop on a larger acreage; but in the long run a constantly increasing acreage must of necessity mean a larger average crop.

"Under the stimulus of higher prices, the cotton acreage increased by 17,000,000 acres in the last five years. Under the proposed plan as prices are driven up irresistibly by the artificial demand created by the purchases of the board, the millions of farmers, each acting independently, with no assurance that self-restraint on his part in the common interest will be accompanied by a like restraint on the part of millions of other individuals scattered over this immense country, will do just what any one else would do under the circumstances, plant and grow all they can in order to take full advantage of a situation which they fear is only temporary. This was, of course, recognized by the authors of the measure; and they proposed originally to offset this tendency by means of the equalization fee to be paid by each producer, but in the present bill the equalization fee is to be paid by only part of the producers.

REVOLT FORESEEN

"On the other hand, higher prices will make a decreased consumption. From 1917 to 1925, the per capita consumption of pork increased from fifty-five pounds to 86.3 pounds, but in the following year, when the price of pork rose by $3.60 a hundred and the price of beef rose only 40 cents a hundred, the per capita consumption of pork fell off almost nine pounds. It is not inconceivable that the consumers would rebel at an arbitrarily high price and deliberately reduce their consumption of that particular product, especially as uncontrolled substitutes would always be available. The truth is that there is no such thing as effective partial control. To have effective control, we would have to have control of not only one food product but of all substitutes.

"Increased production on one other hand, coupled with decreased domestic consumption on the other, would mean an increased exportable surplus to be dumped on the world market. This in turn would mean a constantly decreasing world price until the point was reached where the world price was sufficiently low so that, even though increased by our tariff duties, commodities would flow into this country in large quantities.

UNLIMITED CONTROL

"A board of twelve men is granted almost unlimited control of the agricultural industry and can not only fix the price which the producers of five commodities shall receive for their goods, but can also fix the price which the consumers of the country shall pay for these commodities. The board is expected to obtain higher prices for the American farmer by removing the surplus from the home market and dumping it abroad at a below-cost price. To do this, the board is given the authority by implication to fix the domestic price level, either by means of contracts which it may make with processors or co-operatives, or by providing for the purchase of the commodities in such quantities as will bring the prices up to the point which the board may fix.

"Except as it may be restrained by fear of foreign importations, the farm board, composed of representatives of producers, is given the power to fix the prices of the necessities of life at any point it sees fit.

NO RESTRICTIONS

"The law fixes no standards, imposes no restrictions, and requires no regulation of any kind. There could be no appeal from the arbitrary decision of these men, who would be under constant pressure from their constituents to push prices as high as possible.

"To expect moderation under these circumstances is to disregard experience and credit human nature with qualities it does not possess. It is not so long ago since the government was spending vast sums and through the Department of Justice exerting every effort to break up combinations that were raising the cost of living to a point conceived to be excessive. This bill, if it accomplishes its purpose, will raise the price of the specified agricultural commodities to the highest possible point and in doing so the board will operate without any restraints imposed by the antitrust laws. The granting of any such arbitrary power to a government board is to run counter to our traditions, the philosophy of our government, the spirit of our institutions and principles of equity.

DIFFICULTIES SHOWN

"The administrative difficulties involved are sufficient to wreck the plan. No matter how simple an economic conception may be, its application on a large scale in the modern world is attended by definite complexities and difficulties. The principle underlying this bill, whether fallacious or not, is simple and easy to state, but no one has outlined in definite and detailed terms how the principle is to be carried out in practice. How can the board be expected to carry out after the enactment of the law what can not even be described prior to its passage? In the meanwhile, existing channels and methods of distribution and marketing must be seriously dislocated.

"This is even more apparent when we take into consideration the problem of administering the collection of the equalization fee. The bureau states that the fee will have to be collected either from the processors or the transportation companies, and dismisses as impracticable collections at the point of sale. In the case of transportation companies it points out the enormous difficulties of collecting the fee in view of the possibility of shipping commodities by unregistered vehicles. In so far as processors are concerned, it estimates the number at 6632, without considering the number of factories engaged in the business of canning corn or manufacturing food products other than millers. Some conception of the magnitude of the task may be had when we consider that if the wheat, the corn, and cotton crops had been under operation of this plan in the year 1925, collection would have been required from an aggregate of 16,034,466,679 units. The bureau states that it will be impossible to collect the equalization fee in full.

HEART OF PROBLEM

"The bill will not succeed in providing a practical method of controlling the agricultural surplus, which lies at the heart of the whole problem. In the matter of controlling output, the farmer is at a disadvantage as compared with the manufacturer. The latter is better able to gauge his market, and in the face of falling prices can reduce production. The farmer, on the other hand, must operate over a longer period of time in producing his crops and is subject to weather conditions and disturbances in world markets which can never be known in advance. In trying to find a solution for this fundamental problem of the surplus, the present bill offers no constructive suggestion. It seeks merely to increase the prices paid by the consumer, with the inevitable result of stimulating production on the part of the farmer and decreasing consumption on the part of the public. It ignores the fact that production is curbed only by decreased, not increased, prices. In the end the the equalization fee and the entire machinery provided by the bill under consideration will merely aggravate conditions which are the cause of the farmer's present distress.

"We must be careful in trying to help the farmer not to jeopardize the whole agricultural industry by subjecting it to the tyranny of bureaucratic regulation and control. That is what the present bill will do.

BASIC DANGERS

"But aside from all this, no man can foresee what the effect on our economic life will be of disrupting the long-established and delicately adjusted channels of commerce. That it will be far-reaching is undeniable, nor is it beyond the range of possibility that the present bill. If enacted into law, will threaten the very basis of our national prosperity, through dislocation, the slowing up of industry, and the disruption of the farmer's home market, which absorbs 90 per cent of his products.

"With the limited number of farm co-operators with whom contracts may be made for surplus disposal and the fact that farm co-operatives are not likely to be engaged in meat packing, flour milling or cotton spinning, it appears certain that the largest part of these contracts must be made between the board and the processors and other agencies. It means that the whole contract in swine, for instance, must be carried out with the meat packers; that a large part of wheat operations must be carried out with flour millers, wheat exporters, and others. It means that any establishment which has such a contract can charge what it likes to our American consumers because it can place the loss from any product unsalable at home on the farmer or the government by dumping it abroad. In actual working this is a complete guaranty of the profits of these concerns without restraint or limitation on profiteering against American consumers, of which the farmer himself is a very large element. It is not a guaranty to the farmer. The implications of this were pointed out in significant remarks in the minority report of the House Committee on Agriculture, which merits fuller attention than it has been given.

MAJORITY SILENT

"The silence of the majority report on this phase of the subject, in view of its wide circulation of the farming communities of the country, can be only because the proponents of the bill are unwilling that the farmers of the nation shall learn that it is proposed that the equalization fee principle shall be utilized to assure to the packers what they have not been able to gain for themselves—a certain profit from every year's operation.

"The proponents of the bill at the hearings conceded that it could not operate as to animals except under a contract with the packers. It incidentally follows that no packer without a contract could operate with the board. The bill nowhere protects the independent packer. It does provide that there shall be no discrimination between co-operative associations. It contains no like provision as to processors.

FARMERS INJURED

"The bill would impose the burden of its support to a large degree upon farmers who would not benefit by it. The products embraced in the plan are only about one-third of the total American farm production. The farmers who grow these commodities are themselves large consumers of them, and every farmer consumes some of them. There are several million farmers who do not produce any of the designated products, or very little of them, and they must pay the premiums upon the products designated in the bill. In some commodities such as corn and mill feed the farmers are practically the sole consumers. It is proposed to increase the price of corn and mill feed to American farmers, and therefore the costs to the dairy and cattle-feeding industries whose products are omitted from the bill. Beyond this, it means that by dumping of American feeds abroad at lower prices than those charged under this plan to the American swine, cattle and dairy farmer, we should be directly subsidizing foreign production of pork, dairy, beef and other animal products in competition with our own farmers in the markets of the world. We shall send cheap cotton abroad and sell high cotton at home.

CONTINUOUS ACTION

"The effect of this plan will be continuously to stimulate American production and to pile up increasing surpluses beyond the world demand. We are already overproducing. It has been claimed that the plan would only be used in the emergency of occasional surplus, which unduly depresses the price. No such limitations are placed in the bill. But on the other hand, the definition of surplus is the 'surplus over domestic requirements,' and as we have had such a surplus in most of the commodities covered in the bill for fifty years and will have for years to come, it means continuous action. It is said that by the automatic increase of the equalization fee to meet the increasing losses on enlarged dumping of increasing surplus that there would be restraint on production. This can prove effective only after so great an increase in production as will greatly enlarge our exports on all commodities except cotton. With such increased surpluses dumped from the United States onto foreign markets, the world prices will be broken down, and with them American prices upon which the premium is based will likewise be lowered to the point of complete disaster to American farmers. It is impossible to see how this bill can work.

"Several of our foreign markets have agriculture of their own to protect, and they have laws in force which may be applied to dumping and we may expect reprisals from them against dumping agricultural products which will even more diminish our foreign markets.

FURTHER EXPANSION

"The bill is essentially a price-fixing bill, because in practical working the board must arrive in some way at the premium price which will be demanded from the American consumer, and it must fix these prices in the contracts at which it will authorize purchases by flour millers, packers, other manufacturers and such co-operatives as may be used, for the board must formulate a basis upon which the board will pay losses on the export of their surplus.

"The present volume of exports of the commodities designated in the bill is $1,500,000,000 per annum. A multitude of contracts involving scores of different grades and qualities and varieties of products with thousands of individuals, both for raw and manufactured materials, must be entered into — practically cost-plus contracts. The monetary volume of these contracts will be further expanded beyond even this sum, because in hogs, for instance, the exports are in the main lard and bacon, while other parts of the animal are consumed at home, and thus contracting must apparently need cover all hogs, not the exports surplus alone. Therefore, the bill means an enormous building up of government bureaucracy to let and inspect these billions of dollars of contracts with all their infinite variety of terms covering different goods and their different grades and qualities. In turn, all of the contracts of resales by these institutions must be examined and checked to determine the losses made.

GOVERNMENT BUYING

"Parallel with it another bureaucracy must be built up to collect and distribute the equalization fee. It all calls for an aggregation of bureaucracy dominating the fortunes of American farmers, intruding into their affairs and offering infinite opportunities to fraud and incapacity. It does not replace any middlemen or manufacturers, it means that thousands of officials are set to watch them and the farmers to see that they do not evade the requirements. One of our difficulties today is the great spread between the farmer and the consumer. All these increased possessors' profits and the cost of bureaucracy must simply add to this spread without bringing to the farmer any return on such items. In fact, as he is a large consumer he also pays this.

"While the government is not directly buying or selling these commodities, it must under this bill let contracts for others to do so and name therein the terms upon which they shall buy and sell. No matter how disguised, this in plain terms is government buying and selling of commodities through agents.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

"It is proposed that the administration of this plan shall be in the control of a board whose members are nominated to the President by agricultural organizations for his transmission to the Senate for confirmation. That appears to be an unconstitutional limitation on the authority of the President, but, far more important than this, I do not believe that upon serious consideration the farmers of America would tolerate the precedent of a body of men chosen solely by one industry, who, acting in the name of the government, shall arrange for contracts which determine prices, secure the buying and selling of commodities, the levying of taxes on that industry, and pay losses on foreign dumping of any surplus. There is no reason why other industries—copper, coal, lumber, textiles and others in every occasional difficulty should not receive the same treatment by the government. Such action would establish bureaucracy on such a scale as to dominate not only the economic life, but the moral, social and political future of our people.

"The amount of the equalization fees, the method of collection and disposition of these great sums of money are to be determined by the board without any effective check or review from the Executive or Congress—a delegation of powers under which our form of government cannot continue.

NO TIME LIMIT SET

"No time limit is placed upon the contracts which the board may make. Such contracts might easily be for a term of years, and in some commodities, as for example, cotton at the present time, must necessarily be for a considerable period, since the surplus cannot be disposed of in a single year. During the continuance of any such contract, the equalization fee must continue to be levied unless the whole burden of a continuing operation is to be borne by the producers of the first crop. Consequently the suggestion often made that the scheme should be tried, and, if it fails, be repealed, loses all force. This suggestion is faulty in another respect, namely, that failure would be demonstrated only by accumulation of a huge surplus in storage. The discontinuance of operations, while a vast supply remained in storage, would result in a prolonged depression of price through the surplus being fed into the markets or through fear of its sale.

LIABILITY UNFIXED

"While the bill authorizes an appropriation of $250,000,000, it fails to restrict the contracts of the board within that sum and nowhere denies the liability of the United States for additional sums of money. If the board had begun operating in the 1925 cotton crop when prices were around 20 cents a pound, and had then attempted to hold up the price on the 1926 crop, at a level which induced the picking of the whole crop, the whole $250,000,000 would have been spent and great commitments beyond that figure have been entered into. The allocation of $100,000,000 to cotton in last year's bill, plus the suggested fee of $5 a bale, would have been completely exhausted long before the 1926 crop came into the market. And, if the equalization fee should prove unconstitutional or otherwise uncollectible, the Treasury would have been committed by contracts to a liability to the extent of the whole revolving fund.

"Apart from the necessity of contracting with the packers, the bill confers upon the board unlimited power as to the nature, extent and duration of contracts with other processors. It does not even enjoin an absence of 'unreasonable' discrimination between co-operatives. The board would therefore possess an absolute power of life and death over many legitimate business organizations, since none could compete against a processor enjoying a contract with the board protecting it against loss. The board could go unlimitedly into processing for its own account, if it so desired. No such unrestricted powers have ever been conferred upon any board.

UNFAIR PROVISIONS

"The insurance proposal amounts to a straight government agreement to pay to the co-operative associations any loss which they may incur in withholding commodities from the market—no matter how high the price may go in the meantime. For example, a wheat co-operative may, in a year of shortage, take wheat from a member on a day when it is selling at $2.50 a bushel. Under this bill it may decide to hold it for $3, but be insured that if the market breaks the government will pay it the difference between $2.50 and the price at which the co-operative actually disposes of the wheat. Nothing more destructive of all orderly processes of trade could be imagined, and nothing more unfair to the nonmember of the co-operative, since his equalization fee would be used to pay the losses.

"Let us see how the bill is to be put into operation. This act provides that before operation as to any one of these commodities shall begin, it shall be necessary to obtain an expression from producers of the commodity through a State convention of such producers. This applies in any State where not so many as 50 per cent of the producers of the particular commodity are members of the co-operative associations or other organizations."

QUOTES SENATE

The President quoted from the Senate debate on the subject of State conventions to show the interpretation given the section of the measure there, and continued:

"If all the producers attended the convention, the expense which must be borne by them individually would be a tremendous addition to the operating cost, and if the majority of them did not attend the convention, the deliberations would not represent the voice of the producers. If such relief as that contemplated by the general plan of this bill were desirable, it would be extremely unwise to hamper it with this most cumbersome and awkward provision, the compliance with which is made mandatory as a condition precedent to the operation of the law. It is impossible to see how such conventions of producers could ever be held. The bill does not say 'delegates', it says 'producers,' the farmers themselves, and if a majority of them must meet in State convention, it is entirely unworkable.

CORN PROBLEM CITED

"Corn is a crop that varies between 2,500,000,000 and 3,000,000,000 bushels per year, and the normal export is very small. The reason then for operating this bill on corn would not grow out of the exportable surplus, but according to the definitions in Sections 6 (C) (2) would grow out of a surplus above the requirements for orderly marketing. The marketing of corn would include marketing to a purchaser to feed cattle and hogs, so that a situation might arise where there would be a surplus above the requirements for orderly marketing. The act then could be put into operation as to corn under all the different kinds of agreements. But the vast expense of financing the operations of these agencies in the corn market would be charged not against the entire commodity but against that part of the commodity which is used for milling or processing or that is transported by a common carrier. This, according to statistics, amounts only to some 15 to 20 per cent of the corn produced.

"That the qualization fee is not laid on the entire comodity2is not apparent from a casual reading of the act, but a close study shows that Section 10 provides that there shall be paid 'an equalization fee upon one of the following: The transportation, processing, or sale of such unit.' There is no other way to collect the fee. If that stood alone, then all the corn would be subject to the fee unless it were used by the raised, but Section 15 (1) says:

"'In the case of . . corn, the term "processing" means milling for market . . . corn or the first processing in any manner for market . . . of corn not so milled, and the term "sale" means the sale or other disposition in the United States of . . . corn for milling or other processing for market, for resale, or for delivery by a common carrier. . . . .'

TREMENDOUS BURDEN

"Unless the corn is processed or sold for milling or other processing for market or is transported by common carrier it is not subject to the equalization fee. But the great bulk of it, which is neither processed nor transported by common carrier, is free from the equalization fee.

"The only figures in the debates with reference to corn are some estimates based solely upon exportable surplus, which really form the basis for the present proposed plan based on desire for orderly marketing and not for controlling the small exportable surplus. While it is difficult to estimate the burden of this equalization fee, which must be borne for the entire crop by this small portion, the simplest calculation will show that the amount per bushel necessarily would be tremendous so that the market for corn for milling and other processing and for transportation would be entirely dislocated. The provisions of the present measure with reference to an equalization fee on corn must not be confused with the other measures which have been proposed for the reason that former measures put the burden upon the entire crop, but this measure in undertaking to place the duty of collecting payments on the processor has reached this disastrous result. It is no answer to say that the corn producers would induce their advisory council and the members of the board from their land bank districts to exclude corn from the operation of this bill because the people who do not pay an equalization fee and on whom the burden does not fall are 80 or 85 per cent of the producers of the corn.

NOT TRANSFERABLE

"It may be contended that since there is to be an equalization fee on swine that the feeders would be taxed, but the swine and corn are separate units and have a separate stabilization fund and under the law the fees on swine cannot be turned into the stabilization fund for corn.

"In figuring the percentage of the corn crop upon which the fee would fall, while it is impossible that the fee might fall on corn carried by a common carrier, it is doubtful whether any board would lay a tax on transportation where the corn was being transported to be sold to feeders. If they did, of course, the result would be that to avoid the fee in most cases the seller would not transport by a common carrier.

"It is not enough to say that the right to put the equalization fee on swine would adjust the inequalities between those bearing the burden and those not bearing the burden, first, because the board might commence operating as to corn and not desire to operate or be permitted to operate as to swine. However, much of the corn would be fed to cattle and live-stock other than swine, and there is no right to bring the products of live stock other than swine under the provisions of the law.

HAMPERING FEARED

"With a requirement for a fee on part of the corn crop and no fee on the balance, the free movement and dealing in that commodity would be hampered to an almost unbearable extent. It would take a horde of inspectors to assure the payment of the fee on the particular corn required to bear it.

"A feeder of cattle who had the necessary machinery to grind or crush his corn bought from other farmers for feeding purposes would be able to market his cattle free from the cost of the equalization fee, while another feeder who purchased such ground feed would be compelled to market his cattle with the added cost of the equalization fee on the corn. This, of course, would be true as to swine; moreover, the feeder who had been compelled to purchase the ground feed would pay the fee on that and when he sells his swine he pays an additional fee on that transaction. He pays twice.

PROVISION CITED

"It is provided in the law 'the board shall determine in the case of any class of transactions in the commodity whether the equalization fee shall be paid upon transportation, processing or sale . . .'

"The act itself provides in Section 10 (B) the board may, by regulation, require any person engaged in the transportation, processing or acquisition by sale of a basic agricultural commodity:

"'(1.) . . . (2.) To collect an equalization fee as directed by the board and to account therefor.'

"Thus the common carrier if on transportation, or the processor if on processing, or those who secure by sale, if on sale, collect the fee which must fall on the producer. Transportation under the act means the acceptance of a commodity by a common carrier for delivery (Section 15 (5.) Regardless of just how it is collected it is the intent that it shall fall upon the producer. The farmer pays it when his product moves. . . .

ANOTHER POINT

"It is important to bear in mind that the equalization fee can only be levied upon a unit of the basic agricultural commodity. This means the actual commodity itself as defined in Section 6, to wit: Cotton, wheat, corn, rice, tobacco and swine. The reference in Section 6 to food products of the commodity specifically limits the application thereof to Sections (D,) (E) and (F) of Section 6, which do not in any way relate to the equalization fee. All of the sections dealing with the equalization fee and all of the references to it clearly limit its application to the basic agricultural commodity itself, and they cannot lay a fee upon flour or other products of wheat, meal or other products of corn, meats or other products of swine.

"While there may be some conceivable way of reaching an import of any of these agricultural commodities as such, there is no possible way of reaching any of the products of these commodities after they are processed. The result would be to throw all of our processors and millers who would have to buy the commodity with the cost of the equalization fee added into competition with imports from Canada or other countries who sent in any product of any of the basic agricultural commodities.

RUIN FEARED

"Of course the millers or other processors who happen to get desirable contracts from the board might be able to recoup that loss to a certain extent, but the milling capacity of the small mills and large mills is great enough to take care of twice the amount of milling and other processing to be done; and the mills which were not fortunate enough to get such contracts would be ruined.

"It is a fundamental principle in writing a tariff law that when a duty is placed upon a raw product that a compensatory duty must be placed on the manufactured or processed product in which the raw product is used. Here is a fee placed upon the raw product which might be imported. Raw products dumped abroad can there be processed and reshipped here to the disaster and destruction of this whole bill.

"In fixing the amount of the equalization fee the board must necessarily estimate the crop, because it is their duty to estimate the probable 'advances, losses, costs and charges to be paid' and to determine the amount for each unit. Of course, they are compelled to estimate the crop in order to estimate the number of units. One of the co-authors of the bill suggests that if the law had been in operation from 1925 the equalization fee on wheat should yield $131,750,000.

"I mention this to show the large sums involved. If either the estimate of the crop or the size of the fund needed should be inaccurate, so that there is collected many millions more than needed, there is no way to return it to the producer. Suppose there should be estimated an exportable surplus of 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and there is a surplus of but 100,000,000, the fund would be almost twice as large as it should be, and if the amount involved should be anything like that stated by Representative Haugen the board would have $55,000,000 or $60,000,000 more than needed of the farmers' money. There is no way to return it. Now, in the case of cotton there is provision that any excess that is accumulated for the stabilization fund shall be paid back to the producer. This is contained in Sec. 10, Subdivision (3,) and Sec. 11, Subdivision (E.)

"But there is no place in the law which provides for a return to the producer of other products where the assessment of the fee levies an amount in excess of that necessary for that stabilization fund. There is quite a large variance from year to year of the amount of production of these different basic agricultural commodities and it is manifestly unfair to provide that as to cotton the producer shall share in any excess collected, while as to corn, wheat, swine, rice and tobacco no such provision exists.

"In all the similar bills heretofore considered by Congress it has been thought necessary to provide for the return to all producers of any amount they should pay in excess of that required and it is illogical and indefensive to deem it necessary to still make that provision for the cotton producer and deprive the other producers of that benefit. This appears to be the rankest kind of discrimination in favor of one crop and against all the other crops in the bill.

"Another difficulty will be in making proper estimates of the amount of products and the amount of the equalization fee.

MISTAKES SHOWN

"It is improbable that this board could do any better in this respect than has been done by the Department of Agriculture. In spring wheat the estimates of the department have been 78,000,000 bushels too small and 90,000,000 bushles too large; in winter wheat, 126,000,000 bushels too small and 140,000,000 bushels too large; in corn 430,000,000 bushels too small and 657,000,000 bushels too 2,983,000 bales too small, for 1926, and 3,286,000 bales too large for 1918. These are all recent estimates and show conclusively the impossibility of arriving at accurate conclusions.

"No rebates are allowed except on cotton. Any year therefore, that a large corn or wheat crop is estimated, which turns out to be too high, too much money would be collected, and as it is not returnable, it would result in so much loss to the farmer. If the crop were underestimated the fee might not furnish a large enough sum to sustain the market on that particular commodity.

MORE CRITICISM

"The main policy of this bill is an entire reversal of what has been heretofore thought to be sound. Instead of undertaking to secure a method of orderly marketing which will dispose of products at a profit, it proposes to dispose of them at a loss. It runs counter to the principle of conservation, which would require us to produce only what can be done at a profit, not to waste our soil and resources producing what is to be sold at a loss to us for the benefit of the foreign consumer. It runs counter to the well-considered principle that a healthy economic condition is best maintained through a free play of competition by undertaking to permit a legalized restraint of trade in these commodities and establish a species of monopoly under government protection, supported by the unlimited power of the farm board to levy fees and enter into contracts. For many generations such practices have been denounced by law as repugnant to the public welfare. It cannot be that they would now be found to be beneficial to agriculture.

"This measure is so long and involved that it is impossible to discuss it without going into many tiresome details. Many other reasons exist why it ought not to be approved, but it is impossible to state them all without writing a book.

GREATEST FACTOR

"The most decisive one is that it is not constitutional. This feature is discussed in an opinion of the Attorney-General, herewith attached and made a part hereof, so that I shall not consider the details of that phase of my objections.

"Of course, it includes some good features. Some of its provisions, intended to aid and strengthen co-operative marketing, have been borrowed from proposals that do represent the general trend of constructive thought on the agricultural problem. In this measure, however, these provisions are all completely subordinated to the main objective, which is to have the government dispose of exportable surpluses at a loss and to make some farmer taxpayers foot the bill. This is not a measure to help co-operative marketing. Its effect, on the contrary, is to eliminate [illegible] tions of advantage [illegible] farmers to join [illegible] and improve their own [illegible]

SARGENT BACKS FARM VETO

Attorney-General Declares McNary-Haugen Bill Proves to be Unconstitutional Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill was buttressed by an opinion by Atty.-Gen. Sargent, made a part of the veto message, holding that the bill "would, in its most essential provisions, violate the Constitution of the United States."

This conclusion of the chief law officer of the government was based on the following considerations:

ATTY. GEN. SARGENT

"That it (the bill) takes from the President the constitutional executive power and duty of making appointments to fill the offices created by it, and by legislation confers that power upon others.

"That Congress delegates its Constitutional power of legislation to private co-operative associations and corporations; and individuals acting collectively, and the board created by the statute;

"That it contravenes the provisions of the Constitution against taking of property without due process of law."

The Attorney-General quoted at length from the record of proceedings in Congress to show the bill's purposes and from court decisions to support his contention that if the measure became a law the courts would declare it invalid.

He declared that the real purpose of the legislation is "to fix the prices at which certain agricultural commodities may be bought and sold in the domestic market, and to prevent the depression of prices of such commodities in the United States to the level of prices in the world markets." The legal effect, he said, "is the same as if Congress itself had named the price, and then established agencies to conduct operations in the commodity to carry out its determination."

POWER LIMITED

"One provision of the act which is plainly in violation of the Constitution," the opinion continued, "is that which limits the President in his appointments of members of the board to select in each district one man from a list of three submitted by a nominating committee.

"There are a few instances in our legislative history where acts have been passed and approved which placed some such restrictions on the Presidential power of appointment, but the question here considered does not seem to have been made an issue, and, taken as a whole, these instances do not constitute a practical construction of the Constitution of any considerable weight."

Taking up the question whether Congress had exceeded its authority to delegate power to others when it sought to create the farm board, the Attorney-General declared that in giving the board jurisdiction over prices the bill had failed to prescribe any formula by which that jurisdiction was to be exercised.

TOO MUCH SCOPE

There is no provision in the measure, he said, which would compel the fixing of reasonable prices, but the board is given a power which would be "absolute and unlimited."

"I am unable to believe," continued Atty.-Gen. Sargent, "that in an act which provides in substance that, through governmental agencies, prices of certain farm products shall be determined upon, established and maintained, Congress may lawfully delegate to Federal officers, acting concurrently with private agencies, the limited discretion to decide whether the price-fixing operation shall be commenced; may lawfully delegate the complete discretion without any prescribed rule to determine what the price shall be; or may lawfully delegate the power to determine on whom shall be directly placed the burden of collecting the charge to provide the fund to conduct operations."

Furthermore the opinion declared that a search of the record of the Supreme Court had disclosed nothing "to justify the belief that the power of the Federal government to regulate commerce includes the power of establish and maintain . . . the price at which merchandise may be bought and sold in interstate commerce, with the necessary consequence of fixing the price at which the commodity in question shall be bought and sold in every place in the land, whether in or out of interstate commerce."

CAN'T CALL IT TAX

The Attorney-General also discussed whether the proposed equalization fee would amount to a tax, capable of legal defense under the taxing power of Congress. He concluded that no such construction of the language of the bill would be valid since the equalization fee was not called a tax by Congress when it drafted the legislation, since no schedule was laid down under which the fee was to be levied, and since the amounts collected were not to be paid, as taxes are paid, into the Federal Treasury.

"The purpose of the act," said the opinion, "is to force all producers, directly or indirectly, to make a contribution, not in the nature of a tax, toward the losses and expense thereof; it is, in my opinion, in violation of the provisions of the Fifth Amendment and taking of property without due process of law."

POWER QUIZ BY SENATE IMPENDING

Walsh of Montana Would Investigate Methods of Financing Companies

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Methods of financing public-utility electric and gas corporations would be subjected to a thorough Senate investigation under a resolution introduced today by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana.

The measure, which went over for a day under the rules, provides that a special Senate committee of five inquire "into the growth of the capitalization" of such companies, the corporations holding their stocks, ways in which these stocks are issued and the price received for them.

The committee would be directed to determine "the extent to which additions or extensions to the property of the operating companies have been made and the value or detriment to the public holding companies owing the stock or otherwise controlling such operating companies."

In line with a recent report of the Federal Trade Commission on its investigation of the holdings of the General Electric Company, in which the commission suggested a need for legislation governing interstate transfer of power, the committee would be instructed to make and recommend measures for the correction of "any abuses that may exist."

Hearings would be conducted during the Congressional recess at whatever places the committee might consider necessary. No provision was made as to the time when it would report.

MONTANA ON RECORD FAVORING ESTATE TAX

HELENA (Mont.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Montana, through its Legislature, today went on record as favoring continuance of the Federal estate tax. A resolution advising the national Congress of its position passed the House. The Senate already had approved.

ELECTRONS HELD BASIS OF UNIVERSE

Solution of Origin Held Last Mystery Left in Electrical Science

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Solution of origin of the electron is regarded by Dr. Michael I. Pupin, professor of electro-mechanics at Columbia University, as the only remaining mystery of electrical science.

"God only knows where, when and how electrons were created," Dr. Pupin said at the alumni dinner of Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn. "Having settled that question mystery vanishes from electrical science and the rest is easy."

"God created the electrons to be his assistants in the creation of the universe," Dr. Pupin asserted. "It is the service of the electron which carries the human voice around the terrestrial globe. It carries the power from coal mines and a mountain stream to our homes and makes us comfortable; it pulls our subway trains."

Spain Refuses Part in League Economic Meet

GENEVA, Feb. 25. (AP)—Spain has refused an invitation to participate in the international economic conference, called by the League of Nations for May 4, next.

Premier Rivera gave no reasons for the declination, but it is interpreted here as an indication that the Madrid government is still cool toward the League because of its nonelection to a permanent seat in the Council, which led to Spain's resignation from the League.

SEED LOAN BILL SIGNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Norbeck-Johnson seed loan bill was signed late today by President Coolidge.

GRAIN MART UP AFTER VETO

Cotton Also Rallies on Chicago Board of Trade Following Death of Farm Relief Bill

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—While President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill was received by agricultural leaders in the Middle West with statements of disappointment and criticism, prices of wheat, corn and cotton on the Chicago Board of Trade rallied strongly.

Confidence that the people are with the farmers in the fight for agricultural equality and that the relief bill again will be passed by the next Congress was expressed by Sam H. Tompson, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, asserted that "the President and his advisers must carry full responsibility for the delay in restoring agriculture to its rightful position in our national life."

President Coolidge was praised by F. A. Doern, vice-president of the Chicago Board of Trade, for having judgment and sound business instinct. "It is no more than I expected," said Doern.

In Iowa, in the heart of the corn belt, President Coolidge's action was received with extreme disappointment.

A resolution urging passage of the bill over the Presidential veto as "the most-needed economic legislation for the good of the United States that has at any time been before Congress" was adopted by the Iowa Legislature.

It was approved by Gov. John Hammill, who said he was "very disappointed in the President's veto."

E. T. Meredith of Des Moines, former Secretary of Agriculture, said he felt the veto was a mistake.

Wheat on the Chicago Board of Trade was on the decline when news of the President's veto was received, and an immediate response was noted. It bounded up 1 3-4 to 2 1-4 cents, from the low prices, but the gains were not fully maintained at the end of the day.

Corn prices went up 2 5-8 to 2 7-8 cents, but also failed to hold their entire gain.

News of the veto sent cotton on an upturn of prices which continued to force ahead until the close, the market closing 2 to 14 points higher than yesterday.

VIEWS CONFLICT ON FARM VETO

Foes of Measure Say Action Was Expected

Proponents Declare Fight Will be Renewed

Campaign Issue Seen by Iowa Representative

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The conflicting views in Congress today over the veto by President Coolidge of the McNary-Haugen bill followed largely, the lines of cleavage developed when the measure was making its laborious way through House and Senate. While Representative Tilson, Republican floor leader, summed up the sentiments of opponents of the measure in the terse statement that "nobody expected anything else," Senator McNary, Republican, Oregon, and Representative Haugen, Republican, Iowa, authors of the measure, gave notice that the fight would go on in the next Congress.

Senator McNary termed the veto a "grievous disappointment to the West, but not a permanent setback." He said the fight would be continued "until agriculture is placed on a level with other industries." Mr. Haugen expressed a similar view, declaring that "in the end we shall win."

Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader, declined to comment, but Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, declared the President had "disappointed hopes of the farmers throughout the South, West and Middle West."

TERMED MISTAKE

The veto was termed the "most serious" mistake of the President by Senator Capper, Republican, Kansas. Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, said he "greatly regretted" the action, while Gooding, Republican, Idaho, termed it a "great disappointment to agriculture."

Senator Fess, Republican, Ohio, who fought the bill, said the President's message was a strong one, "which will grip the country." Representative Wood, Republican, Indiana, differing from the President's conclusions, said he had met his problem "valiantly." Representative Furlow, Republican, Minnesota, declared the veto "is very discouraging to us who have worked so hard for farm relief."

Representative Oldfield of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, said "the President has always been ready and eager to give special legislative favors to tariff barons and other special interests, no matter what they demanded."

MESSAGE DENOUNCED

Completion of reading the message in the Senate found Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas, on his feet with a denunciation of it. He described it as "words."

George N. Peek, chairman of the committee of twenty-two who had been active in support of the bill, said the President's veto message "consists of a rehash of opponents' arguments and sets up men of straw only to knock them down again." "The issue will not down," he added.

Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa, who, for three years has been active in the farm-relief battle, declared that "this veto puts the farm program definitely into both the personnel and policy program of the campaign for 1928." He predicted that the question would again be submitted to Congress next December with additional support behind it.

Court Ruling on Use of Photos Blow to Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Unauthorized publication by a newspaper of the photograph of a "private person" violates "his right to privacy" and makes the newspaper liable for damages, Justice Siddons of the District of Columbia Supreme Court held today.

Justice Siddons said the newspaper could not invoke the plea of freedom of the press in defense of the publication of unauthorized pictures of a private person.

The case was brought against the Washington Times Company by Maude Peed in February, 1926.

WOMAN TO AID BOYS

"Housemother" For Students Named At Wisconsin University

MADISON (Wis.) Feb. 25. (AP)—The plan of S. H. Goodnight, dean of men at the University of Wisconsin, for a "housemother" to look after fraternity boys has been put into operation.

Mrs. K. M. Burrus, Louisville, Ky., has taken her post as "housemother" at the Sigma Chi fraternity. She is the first to hold such a place at Wisconsin.

She is the mother of Jefferson Burrus, one of the university's Rhodes scholars, the 1926 prom chairman, football and crew star.

"I expect to be called upon for any problems the boys might bring to their own mother," said Mrs. Burrus. "I think the presence of a woman can't help but smooth off the rough edges and help in the development of the boys."

SURGEONS IN SESSION

Pacific Coast Association Will Name Officers Today

DEL MONTE, Feb. 25. (AP)—Surgeons attending the 1927 convention of the Pacific Coast Surgical Association at the Hotel Del Monte agreed today that time is the most important element in all operations. Early diagnosis was depicted by the doctors as making possible a comparatively simple operation instead of a last resort surgical effort.

Dr. Stanley Stillman, professor of surgery at Stanford University, opened today's session with the "president's address." Officers will be elected tomorrow.

COAST CHANNEL URGED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—Construction of four channels in Humboldt Harbor and Bay, California, was recommended today by the War Department. The work would cost $187,000, with $14,000 annually for maintenance.

COOLIDGE SIGNS BANK MEASURE

New Act Permits National Branch Operations

Law Becomes Effective at Once, Ending Old Row

Reserve Institutions Given Charter Extensions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—President Coolidge signed the branch banking bill today at the same time that he vetoed the McNary-Haugen farm measure with which it had been linked in Senate consideration.

The McFadden-Pepper Act becomes effective immediately and puts an end to the long controversy over branch banking by national banks by placing them on a parity with State banks which are permitted by local laws to engage in branch banking.

The most important section of the measure, however, is that extending indefinitely the charters of the twelve Federal Reserve banks. It was because of the importance of this section that those in charge of the bill in the Senate invoked the debate limitation rule for the first time on purely domestic legislation.

Feeling certain that the President eventually would veto the farm bill, those having charge of the banking measure anticipated an assault upon the Federal reserve system in Congress by the agrarians should there be a delay in continuing the charters which would have expired in eight years.

Under the branch-banking sections of the bill, national banks located in States which permit branch banking by statute at this time will be permitted to maintain branches within the limits of the city, town or county in which the parent institution is situated.

A third major provision of the new law legalizes investment banking by national banks, thus validating a practice which has been pursued by these banks. Limitations are placed, however, on the extent to which such banking may be carried on.

The branch-banking bill was first introduced in Congress five years ago and after a stormy passage in the House it was completely rewritten by the Senate Banking Committee and then materially changed in conference.

Wreckers Find Gold in Ancient Espee Station

OAKLAND, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Buried treasure, $2000 worth, was discovered today in the ruins of Oakland's ancient Southern Pacific station at Franklin and Fourteenth streets. Workmen engaged in tearing down the old station to make way for a new building discovered the money in $5 gold pieces inside of a rusty tin can.

The most modern of the coins found was minted in 1886, more than forty years ago. It is believed some man buried the money intending to return for it, and failed to get back.

Byrd Receives Honor Medal for Pole Dash

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—President Coolidge personally presented today the Congressional Medal of Honor to Commander Richard E. Byrd and Warrant Machinist Floyd Bennett, awarded to them by Congress for their exploit in flying over the North Pole last May.

The presentation was made in the presence of Secretary of War Davis, Assistant Secretary Robinson of the Navy, and other high-ranking naval officers.

NEAR EAST AID SHOWN

Report Says 35,000 Children Cared for By Relief Workers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Near East relief in a report to Congress shows disbursements of $3,387,000 during 1926 in its overseas work for child refugees.

The total number of children cared for was 35,000, of whom 17,000 were in its sixty-eight orphanage schools and 18,000 placed in homes and industries.

A deficit of $78,000 for the year was explained by Cleveland E. Dodge, the organization's treasurer, as due to the failure to collect a large amount of insurance for losses in the burning of its warehouse in Piraeus, Greece.

ASK PERMISSION TO ENTER FIGHT

Grape Growers Want Part in Rail Rate Case

Argument Presented for Cut in Freight Charges

Independent Organization Back of Move

FRESNO, Feb. 25.—Seeking the right to participate in a fight before the Interstate Commerce Commission for lower freight rates to the East on California deciduous fruits, the Growers' and Shippers' Protective Association is preparing a petition asking permission to intervene in the rate case now before the commission on complaint of the California Shippers' and Growers' League, it was announced here today by John D. Martin, Jr., secretary of the association.

The association is an organization of San Joaquin Valley independent shippers and growers of table and juice grapes, who have formed for the purpose of combating the grape-car plan of the American Railway Association. The association now has before the commerce body a compaint seeking to do away with the car plan which was inaugurated last year by the railroads, on the ground that it is discriminatory and will force the independent grower and shipper out of the fresh-grape business.

The membership of the association includes some of San Joaquin Valley's largest independent growers and shippers of fresh grapes, who are engaged in a campaign of opposition to the recently organized California Vineyardists' Association on the ground that the vineyardists' association is in favor of the car plan and that the plan is against the best interests of the grape industry as a whole.

Martin said today that the association's complaint in intervention, if it is accepted by the Interstate Commerce Commission, will set up as its principal ground for lower rates on deciduous fruits, and particularly on table and juice grapes, the fact that despite a trebled volume of grape shipments from California since 1914, now amounting in the aggregate of approximately 70,000 cars annually, the rates have been advanced from $1.15 per 100 pounds to $1.73 per 100 pounds. Because of the larger volume of car-lot business the rate should be lower, Martin said.

Salesmen Held After Crossing Mexican Line

CALEXICO, Feb. 25.—Sam Azar and Eli Sahhar, salesmen representing the H. and J. Trading Company of Los Angeles, face the possible loss of their automobile and $600 worth of merchandise as the result of taking the wrong road from this city to Yuma yesterday. After traveling several miles they stopped to ask a passing motorist about the road. Their informer proved to be a Mexican customs officer who told them they were in Mexico and promptly placed them under arrest on a charge of smuggling. The salesmen were released under 1500 peso bond, their car and sample stocks held as security for the bond. They have appealed to Washington for relief through the local American consul.

OXNARD RAID NETS NARCOTICS SUPPLY

VENTURA, Feb. 25.—Alleged to be a member of a large narcotic ring operating on the Coast, Ah Hing, Oxnard Chinese, was arrested by Chief of Police H. W. Johnson in a raid on Hing's place, which netted the officers a large quantity of opium, cocaine and morphine. According to reports from Oxnard, the tip on Ah Hing's alleged activities was furnished by two Mexicans who were arrested and quizzed by the Oxnard Chief when one of them was found digging in a pile of rubbish in a vacant lot where an Oxnard man had previously seen a stranger bury two cans of opium. Inspector Bright of, the United States narcotic bureau came to Oxnard for the prisoner and took him to Los Angeles for a hearing in the Federal court.

MONUMENT DEDICATED

Henry Harbison Sinclair, Pioneer in Hydroelectric Work in West, Honored at Redlands

REDLANDS, Feb. 25.—A great stone monument with a bronze tablet descriptive of the pioneer work of Henry Harrrison Sinclair in the development of hydroelectric power in the West stands today in Mill Creek Canyon just above the first power-house of the Edison company. It served to bring scores of the electrical wizards of the West to this city for the dedication services. Mr. Sinclair died several years ago.

Prominent speakers, leaders in the western power industry, participated in the ceremony, paying tribute to the man who was largely responsible for the plant near here which later was copied by engineers at Niagara Falls and finally in every city of importance in the world. All of the speakers commented on the fact that today cities are lighted, electric railways are operated and the wheels of industry are turned by power furnished from giant three-phase generators like those first introduced in America at Mill Creek power-house No. 1.

Sinclair, promoter of the first power company and leading spirit in the development of the internationally used triphase system, was lauded at the dedication by such men as John B. Miller, president of the Southern California Edison Company, and prominent in electrical development of the Southland; Benjamin F. Pearson, supervisor of industrial relations and early associate of the honored Mr. Sinclair; R. H. Ballard, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Edison Company; R. M. Breckenridge, senior vice-president of that company; G. C. Ward, another Edison vice-president, and a score of others.

Merritt and Chandler were unanimously re-elected to the directorate for three-year terms by the growrs' advisory council Wednesday.

BEATY WORKS FAST

Opens Road to Traffic Two Hours After Told It Was Closed

POMONA, Feb. 25.—Prompt action on the part of Supervisor Beaty of this district in opening the Valley Boulevard to travel within two hours after his notification by a local committee that the main traffic artery between this city and Los Angeles was still closed as a result of a washed-out bridge near Spadra was the source of much gratification locally.

Mr. Beaty, believing that the road had been open since last Monday, having received assurances to that effect from the County Road Department, immediately dispatched a fast police car to spot with two motorcycle officers to direct traffic where a fill-in made possible one-way traffic across the wash.

The road department had previously refused to allow traffc to cross this fill on the grounds that one-way traffic was not feasible and that no travel would be allowed until the job was completed. Also, instead of a short crew at the scene this morning, the number of men and equipment was quadrupled as a result of Beaty's efforts, assuring a speedy completion of a permanent structure to replace the washed-out bridge.

INCREASE IN BEET ACREAGE FORECAST

VENTURA, Feb. 25. — An increase in the acreage planted to sugar beets in Ventura county, totaling as much as 4000 to 5000 acres, was forecast today by a result of the abundant rains and the resulting prospect for a heavy crop. Last year the county beet acreage was 11,000 and already 12,000 acres have been assured for the coming season, said John Rooney, manager of the Oxnard plant of the American Beet-Sugar Company. Farmers with acreage which might be used for additional lima bean planting are reported to be dubious about using it for that purpose in view of market conditions and the danger of overproduction, and are likely to plant beets instead, thus bringing the county's total sugar area this season as high as 14,000 or 15,000 acres.

DRINK OF INTOXICANT FOLLOWED BY DEATH

VENTURA, Feb. 25. — After drinking a quantity of liquor at the home of a friend in the Mexican district of Simi, Juan Merero, 45 years of age, died suddenly last evening. It is believed that his death was caused by the intoxicant. According to two companions who were with Merero at the time of his death, the men had all been drinking freely of the bootleg when Merero, who was sitting on the bed, fell over backward. His friends at first believed he had fallen asleep, due to the strength of the liquor, but a few minutes later they found that he had died. The other men apparently suffered no ill effects from the liquor.

PASADENANS WILL ASK BOND ELECTION

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—The Central Business Association will ask the Board of City Directors next Tuesday to place on the primary ballots of March 17 a bond issue proposal of $170,000, the money to be used by the city to pay its share of the assessments in the projected widening of West Colorado street.

A part of Carmelita Park, which is municipally owned, is affected by street - widening program and the business association holds that the improvement will be speeded if the city adopts the bond-issue method of paying its assessment.

Beach Towns Swell Crowds at Citrus Show

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 25.—Led by Mayor Herman Michael, 500 residents of Santa Monica and Ocean Park invaded the seventeenth national orange show today in one of the biggest days of the classic. The attendance for the day was estimated at 20,000 by the show executive committee.

The Santa Monica delegation marched into the exposition building with the famed Santa Monica municipal band playing. President Arthur J. Brown officially welcomed the delegation to the classic.

Tomorrow is Long Beach and railway day, while Sunday is all-Southern California day and more than 60,000 persons are expected to visit the show. On last Sunday 85,000 passed through the turnstile to set a new Sunday mark.

The Long Beach municipal band will play two concerts at the show tomorrow. A number of entertainment features are being arranged for the two closing days of the orange show.

FLOOD SUFFERERS TO ASK MULHOLLAND'S AID

OWENSMOUTH, Feb. 25.—The west end of San Fernando Valley, between Reseda and Owensmouth, which was the worst sufferer in the recent rainstorms and overflow waters, is anxious to obtain the services of Chief Engineer William Mulholland and H. A. Van Norman to help residents solve their problems of drainage. It is announced that Hugo Carlson of Owensmouth and Alex Jeffrey of Reseda have stated their intention of laying the matter before the two engineers. In the recent rainfalls thousands of acres between the two towns were under water, some of the places being four feet deep. It may be two weeks before certain parts of the acreage are sufficiently dry for ranchers to use their plows for cultivation. At one time Mr. Mulholland drew plans for a large drainage ditch over a right of way that was obtained by Mr. Carlson. Nothing eventually came of the project because of the want of sufficient funds, and the plan was abandoned.

VALLEY TO FIGHT FOR LOWER TROLLEY FARE

LANKERSHIM, Feb. 25.—Lankershim and other valley chambers of commerce will carry their fight against increased street-car fares before the State Railroad Commission. A definite date for the hearing has been set. The request of the Pacific Electric for higher rates, which will boost straight and round-trip fares between San Fernando Valley points and Los Angeles from 5 to 10 cents will be heard on March 10, at which time the application will be met with a counter-demand that present rates are too high and should be reduced. Representative citizens from the several towns in the valley will be present at the hearing and, through attorneys, combat the application of the railroad. Some of the leaders in the fight against the Pacific Electric assert that if fares were as low as they are between New York City and outlying towns, San Fernando Valley could be increased in population ten times faster than its present rate of growth.

LACK OF OBSERVATION LANDS HIM IN CELL

POMONA, Feb. 25.—Failure to observe an observing police officer is likely to prove costly for Edward Boehm, 20 years of age, of East San Bernardino avenue, Pomona, when his trial for liquor possession comes up for disposal. According to the officer, Roehm was noticed to stop near a tree on East San Bernardino avenue today and upon immediate investigation the officer found four gallons of assorted liquor cached at the spot. Police state that Kentucky moonshiner's methods have been in vogue in the city for some time past and only by very careful watch are they able to obtain sufficient evidence to warrant arrest. Roehm and the four gallons of so-called liquor were brought to police headquarters, where he was arraigned before Police Judge Bowen. Upon a plea of not guilty, he was remanded to jail in lieu of $500 bail set by the court.

PARENTS, TEACHERS IN ALL-DAY MEETING

GLENDALE, Feb. 25. — The Glendale Federation Parent-Teachers' Association representing a membership of 4069, held an all-day meeting today in the Central Christian Church, in celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, 300 members and guests being present to take part in the ceremonies in which national and State executives participated.

VAN NUYS, Feb. 25.—A permanent organization of the San Fernando Valley branch of the Los Angeles Teachers' Club will be effected at a meeting to be conducted here on March 1. All schools in the valley, including the town of San Fernando, will be represented. Several hundred instructors will take part in the proceedings.

AGED WOMAN DIES

VAN NUYS, Feb. 25.—Mrs. R. J. Eckman, 83 years of age, daughter of Mrs. N. E. Foetisch, died at the latter's home here. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery. Mrs. Eckman was well known in Santa Barbara where she made her home for a long time before coming to Van Nuys.

MONDAY PASADENA WILL HAVE THIRD RESIDENT CENTENARIAN

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—Mrs. Jane Elizabeth Meeker of 409 North Raymond avenue will join next Monday the slim ranks of those who have lived 100 years, and she says that it is her firm religious faith that has enabled her to accomplish the feat.

"Without my belief in God and his ordering of all things I could not have lived so long," Mrs. Meeker said today, and declared her faith to be the only explanation of her long life. She is a devout member of the First Congregational Church of Pasadena.

Mrs. Meeker's family is remarkable for the longevity of its members. Her father, Amherst Wight, was at one time the oldest practicing attorney in New York City, her mother lived to be more than 80 years of age, and one aunt lived to be 101.

Mrs. Meeker has lived in Pasadena thirty-three years. She has five children living, four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren. Her two sons and three daughters will help her celebrate her 100th birthday.

She is not the oldest resident of Pasadena, as the city boasts at least three other centenarians, the best-known of whom is Galusha M. Cole, who is active in Masonic circles.

OLIVE PLANS HELD UP

Reorganization of Growers in Abeyance Pending Rule on Proposed orporation

FRESNO, Feb. 25.—Reorganization plans of the California Olive Growers, Inc., State-wide co-operative marketing organization, are being held in abeyance pending the receipt of the State Corporation Commissioner from Atty.-Gen. Webb, of an opinion on three legal points involved in the proposed set-up on the organization, it was announced today by General Manager C. E. Weikert.

Following the revocation of the association's permit by Corporation Commissioner MacMillan some time ago, reorganization plans were launched by the directors. The permit was revoked after an extended hearing into the co-operative's affairs by MacMillan, and was based principally upon stock sales prior to the date of issuance of a corporation permit.

No information was given out concerning the points on which Webb was asked for an opinion.

Weikert also announced that an audit of growers' accounts is nearing completion and will enable the association at an early date to advise each grower of the status of his account with the association. No such accounting has heretofore been given, according to testimony given during the hearing conducted by MacMillan.

All grower members have also been provided with copies of the crop contract under which they assumed membership in the association, Weikert said.

Cattlemen to Confer Today on Kern Ranch

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 25. — Seventy-five members of the Kern County Cattlemen's Association, comprising the local branch of the California Cattlemen's Association, will meet at Greenfield ranch tomorrow to elect officers for 1927, discuss local problems, and to hear reports from State officers of the association and the California Department of Agriculture.

Preparing to cope with the threatening weather, President P. A. Kilpstein announced today that the meeting will not be disrupted, even by a cloudburst. Enough tarpaulin to build a circus tent has been stored at Greenfield ranch and a huge canopy will be erected over the meeting if necessary.

President Klipstein will open the convention at 10 o'clock, and the local cattlemen will conduct their county business and elect officers and directors for the coming year before a body of business men and State officers, who will be present as interested spectators or as specially invited guests.

CANCER CURE DENIED

Surgeon Declares Knife Only Safe Method of Treatment

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Removal by surgery of any growth not definitely known to be harmless is the only safe way to prevent or cure cancer, Dr. Charles A. Dukes, chief surgeon for the Standard Oil Company, told a round-table assemblage. Much of the cancer information being disseminated in literature and over the radio regarding cures comes from fakirs, Dr. Dukes averred.

"The scientific physician is an altruist who never withholds from his profession any remedy that may be of value in the treatment or prevention of disease. When Dr. W. E. Gye of London in 1925 published his theory that the cancer cell is activated by some chemical substance produced in or introduced into the blood, a great wave of hope for an early remedy to prevent, control or cure this terrible disease, swept the world. In a recent visit to Gye at his laboratories, he told me that he is nowhere near a cure for cancer but does hope to arrive at an explanation of the cause of it."

BODY OF SNOWSLIDE VICTIM RECOVERED

FRESNO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The body of Reuben Barnt, one of the victims of the snowslide disaster at Big Creek, was recovered from the snow today, according to word received by Coroner J. Herman Kennedy. There are four bodies still believed to be imprisoned in the debris caused when two snowslides cut through Camp 72 of the Southern California Edison Company, causing thirteen deaths.

EXCHANGERS HEAR TRAVELERS' TROUBLES

MONROVIA, Feb. 25.—Stories of 91-year-old runaways, deserted families, and 6-year-olds who journey 'round the world, were told by Miss Dorothy Wysor, head of the Los Angeles Travelers' Aid Society, at the Exchange Club luncheon held at the Aztec Hotel yesterday. More than fifty members of the club were present.

Business Men of Visalia Told of Tax Share

VISALIA, Feb. 25.—During the year 1926-27 Visalia business interests on their business investments alone paid 21.15 per cent of the city's tax bill, or $28,790 of the $136,126 total on the tax rolls, declared Isaac Clark, president of the Visalia Commercial Club, addressing members of their regular session at the Hotel Johnson.

The sixty Commercial Club members paid 14.25 per cent of the amount, leaving the remaining 6.9 per cent to 125 business establishments on the city's tax roll. The business interests also pay $10,000 a year in business licenses and $1900 a year for the merchants' night patrol service, he declared.

These points were emphasized in a talk which showed that the business interests, as such, were contributing a greater proportion to the financial upkeep of the city than any one other class and more than generally believed. This data was secured from a study of the city's books.

The books also revealed that it requires $75,000 each year for the city of Visalia to maintain its "status quo." This must be spent before any improvements are made.

MOVE FOR ROAD FUND

Riverside County to Plan Funds to Repair Highways

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 25.—Steps to raise approximately $400,000 for repair and reconstruction of the county's storm-washed highways will be taken by the Board of Supervisors Monday. The county's bonding capacity is $2,431,675, with a present outstanding indebtedness of $1,145,000, leaving a bonding possibility of $1,286,675.

While general opinion among county officials has been that a heavy bond issue is the only proper means available, a decided opposition to that method has developed. At least two Supervisors, J. E. McGregor and F. P. Wilson, have expressed favor toward a direct tax with an assessed valuation of $50,000,000 to work upon the belief that 80 cents per $100 additional could be shouldered by the taxpayers for the purpose without creating a burden.

The county's rate last year was $6.20 and the direct-tax plan would make it approximately $7 next year. Estimates of the amount of money necessary and a full survey of the storm damage to highways and bridges will be filed with the board by County Surveyor Fulmor at the Monday session

FACES PRISON TERM AFTER FOUR YEARS

SANTA ANA, Feb. 25. — Posting $5000 bail for his release, Dennis Weaver of Garden Grove was at liberty today awaiting his hearing in Superior Court on a charge that he violated parole of the court. Two brothers of Weaver filed a $5000 property bond late yesterday to guarantee his appearance before Superior Judge E. J. Marks tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. The court is scheduled to determine whether the Garden Grove man who was arrested near Los Alamitos last Monday night on charges of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and resisting an officer violated terms of probation that was granted him in 1922. The probation was allowed in connection with Weaver's conviction of a grand-larceny charge. Should the court find that parole was violated Weaver is liable to summary removal to San Quentin for a term of from one to ten years for grand larceny, it was stated.

CITY MANAGERS TO MEET AT GLENDALE

GLENDALE, Feb. 25.—The program outlined for the monthly session of the City Managers division of the League of California Municipalities that meets here tomorrow, contains provision for the presentation of a plan for a summer school for those engaged in city administration in any of its branches. Speakers who are scheduled to discuss the proposal are Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California; H. J. Stonier, executive secretary of the University of Southern California, and Dr. A. R. Hatton, Councilman of Cleveland, Ohio. The morning session will be held at the office of City Manager J. W. Charleville in the City Hall, and the principal conference at luncheon in Oakmont Country Club.

HAS NEW PISCATORIAL TALE

Newport Beach Angler Lands Ten-Foot Pin Fish, Ribbon Fish and Rabbit Shark

NEWPORT BEACH, Feb. 25.—Three unique fish were brought ashore today by Rich "Shorty" Gunther, well-known local fisherman. Gunther has captured many unique sea prizes during his many years' fishing experience at Newport Beach but never before has he brought in three such queer specimens.

His catch consists of a pin fish, a ribbon fish and a rabbit shark. A channel cod, a small brilliant red fish with eyes as big as a dollar, lent color to the collection.

The pin fish captured by the Newport Beach fisherman is fully six feet in length yet it is no larger around than a lead pencil. Gunther declares the pin fish weighs less than three ounces. The ribbon fish is nearly thirty inches in length, nearly flat and about two inches wide it has an extremely small tail and is black in color. The rabbit shark, so named because of the shape of its head, is a highly colored fish. The specimen captured by Gunther is about fifteen inches in length. The shark is equipped with a stinger on its back and a long tail. It has extremely large fins.

All of the fish were caught in deep water, according to Gunther, who declared that his lines were set more than 1200 feet deep.

Gunther caught a sixteen-foot shark off the Newport Beach coast several months ago. The shark has been on exhibition for several months. Gunther plans to open an aquarium next summer to display many different kinds of deep-sea fish.

Crop Outlook in San Joaquin Valley Bright

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 25.—"The best season in fifteen years," declares the local weather man, referring to the season's total precipitation of 9.76 inches. Starting in November rains this season have come "just right," for cattle men, ranchers and fruit growers generally. As this section of the State is largely agricultural, prosperity for the farmers and livestock men reflects in every avenue of trade.

Thousands of acres are planted to grain, which for a number of years have been more or less idle owing to lack of rainfall. Now as far as the eye can reach the country is carpeted with a rich green, which later in the season should bring a return of gold to the growers.

Grazing conditions were never more favorable. There was no frost to damage Valencias which promise an exceptional crop for quantity and quality in April.

In fact the outlook is so bright that the cautious in speaking of it have their fingers "crossed" or "knock on wood," lest it should be spoiled.

SUSPECTED COPPER WIRE THIEVES CAUGHT

CORCORAN, Feb. 25.– The wholesale theft of copper wire stripped from poles near this city has been traced to C. L. Roamer and Fred Patilla, arrested in Bakersfield by Deputy Sheriff Hoskins of Kings county. In the Corcoran and Alpaugh districts seventeen transformers were wrecked for the copper they contained, some $1500 damage being done to secure $50 worth of copper. The arrested men are ex-convicts. After trial in Tulare county they will be brought to the Kings County Jail, their crimes having taken place in both counties.

SECOND SHIPMENT OF FUR BUNNIES IN

SAN DIMAS, Feb. 25.—Fifty-five head of fine English Angora rabbits arrived here today, direct from England, which will be added to the herd of breeding animals owned by the Angora Rabbit Products Company of this town. Many of these rabbits cost the company $150 apiece and are the finest examples of this breed obtainable. This English Angora is the famous wool-bearing variety, producing a heavy coat of white wool, from four to six inches in length. San Dimas is about to acquire a new claim to fame in becoming the center of the rabbit-wool farming industry in this country.

MOTORCYCLE RACE ENDS IN INJURY

GLENDALE, Feb. 25.—Attempts to stage a motorcycle speed contest in the old reservoir at East Maple street ended disastrously for Robert Sturgess, 508 East Cypress stret, who was thrown from his machine and injured when he and some of his friends tried to use the old tank for a race track. Police were notified that the race was in progress, and just when they were about to start for the reservoir, another message came telling them it had ended. Sturgess was taken to his home after a wound on his head had been dressed in a near-by drug store.

BELGIAN SCIENTIST VISITS MT. WILSON

PASADENA, Feb. 25.—Dr. H. Fredericq of the University of Liege, Belgium, was visiting scientists at the Mt. Wilson Observatory here today, as a part of a tour of educational and scientific institutions of this country which he is making. Fight to Break Judge Cox Will Based on Trust

SANTA ANA, Feb. 25.—The contest to break the will of Justice John B. Cox was taken under advisement today by Superior Judge Homer G. Ames after attorneys representing Mrs. Mary Cox-Emerson, daughter of the late jurist, and the Orange County Trust and Savings Bank, executor of a trust created under the will, had presented argument in connection with briefs filed earlier.

Former Dist.-Atty. A. P. Nelson, representing the bank, contended that the entire trust could not be set aside so long as any portion was valid. He referred to the objection to the will raised by the daughter whose contest is based upon the provision creating a trust that would pay the Cox heirs but $25 per month each from a $16,000 trust fund.

It was charged that this created a perpetual trust, even though this portion of the trust should be set aside. Nelson intimated the court should still uphold provisions of the will which bequeathed the widow a life interest in the estate. The court, said Nelson, was bound to consider the intent of the testator.

Replying, Attorney W. F. Menton stated that he had nothing to add to the statements contained in his brief, but called attention to certain authorities he had cited, as covering points raised by Nelson.

Another Kern Man Wins Oil Search Permit

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 25.—Rights to prospect for oil and gas on 160 acres of government land in the McKittrick oil fields near McKittrick, were awarded in a prospecting permit to Ralph N. Odell of Taft, at a United States Land Office drawing held in Visalia late yesterday. Mr. Odell was the second Taft man and the third resident of Kern county to win in the series of oil drawings conducted at Visalia and San Francisco Land Offices, where eight permits, covering 5901 acres of potential oil property, have been awarded since Monday. All of the land is in Kern fields with the exception of 600-acre permit in San Luis Obispo county, which was won in a San Francisco drawing yesterday afternoon by William H. Hoburg of San Francisco from among a group of thirty-nine applicants. In the McKittrich land drawing A. Joseph of Fresno was second and Roy Moore of Lindsay was third. A prospecting permit covering 120 acres in the Kittleman Hills area was won by W. R. Page of Corcoran during a second land drawing. R. F. Fristy of Napa and Ella J. Shelvy of Bakersfield were second and third.

ROMANCE OF NAVEL ORANGE TO BE TOLD

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 25.—Romance of the navel orange will be told in unique publicity planned by James Davis, secretary of the County Chamber of Commerce, who is sending out fruit from the parent tree to selected eastern trade centers. There are about two hunderd oranges from the famous tree, which Davis is packing in separate fancy wrappings. They will be displayed in such places as Wanamaker's store, New York; Marshall Field store, Chicago; the White House, Washington, and other places where the public will be attracted to view the fruit, read a brief history of the tree and see a photo of it. The tree from which Riverside's vast fortune in navels descended, is now more than 50 years of age, but bore a fair crop this year, which was exhibited at the National Orange Show at San Bernardino.

It is expected to practically be completed by late spring. Work on various features of the new improvement have been under way for some time, but formal announcement of the project has just been made to the local Chamber of Commerce. The local civic organization is supporting the undertaking in its various phases.

HAH! A BOOTLEGGER I BETCHA'!

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—After all, Policeman Novak was not so much to blame, for there is not much difference in the stench arising from the modern distillery and a garbage incinerator.

When he joined the police force he admitted he might not be so good tracing down murderers, but boasted he was a whang at nosing out an illegal still. Last week some hold-up men took his star and revolver from him and slapped his face, so Lieut. O'Brien thought it best to assign him to less dangerous work.

Yesterday afternoon Officer Novak was tramping down weeds on his "sticks" beat in the vicinity of Claering, when his nostrils were assailed by a powerful odor that could not be mistaken. It originated in a shed across the roadway, so Novak hastened to call Lieut. O'Brien and told him he had located a huge still and suggested raiding squads be sent out. Then he skirted carefully along the back of the great shed and peered in. It was the largest still he ever had seen—row after row of vats, all filled with steaming mash.

Came three auto loads of police raiders, machine guns, axes, picks, dynamite and tear bombs. On the other end of the wire Lieut. O'Brien waited anxiously for a report from the chief of the raiding staff. It came, presently.

"Where do we go from here?" asked the chief. "Officer Novak has just raided the Third District garbage incinerator and sludge reduction plant."

VOID TUMMY ENDS 'CAREER'

ALBANY (N. Y.) Feb. 25. (AP)—The runaway adventure of 15-year-old Kasia Mahoney ended late today in the executive mansion of Gov. Smith here. The girl, daughter of Supreme Court Justice Mahoney, was reunited with her mother, after she had been whisked to the Governor's residence from a police station at Cohoes, ten miles north of here, on orders of the Governor.

Kasia, who had been missing since last Monday, applied to the Cohoes police last night for food and lodging, giving a fictitious name. The police recognized her today from pictures in the morning papers. She finally acknowledged her identity and her parents were notified.

Gov. Smith, a close friend of Justice Mahoney, hearing that Kasia had been found, instructed Chief of Police King to bring her to the executive mansion to await the arrival of her mother.

At the Cohoes police station last night Kasia said her name was Margery Kendall, 17, of Mott street, New York City.

Today she told her reasons for running away from home. Inspired by a poem she had written about wanderlust, she said, and by a desire to find out if she could take care of herself without the aid of her parents, she rode to the city's outskirts on the subway and then started walking north.

She took only $2 with her, but several automobilists gave her rides and a "nice bootlegger" donated $3 to her funds.

"Did you take the bootlegger's name?" police asked her.

"Yes," she said, "but he was a nice bootlegger and he was very kind to me, and I do not want to get him into trouble or injure his business by giving his name."

She said she had enjoyed her outing, but was sorry that she had caused worry to her parents.

WEBB TO RULE ON DAM

Opinion Asked by Legislature on Board of Control Contract

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Senator Inman, Sacramento, who is a member of the joint legislative committee investigating the water resources of the State, announced today that a decision by Atty.-Gen. Webb on the legality of the contract entered into by the old Board of Control with Stephen E. Kieffer for the sale of a dam site near Folsom prison, is expected on Tuesday or Wednesday of next week.

Webb's opinion was asked by the committee when it began an investigation of the contract during the course of its review of the report submitted by State Engineer Bailey for co-ordinating the waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers. It is to cover all phases of the agreement from all possible angles.

Meanwhile the present Board of Control has declined to allow Kieffer a thirty-day extension in the time he must deposit $150,000 in cash and a $100,000 bond with the control board or allow his contract to lapse. This time expires next Friday. The extension was sought by A. J. Cleary, one of Kieffer's engineers.

WEBB RAPS OLD STATE WATER ROW

Immediate Action Urged by Attorney-General to Change Riparian Doctrine

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Immediate action by the present Legislature to change the riparian doctrine of water law of Califorinia was urged by Atty.-Gen. U. S. Webb today as a vital necessity, in a Statewide meeting here of representatives of irrigation districts.

"If the situation is to continue as it is no further development of agricultural land is possible," the Attorney-General declared. "Twelve million acres of irrigabe land in California would remain forever a desert.

"I feel that the present Legislature should devote itself seriously to this most gigantic question that ever confronted the people of California. If the Legislature can't do something in the sixty or ninety-day period it should stay longer. I believe that something can be done and something should be done. It has been delayed fifty years and I believe the time to act is now."

ASSAILS DECISION

The Attorney-General vigorously assailed the recent Herminghaus decision of the State Supreme Court, which was rendered under the riparian law. He declared that it had gone beyond any other interpretation of that old common law governing water in California.

"It gathered together all the baneful and hurtful elements of riparian laws and reaffirmed them. It holds that the right to use all of the waters of the State belong to the riparian owners, and that the riparians represent less than 10 per cent of the people of the State.

"The riparian doctrine came to the State by an act of the Legislature. This recent decision goes further than the famous decision of 1886 because it applies the riparian title to all flood waters. I feel that the riparian doctrine has been extended entirely beyond the limits of those who contemplated in making it a State law. The Herminghaus decision has reaffirmed the right of the landowner to sit on the banks of the stream and watch all the water flow by when he uses anly 2 per cent of it.

RESTRICTIONS URGED

"I believe that the riparian owner should be restricted to the beneficial use of water he can use by economical methods and operation.

He pointed out that the Herminghaus decision, like the Lux case decision of 1886, was rendered with close division of the State Supreme Court, in each case the vote being four to three.

Assemblyman Crittenden of Tracy, author of the proposed constitutional amendment to declare all waters of the State and their beneficial use a public utility, addressed the irrigationists on the history of the committee's activities and bespoke their aid in helping the committee to formulate some action that will bring a remedy to the water situation.

DOOR-TO-DOOR SALES OF DRINKS CHARGED

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 25. — Selling little drinks from door to door, out of bottles in a satchel which constituted a handy traveling bar, according to police, landed Joe A. Brown, negro chauffeur, in the Santa Monica jail. Evidence that this new bootleg form of the drummer's trade found customers was brought to light when a raid by Detective Sergeants Carrillo and Watson on Brown's room at 1820 Third street, netted a grip containing several empty bottles and one container with but half a pint remaining of stock in trade. Brown's bail was placed at $250, according to the police report.

BUSINESS BUILDINGS NOW IN FIRE ZONE

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 25. — All business buildings in Santa Monica were placed in a fire zone by the City Commissioners today, whether or not they are located in previously fire-zoned territory. The ordinance requires brick, concrete or stucco construction; and underlying the measure, commissioners and city planners say, is the need of protecting the city against the necessity of issuing permits for buildings that will later be found out of place in rapidly developing sections.

SIMS TELLS OF WAR BLUNDERS

Rear-Admiral Flays Daniels in Current Article

Navy Secretary Nearly Lost Allies Victory, He Says

Late President Wilson Also Draws Criticism

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The United States Navy was so mishandled by Secretary of the Navy Daniels during the World War, so many mistakes, delays and blunders were perpetrated, that the war was nearly lost to the Allies, according to an article on "How We Nearly Lost the War," by Rear-Admiral William S. Sims in World's Work.

Admiral Sims charges Mr. Daniels with opposing the convoy system, and with delaying the dispatch of anti-submarine vessels.

"Mr. Daniels's handling of the Navy during the first very critical months after our declaration of war," writes Admiral Sims, "was so ignorantly contrary to the established principles of warfare as to result in great losses of time, property and life, and his record shows him to be utterly untrustworthy as a historian."

LESSON SET OUT

Admiral Sims has been impelled to write his article, he says, by the desire to show that it was not by the brilliant efforts of amateur strategists that the war was won, but that it was won in spite of such efforts, and that the lesson should be known and borne in mind by the people of the United States against the time of another such possible conflict.

He recalls that recently Mr. Daniels stated in an article on "Wilson—Master Strategist," that President Wilson always advocated the convoy policy, which Admiral Sims says was only reluctantly adopted by Mr. Daniels after it had been urged repeatedly by the English naval authorities. He also quotes President Wilson in a speech on the flagship Pennsylvania in the summer of 1917 as saying that he was willing to sacrifice half of the navies of Great Britain and the United States to crush the submarine nest.

"This is master strategy with a vengeance," writes Admiral Sims. "If the crushing had succeeded at the cost of half the fleets that would have left the German fleet in command of the sea and insured the defeat of the Allies.

"This question was thoroughly discussed before the Allied Naval Council and Admiral Mayo, who commanded the Atlantic fleet during the war, reported to the Navy Department: 'Consider full examination of difficulties will show impossibility of success.' As this opinion was not that of an amateur, it naturally did not impress our civilian strategists. They suggested blocking German naval ports by sinking in the channels ships filled with concrete. The British offerred to undertake the operation if the United States would sacrifice the number of older men-of-war necessary to supplement about twice the number of ships Great Britain would supply. Nothing more was heard of the proposition."

DANGEROUS DIRECTION

"In times when the administrative heads of governments possessed military training and held their positions by force of arms," writes the admiral in discussing the reasons for the faulty strategy pursued by this country at the outset of the war, "it was logical for them to determine both the policy and strategy of warfare; but when the administrative officials can make no pretense to military knowledge, such direction is not only unjustifiable but likely to be very dangerous.

"In the late war it unfortunately happened that our Navy Department, with a civilian, Josephus Daniels, as its dictatorial head, so guided the American naval effort that no naval assistance whatever reached the Allies during the first four weeks."

Rabbit Starts Diamond Race Ahead of Gun

CAPETOWN (South Africa) Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The largest diamond rush in the history of South Africa today was declared void owing to the runners starting before the pistol.

Seventeen thousand runners lined up, including two championship holders from Australia, students, women and bank clerks. Two hundred policemen were unable to check the rush, which was finished and many claims were pegged before it could be declared off.

It was stated that the reason for the premature rush was that a hare ran along the line and a few men started in pursuit. The rest followed and the race was on, unofficially. It was announced that the rush would be run again.

GADD SUIT PLAINTIFFS REST CASE

Landowners Score Point in Action for Recovery of $68,000 in Warrants

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) Landowners of Reclamation District No. 1001, plaintiffs in a suit in Superior Court to recover $68,000 in warrants from Peter R. Gadd, former secretary of the State Reclamation Board, and Charles F. Metteer, Sacramento attorney, which were given them for services rendered in collecting a claim from the Reclamation Board, rested their case today.

The landowners scored a point when Attorney Chester, their counsel, brought out while questioning trustees of the reclamation district that the trustees never would have contracted with Gadd and Metteer to collect the claim had they been "fully informed of the true status of affairs." The claim was for construction of levees in the district.

F. E. Fitzpatrick, president of the district's board of trustees, testified that an assessment of $40,500, the original estimate for levee work which later amounted to $160,000, already had been made on the reclamation district lands before the contract was made with Gadd and Metteer and that if he had known this he would not have entered into the contract with the two men.

G. A. Wessing, another trustee, preceded Fitzpatrick on the stand and declared that he thought the assessment of $40,500 had been spread over the entire assessable acreage in the district, amounting to 400,000 acres, and that if he had known the assessment was made on only a portion of the district he would have balked at the contract. David U. Finch, the third trustee, asserted that he was informed by Metteer that the trustees should employ Gadd to help present the claim to the Reclamation Board, inasmuch as Gadd enjoyed a "pull" with that body.

All of this testimony, according to the plaintiffs, is in substantiation of the plea that the $68,000 fee given Gadd and Metteer was not only excessive but the landowners were left "holding the sack" for that amount, inasmuch as the warrants now will be assessed back upon the landowners in the district and will have to be paid by them anyway. This is because the levee improvement work was purely of a local nature and affected no one else.

Battling Nelson Faces Prison on Larceny Charge

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Oscar (Battling) Mathew Nelson, the famed durable Dane of Hegewish, Ill., former world's lightweight champion and one of pugilism's outstanding characters, tonight was under psychopathic observation with a charge of grand larceny hanging over his ring-battle-scarred head.

NEW HOPKINS ESTATE FIGHT

Complaint Charges Concealment of Millions of Dollars From Railroad Magnate's Heirs

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—A new contest over the vast estate of Mark Hopkins, pioneer railroad builder, was filed in the United States District Court here today in behalf of more than 300 claimants to the Hopkins fortune, who are scattered throughout thirty States.

The defendants are Timothy Nolan Hopkins, who is set forth in the complaint as an adopted son of the magnate, and Samuel Hopkins, grand nephew, both of San Mateo, the Wells Fargo Bank and Union Trust Company and the Crocker First National Bank of San Francisco and the California National Bank of Sacramento.

The complaint charges fraudulent concealment of extensive assets, mounting into millions of dollars, and asks an inventory, accounting and new distribution.

Most of the claimants reside in North Carolina and in other Southern States.

Mark Hopkins died intestate on March 3, 1878. Letters of administration were granted to the widow, but she was later removed and succeeded by a brother, Moses Hopkins, who served until 1883, when a final distribution was effected. The complaint charges that the estate was distributed without the knowledge of four brothers and three sisters, and that there was never a legal determination of the heirs.

The complaint further avers that several millions in undistributed assets are in the vaults of the defendant banks.

Recently a contest to establish a supposed will of Mark Hopkins was dismissed in the San Francisco Superior Court upon a showing that the will was fraudulent.

CARDINAL HAYES DEPLORES FILTH

Declares Obscenity of Stage and Clubs Alarming

Says Moral Freedom Tends to Lower Standards

Time Has Arrived When Law Should Take Hand

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Cardinal Hayes today deplored obscenity on the stage, in night clubs and in literature, and also immodesty in dress. He gave his views to Louis Seibold of the New York Evening Post.

"It is sometimes alarming to realize that after all the money spent for education to reach higher moral standards, the so-called liberal freedom now acclaimed by many persons has resulted in the lowering of them," he said.

"Vulgar plays, obscene literature and immodesty in the dress affected by many young women are instances that come to mind. Basically the young men and women of today are just as sound morally as they were a century ago. Some of them have been led away by appeals to vanity to venture beyond the confines of harmless frivolity."

CHRISTIANITY REMEDY

Their return to proper influences, the cardinal suggested, "can be accomplished by directing the attention of our boys and girls to the need and helpful benefits of Christianity."

Touching on police censorship of the Broadway stage, the cardinal declared it a "sad commentary on the intelligent civilization of our day" that renders necessary the threat of force to suppress immorality in any form.

While, he said, official censorship of the stage may have become a necessity, "our moral sense, the laws of decency and good taste" should suffice to correct immorality without resource to police power.

"I believe that public opinion is the greatest corrective in civilization when backed by a truly Christian spirit, but public opinion is sometimes slow in making itself felt and its omission necessitates organized effort backed by official authority."

WHOLESOME AT HEART

Comparing theatrical conditions in New York with other cities, Cardinal Hayes suggested Broadway "might borrow a lesson from Boston and Philadelphia, where such plays as those now being denounced here by the clergy, press and civic organizations are prohibited."

He defended New York, however, as "at heart as wholesome and noble as any community in the world."

"If the limited few offenders in the theatrical profession—for there are a great many Christian-spirited men engaged in it—persist in challenging the ordinary rules of decency, and even go so far as to outrage elementary morality, the time has been reached when the laws should step in.

"The vast majority of men and women in our own and other communities prefer clean, healthy and decent plays to other forms of diversion that are now shocking this community."

Obregon Hints at Candidacy in Visit to Capital

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Gen. Obregon, former President, arrived here today from his Sonora ranch, wearing his favorite worn leather coat. He was met at the station by members of the Calles Cabinet and other high civil and military officers.

"I am here on personal business and to attend the opening of the Industrial and Transport Bank March 5," he said. "I will remain fifteen days."

It generally is supposed he is here primarily in connection with the next Presidential campaign but he was reticent on this point.

"I do not know of any special political agitation," he said. "I have been at my ranch where politics does not penetrate. When the proper time comes I will break my silence as the antielectionists already have done."

This is taken to mean that he will be a candidate. If he is not, it is expected, he will be prominent as a supporter of Gen. Francisco R. Serrano, his chief partisan.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Dr. Carlton W. He is accused of employing "hawkers" or "steerers" to stimulate business in violation of the State Medical Practices Act. Dr. Paull, according to Secretary Pinkham, formerly practiced in Los Angeles.

HORSES FOR SEA DOGS RANKLES

Lefts in Reichstag Opposed to Furnishing Mounts for Marine Corps

BERLIN, Feb. 25. (Exclusive) The question of Germany's naval forces being horse marines was brought up by the budget committee in the Reichstag, the parliamentary Lefts demanding to know why the 250 horses should be owned by sea dogs.

The same political group also is disgruntled because the Royal Yacht Club, which still is under a protectorate of the ex-Kaiser, carries names of a number of active naval officers on its roll of membership.

These questions were considered in a more serious light than a 40 per cent increase in the cost of construction of the cruisers over last year's figures, which adds millions to the budget.

Four crack quarter-milers of about equal ability are entered. They are Capt. Lawrence Babcock, Emerson Spencer, junior national A. A. U. champion; Boby Syer and Tom McGuire. The

The race was a battle from the starting gun to the finish gun. Off to a smart get-away at 1 o'clock sharp, the Pirate and Debra tacked up the breakwater in the lead with the Galliano and Al Christie's new Heather sailing along easily right astern. It was evident that the "Pat" was too light for the weather, as she gradually fell behind, although battling gamely. The big surprise was the poor showing of Arthur Rousseau's Ace of San Francisco right in her own wind. The Ace had a sloppy suit of canvas, for one thing, and she rapidly fell back, but finished fourth, seventeen minutes and thirty seconds

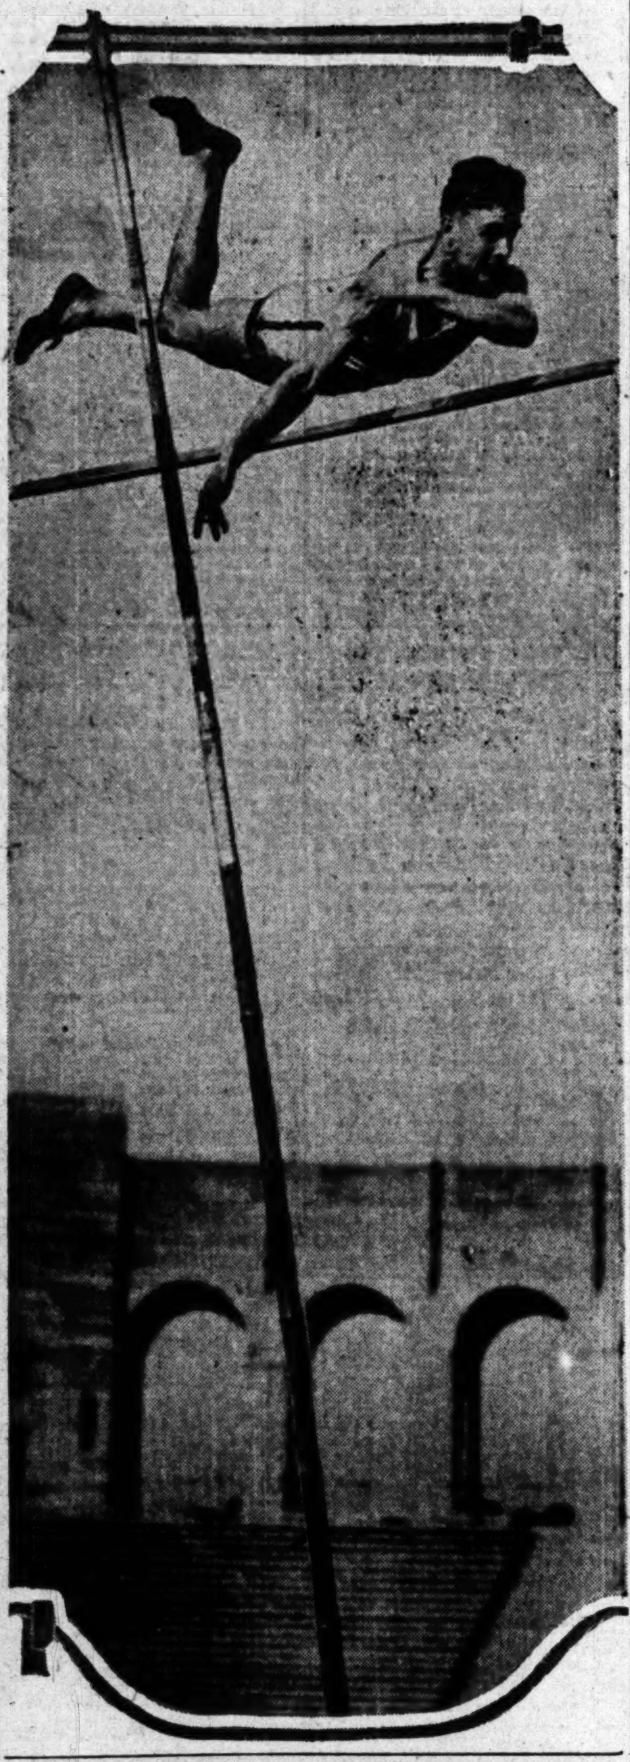
He is scheduled to sail over the bar today aboard his trusty bamboo pole in the A.A.U. relay carnival in the Coliseum along with a flock of other competent pole vaulters. Barnes is favored to win.

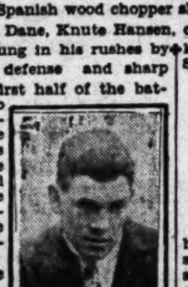


PAULINO WHIPS HANSEN

Spanish Wood Chopper Carries Off Decision Over Hansen in Ten-Round New York Bout

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—The bull-necked, squat figure of Paulino Uzcudun leaped into the heavyweight spotlight tonight when the Spanish wood chopper slashed his way to a ten-round victory over the willowy Dane, Knute Hansen, of Wisconsin.

Baffled and stung in his rushes by Hansen's clever defense and sharp left jab in the first half of the battle, Paulino staged a smashing rally in the last five rounds to offset the Dane's early lead and carry off the unanimous decicion of the judges and referee.



PAOLINO

The courage and aggressiveness of the thickset Spaniard, accompanied by an unceasing two-fisted rushing attack, wore down Hansen's defense in a bruising, exciting contest that kept the crowd of 13,0000 in Madison Square Garden in constant uproar.

It wasn't an overwhelming victory for Paulino, but it was decisive enough to put the Spaniard in the ranks of heavyweight contenders and establish him, in his New York debut, as the most colorful aspirant who has sought the title since Luis Angel Firpo.

Paulino revealed himself as a crude boxer, but also as a tremendously strong, willing and rushing slugger, able to absorb punishment without giving ground. His picturesque bobbing and swinging style quickly caught the fancy of the crowd. He was cheered to the echo as he fought his way steadily to victory in the last five rounds and responded to the cheers at the finish by doing

CARD TOSSERS BATTLE BEARS

Palo Alto Gy mto be Scene of Crucial Clash

BERKELEY, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Depending largely on the superior speed of his smooth-working University of California quintet, Coach "Nibs" Price will send his outfit over to the Palo Alto gymnasium tomorrow night in hopes of winning the southern division championship of the Pacific Coast Conference. The Bears won the first game with the Cards decisively and if they win again tomorrow a third game will not be necessary.

"NIBS" PRICE.

Stanford employed a speedy, reckless offense to drive into the lead in the early minutes of last Friday night's contest. It was California's sustained speed, however, that put the Golden Bears on the husky end of the score. If speed is to prove so profitable, his "Nibs" wants to be in on the dividends.

While Price will start the same men that have once whipped Stanford to the satisfaction of the most avid California fan, news reaching here from Palo Alto hints of a change in the Cardinal line-up. Vincenti, it appears, will be replaced by Biaggini at running guard. The other guard post will be handled by Ned Anderson, with Wally Jayred, one of the strongest sponsors of the Red cause, at center. The forward positions will be taken up by McCandless, formerly a prep star at Inglewood High School, and Bryant.

Approximately 1000 California students will flivver to the Stanford gym for the battle, which may be the last one of the annual "big series," although three are scheduled. Should the Bears win, as the records of the contending teams indicate they will, the decision as to playing a third game will rest wholly with Stanford.

ATHLETIC BOARD TO CUT DOWN TICKETS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Restricting managers of main-bout boxers to 100 tickets apiece, the State Athletic Commission today stopped one hole in the ticket sieve througn which more than $100,000 is estimated to have been shaken down into the hands of Maloney-Delaney fight speculators.

This limitation represents a cut of close to 90 per cent in the liberal allotments made by Tex Rickard to Dan Carroll, manager of the Boston heavyweight, and Pete Reilly, pilot of Delaney. Together they received almost 2000 tickets.

OREGON AGGIE CAGE TEAM BEATS HUSKIES

CORVALLIS (Or.) Feb. 25. (AP)—Before a crowd of 3700 persons, the Oregon Agricultural College basketball team swept the University of Washington aside as a conference contender tonight by a score of 31 to 27. The Aggies secured their lead in the last half after Washington had led 15 to 14 at the end of the first half.

MAHONEY FIGHT SET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Jimmy Maloney's next fight tentatively has been fixed for the first week in April, when he will fulfill a long-deferred engagement with Johnny Risko at Cleveland, Dan Carroll, manager of the Boston heavyweight, said today.

BABE RUTH DENIES HE SENT SALARY ULTIMATUM TO YANKS

"BABE" RUTH.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Babe Ruth hasn't delivered any ultimatum to Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, on the publication of the big hitter's 1927 salary demands. This announcement came from the Yankee offices today after receipt of a telegram from Ruth's business manager, denying that the Babe had issued the threat reported in Los Angeles yesterday.

The message from Ruth, according to Ed Barrow, club secretary, said the slugger was working "night and day" to finish his motion-picture work in order to hurry back East for a conference on terms. He is expected here by next Wednesday, Barrow said.

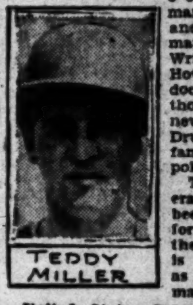
Meanwhile Ruth's much-discussed letter has not been received, but even if it does arrive Yankee officials intend to withhold any statements until Ruth arrives.

MIDWICK RIDERS WIN TILT

Defeat Hugh Drury's San Mateo Four in Easy Manner by 11-to-5 Score

Four youthful Midwick polo players led by Teddy Miller, Jr., showed very little respect for age and none for the reputation of the veteran mallet wielder, Hugh Drury, yesterday afternoon in a game played on the club field at Alhambra.

The Midwick youngsters soundly trounced Drury's San Mateo Blue team by a 11-to-5 score in a most convincing manner. Miller and his teammates, Ed Vail, Wrightaman and Howland Paddock, rode as though they had never heard of Drury and his fame on the polo field.



TEDDY MILLER

The old veteran, who has been over forty years in the saddle and is still ranked as a five-goal man by the United States Polo Association, played a fair sort of a game, but nothing he showed yesterday compared with the playing of the Midwick men. Drury lived up to his reputation at one department of the game, however, and that was at taking a spill from his pony. The old veteran, who is good for at least one spill a game, took a header from his mount just before the first period ended. He picked himself up without any assistance and announced that nothing had been broken other than his helmet.

The game was a runaway from the

De Paolo Clashes With Hartz After Argument at Culver Bowl

After smoldering for months, vivid Italian epithets boiled out of Peter De Paolo, the renowned Italian race pilot, on the head of Harry Hartz, the debonair A.A.A. racing champion, at the Culver City Speedway late yesterday. Race officials had to grab the two noted aces when they lunged for each other.

Peter De Paolo

Members of the racing fraternity had known for months of the bitter feeling between De Paolo and Hartz since the American pilot defeated the Italian during the 1926 racing season on the big tracks, winning the championship crown held by De Paolo for his victories in the previous year.

Struggling to free themselves from the grasp of the officials, Hartz and De Paolo bitterly arraigned each other, with the Italian spouting like a miniature Vesuvius as he attacked Hartz's ability as a great racing driver.

Both of the famous drivers were out at the track working on their costly racing mounts in preparation for the 250-mile championship classic set for March 6 at the big bowl. Their pits were at opposite ends of the long straight-away in front of the main grand stand, but mechanicians said they came together when De Paolo had to walk up the track to ask Fred J. Wagner, official starter, some question about the qualifying trials set for next week.

ST. MARY'S AND CARD NINES CLASH TODAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Feb. 25. (AP)—Fortified by a 10-2 victory in the first meeting, St. Mary's baseball squad clashes with Stanford again tomorrow in the second interscholastic league encounter of the season.

STECHER BEATS HANSON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25. (AP) — Joe Stecher, claimant of the world's heavyweight wrestling title, wrapped his famous scissors legs around Charley Hanson, Washington grappler, here last night and won the match in two out of three falls. Hanson threw Stecher once with a headlock.

DE HATE WINS OVER LEVINE ON FOUL IN LEGION FIGHT

Going into the tenth round even, Georgie Levine fouled Paul DeHate with a low right-hand wallop, and Referee Freddie Gilmore awarded DeHate the decision in the main event at Hollywood last night. DeHate crumpled on the floor after the blow and an examination in his corner showed evidence of a low blow having been struck.

PAUL DE HATE

DeHate won the first two rounds and scored a knockdown over Levine in the second round for a count of four. A hard right-hand wallop to the head knocked Levine dizzy. Levine came back to outbox his opponent, winning the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh in a row, but DeHate's smashing right-hand punches won him the ninth and tenth and once more put the bout on an even basis. With the tenth round deciding the fight, Levine's low punch gave DeHate the decision.

Georgie Gordon was awarded a decision in the third round of the semifinal, when Pat Corbett was disqualified for butting with his head. Corbett cut Gordon's eye in the second round and when he continued the same tactics in the third round the fight was stopped and Gordon awarded the go.

Willie Brown copped a six-round decision over Kid Ponce in six rounds. Sandy Garrison won over Joe Arcinega in four rounds and Pat McGrath was awarded a four-round decision over Goldie Hess in the opener.

GRANGE PICKS HEROINE

Red Grange kicked a field goal yesterday by inducing Charley Pyle to sign Jobyna Ralston to play the girl role in the auto-race film story in which the famed youth is to make his second appearance as a motion-picture star. It developed that Red has long had an appraising eye on the pretty girl who was Harold Lloyd's chief support for many years.

BRUINS BATTLE POETS TONIGHT

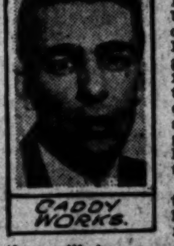
Rival Basketball Teams Hook Up at Whittier

Victory for Quakers to Give Calland's Boys Title

Works Shifts His Line-up in Effort to Win

BY K. SABA

Aroused as only a small town can arouse itself, Whittier turns out en masse tonight to watch Leo Calland's tossers endeavor to make it two straight wins over the Bruins of the University of California at Los Angeles. The game is billed for 8:15 p.m., the frosh squads of the two institutions mingling in a preliminary encounter.



CADDY WORKS.

If the Whittier College athletes win tonight's contest, they will be rewarded with the Southern Conference championship. If the Bruins triumph, the two teams will tie for the title. The Poets won the first of the two-game series Tuesday night, 31 to 22, and are therefore favored to win this evening.

Two other games are billed, the three contests officially closing the Southern Conference season. Pomona plays at Occidental and Caltech goes to Redlands. The Pomona frosh meet the Oxy babes in a preliminary tilt at Eagle Rock. If the Sagechicks win this game they will cop the conference frosh title.

Calland is perfectly satisfied with the line-up, which won from the Bruins Tuesday night. This means that Bill Suckadorf and Barmore will open at the forward berths with Willard (Speed) Weaver, the sophomore sensation, at center. Capt. Tom Denney and Clem Reece will hold down the guard positions. If Reece and Denney play as strong defensive ball as they did early in the week it's hard to see how the Bruins can win.

It is said that Caddy Works plans to start Bunche at guard in place of Blum. Somebody let the Poets get too many set-up shots at the Olympic Auditorium. In our opinion much of the blame fell on Milo Young, Bruin center, but it is said that Works thinks Bunche will be able to put a stop to such goings on.

Thrilling Finish in Relay Gives L. A. High Track Performers Victory in Me

ROMAN CINDER TEAM COLLECTS

L. A. High Runners Win Over Jefferson 57-47

Relay Gives Pioneers First Place in Contest

Hirschman, Cooke Feature in Cinder Gallops

Ed Rick

Coach Ed Rich produced a clever flock of athletes to win a track-and-field meet from Jefferson High School yesterday. The L. A. High Romans romped away with a 57-47 victory in a spectacular manner. Frank Lombardi's lead of about a yard and a half over West in the last lap of the eight-man mile relay being the margin of victory.

The relay putting the finishing touches on a highly spectacular meet. The Romans had established, and maintained a lead of varying proportions from the first event, but the Democrats took all three places in the broad jump, to go into the lead, 42 to 39. Nims then won the pole vault at 11ft.—he never had cleared more than 10ft. 4in. before in his career—and the Romans crept up to 46-44 points.

Welhe and Smith, both sporting the Blue and White of L.A. High, tied for first in the high jump, and Rich's squad went into the lead, 52-47. A victory in the relay would have given Jefferson a tie for the meet.

Smith, of the Romans, gave his squad a slight advantage in the first furlong, and Jordan regained it for Jefferson. Some bad baton passing by the Romans enabled Johnson to add on a bit to the Democrats' lead, and Clifton, Ray and Monroe managed to stay in front, although King gained on the former. Frank Houck fought his way to a tie with Driver with a spectacular burst of speed, and Lombardi nosed out West in the final lap to give the Romans the victory. There was some mention that Lombardi had fouled West, cutting in front of the colored runner before he was a full stride in front, but the Jefferson officials did not protest.

The best exhibition of the afternoon were turned in by Jefferson runners. Hirschman ran a well-planned mile to win in the extra good time of 4m. 47s., while Cooke lofted the shot 46ft. 5 1-2in. The summary.

880-yard run—Won by Williams (L.A.,) Mass (J.) second, Foote (L.A.) third. Time, 2m. 8 5-10s.

100-yard run—Won by Creasy (J.,) Lombardi (L.A.) second, Driver (J.) third. Time, 10 4-10s.

Mile run—Won by Hirschman (J.,) Hayworth (L.A.) second, Schmidt (L.A.) third. Time, 4m. 47s.

OBSERVATIONS
BILL HENRY

THE Bruins of U.C. at L.A. get their crack at two conference titles today, the basketball championship at Whittier and the tennis championship at Occidental. Both of these titles have been held by the Bruins for half a dozen years practically without exception. Strangely enough, in their last year as members of the local conference, the two titles which they have regarded as their private property for such a long period of time, are more seriously threatened than is customary, which is considerably annoying to folks about to step out of the league in which they have been performing and going on to bigger and better opportunities.

The basketball title this evening is already half gone since Whittier has already won one of the two games and can't get worse than a tie for the title even if the Bruins win. Prospects for a Bruin victory are a little better on the strength of the comparative showings of the Bruins and Tigers against California this week. U.C.L.A. won the second singles and the first and second doubles against California while the Tigers won the first and second singles and lost everything else. The big match of the day is the first doubles, which counts 2 points and the Bruins seem to have a good edge here.

The University of Southern California track team seems to be destined to show the world this afternoon for the first time in 1927 in the A.A.U relays. The Trojans have an exceptional galaxy of talent and ought to run away from everybody on the strength of their reputation if nothing else. Chief competition for the Trojans will probably come from the various athletic club teams which are growing stronger every year and which eventually threaten to become serious competitors for the big local institution on the cinders.

Reports that several of the Detroit Millionaires are going to stick around out here and strengthen up the Winter Garden Maroons for the second half of the local pro hockey season, are greeted with yelps of delight. The Maroon team which has been playing has suffered so much from weakness in one or two spots that it pretty nearly spoiled the league. The Detroit boys will make it a genuine three-team league with lots of class all around.

if there are those who don't know what he looks like in a track suit. Borah will carry No. 105 on his back.

The two teams tangle again one hour later in the 880 relay, each man running 220 yards. The world's record for the 440-yard relay is 41.6s., for 880 yards, it is 1m. 26.8s. It is unlikely that either will be broken today.

Paddock and Borah are among those entered in the open 100-yard dash, but each man will probably save himself for the relays.

The first event on the program is the four-man, four-mile relay, in which the Los Angeles Athletic Club is favored to retain the title won last year. This is one of the best races on the menu and should not be overlooked.

BARNES AFTER MARK

The special events, such as hurdles, broad jumps, high jump and pole vault should see spirited competition. Lee Barnes is all set for the leap of his career in the altitude test, having been considerably nettled by Sabin Carr's feat in boosting himself to a height of 13ft. 9 1-4in. This is slightly better than the outdoor mark, which Barnes established at Palo Alto last spring, so Lee wants to do 13ft. 10in. or better today.

Following are the Southern California records for events on today's program:

start for the Midwick team. Miller led off by grabbing two goals for his team before the contest was three minutes old. Howland Paddock added another to this and the procession began. In the second session Wrightsman and Paddock grabbed another goal apiece, and Vail, Miller and Wrightsman kept adding to the score until they had run up 11 points.

The San Mateo team did not get into the scoring column until the last half of the game. George Pop, riding in No. 2 position, got two goals in the fifth and sixth period, Drury got two in the seventh and eighth chukkers and Walsh one in the last inning. Drury and his teammates put up a better game in the last half of the tilt. The Midwick riders, however, took great pleasure in riding Drury off most of the time, much to his discomfort.

The San Mateo team will meet another Midwick four in a special match game at the Alhambra field tomorrow.

HEATHER SHOWS STUFF

Edson Schock's new Heather finally came up to the promises of her designer and sailed a neat race until forced out of the going when a shroud carried away. Lee and his crew handled the snappy Pirate to perfection and in a slightly lighter breeze she would have whipped the fleet. As it was she gave the Debra a battle royal and is now in the lead for the Lee trophy with six points.

Churchill's Galliano was a pleasant surprise. With her owner at the tiller she sailed a fine race and came near clipping the Pirate, finishing one minute and ten seconds after Lee's craft to cop third place. The Galliano is almost a duplicate of the Pirate, being designed by L. E. (Ted) Geary of Seattle this year.

R'S RACE TODAY

The second race of the series is scheduled for this afternoon at 1 o'clock. Both the breakwater and Point Firmin cliffs furnish an ideal point of advantage to view the races as the sloops beat up to the Point Firmin buoy and then run back down the coast.

H. B. Warren ably handled the regatta in the capacity of chairman with the ever-reliable Fred Bosbyshell as official timer and judge.

The results:

	Start.	Finish.	Place.	Pts.
Pirate	1:00:00	3:12:05	1st	8

GOLFERS REACH FINALS TODAY

Statz and Moser Clash for San Gabriel Title

Mixed Foursome to Conclude Play Tomorrow

Entries for Midwinter Due at Beverly Today

BY BILL WISE

Allen Moser, Wilshire youngster, yesterday defeated David Martin of Rio Hondo, Southern California junior champ, 4 and 3, to go into the finals of the title flight in the annual invitational golf tournament being staged by the San Gabriel Country Club.

Alan Moser

Arnold Statz of San Gabriel, club champion — and one of the best amateur golfers in Southern California, won from Tex Schramm, a club mate, 6 and 5, and will play Moser thirty-six holes today for the invitational championship.

Moser started after his youthful opponent from the first tee and through nine holes of air-tight golf, picked up four holes. Martin struggled gamely to cut through the damaging lead piled up before the turn, but Moser, playing well from the inside, managed to coast home in fine style. The match yesterday was between two of the most promising golfers in the West. Both are still in their "teens" and smack out an assortment of shots that would be a credit to any exponent.

Earl Neitzel, third youth to star in the present play, defeated C. M. Kellogg, his San Gabriel president, 2 and 1, in a closely contested second flight setto. G. G. Arbogast won from Lee Mead, 5 and 3, and will play Neitzel for second bracket honors today.

Ralph Ahrens and Willard George, Lakeside golfers, were forced to carry through to the home green before winning. Ahrens headed E. B. Plank, in the third flight, while George copped the nod in his eighth flight match with G. H Wood.

Championship flight finals will be thirty-six holes, starting at 10 o'clock this morning. All other finalists will play but eighteen holes. There are still starting times available for the two-ball mixed foursome tourney, tomorrow The San Gabriel course, always a most enjoyable test, is in fine condition and a field of more than 100 entrants—representative men and women golfers from all local clubs—should tee off in the alternate-shot affair.

Semifinal results yesterday, were as follows:

MIDWINTER ENTRANTS WILL BE PAIRED TODAY

Pairings for the annual midwinter invitational, opening at the Los Angeles Country Club, Monday, will be drawn today. Post entries will be accepted at the first tee Monday, but many nationally famous visiting women stars have already signed for the classic and at the present writing, the field seems sure to exceed the number attracted by the play last year.

Despite the fact that Mrs. Melvin Jones, Mrs. Fred C. Letts, Jr., Mrs. Lee Mida, Mrs. A. C. Fargo, Miss Marion Hollins and many other representative golfers have signed for the play, Miss Kathleen Wright of Flintridge, playing the best golf of her career at present, will have more than an outside chance of copping the midwinter crown—in the event that Miss Margaret Cameron, present title-holder, fails to successfully defend her championship. Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Southern California champ; Mrs. George M. Lewis, State titlist; Mrs. Dan Jones—and at least six more fine local golfers will also figure in the final result—materially.

PATTON CAPTURES CORONADO TITLE

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 25.—E. K. Patton, navy golfer, is the new amateur champion of the Coronado Country Club.

Patton today defeated T. E. Sharp, southpaw star of the home club, 4 and 3, in the thirty-six-hole finals of the annual tournament staged under the direction of Bob Simpson, golf professional.

The navy golfer turned in a 76 for the morning round, and had Sharp 4 down at the half-way mark.

Starting out the afternoon they battled even for nine holes and then Sharp won the tenth, to be 3 down. They halved the next two and then Patton, making a fine recovery from a high bunker, won the thirteenth to be 4 up again. The next two were halved and it was over.

E. S. Harrison, Minneapolis golfer, won the defeated eight of the title flight, defeating F. J. Walters of La Jolla, 4 and 3.

RABBIT PUNCHES
BY PAUL LOWRY

WEB EDWARDS, who played quarterback on the Oregon Aggie football teams the past three years, is the author of a very interesting letter in which he calls attention to an unusual spring training situation at his university. A week from today two Schissler coached teams will clash in a regular game at Corvallis. One will be an alumni team made of the regulars from the 1926 eleven and the other will be the outfit which will represent the Aggies on the gridiron next fall.

This is an unusually unique situation. Alumni teams have been gathered together before, but it is doubtful if you can find a parallel in which practically the entire team of the year before became alumni at the same time. The 1926 Aggie team was the one that tied Washington State College, victorious over the University of Washington, champs in 1925, and was ranked as a Coast winner until U.S.C. put the skids under them. Here's what Edwards has to say about the game next Saturday:

"The match will find one Schissler team, using the original Schissler system, pitted against another Schissler team, using the new style that the Aggie mentor has adopted this spring. The old men will use the Notre Dame shift and most of their last year's plays, while the new men will use the long and short punt formation that Schissler has adopted to replace the shift, and the new plays that O.A.C. is working on for next fall.

"The line-up that would start for the 'has-beens,' would be the same that has started practically all Aggie games for the last two years; Dal Ward and Ole Robbins, ends; Jim Dixon and Hip Dickerson, tackles; Hal Liebe and Bien Olmstead, guards; Slim Balcom, center; Web Edwards, quarter; Wes Schulmerich, full; and Red Deman and Ev. Jarvie, halfbacks. In reserve they would have George Plumb and Roy Richert, guards of the 1925 team; Swede Wermark, alternate center in 1926, and Mix Grider, halfback of 1926. All of these men are in school, but have played their allotted years of varsity football."

In announcing his split with Jock Malone, the St. Paul boxing jester, Tom Walsh, is nothing if not original. Here's what he says about no longer being the "Master Mind" who directs the fistic destinies of Jock:

"The difference of opinion as to the way the game should be played has won and lost many a game; difference of opinions in the way a jockey should ride his horse has won and lost many a race; and the difference of opinions as to how the game is played has caused Jock Malone and I to sever our business connections. Therefore, I am no longer the 'Master Mind' over the St. Paul boxer.

"After five years of successful action in the ring, we find that our business policies are vastly different and as the conditions would not allow any compromise, we could only do what the two knights did when they met at the cross-roads; each go our own way. There is nothing personal in this as the boxing game has now become a business and present-day business methods must be used to accomplish success."

William Wheeler, the only white-haired gentleman in The Times art department, has served notice on Lou Daro that hereafter he will not appear at any of the portly wrestling entrepreneur's shows unless he equips his Masked Marvels with galluses. William was distressed when the Masked Marvel's tights began to slip the other night and hurried away with his lady fair before the conclusion of the bout, when it became apparent that a catastrophe was in sight. In the rush for the exits Bill forgot his hat and his lady her pocketbook. These items have been included in a bill for damages sent to Brother Daro.

BATTLER TO UNDERGO TEST FOR HIS SANITY

CHICAGO, Feb. 25. (AP)—Battling Nelson was ordered to the Psychopathic Hospital today for examination.

RAILROAD SPONSORS ATHLETIC PROGRAM

The Union Pacific Athletic Club, an organization made up of railroad employees, is planning a big athletic program for the coming sport season. The club has gathered together a group of fast athletic performers in nearly every branch of sport, including baseball, track, tennis, golf, bowling, handball, shooting and horseshoe throwing. Walt Sears, well known baseball star, will manage the diamond team of the railroad club and games already are being scheduled for the coming season.

The track men will be under the watchful eye of Vesty and Fitzgerald, two well-known coaches, while the tennis team will be tutored by Edwards. The other coaches who have been appointed by the club are Mr. Sallipo for boxing and wrestling; Theize in bowling; Crawford for golf; Miss Taylor for swimming, and Mr. Underwood for the shooting team.

ELLIOTT TO GO EAST

TROJANS OPEN BALL SCHEDULE

The first baseball game of the winter season will be played on Bovard Field at 2:30 this afternoon. The Trojan varsity will get into action for the first time, meeting the Merchants National Bank. Coach Sam Crawford of the U.S.C. aggregation, with some forty-five athletes on his hands, is anxious to get a line on material, and expects to give plenty of his candidates a workout today. The trimming process will start next week, according to Henry Segretti, the boy manager.

PAULINO WINS FROM HANSEN

Through the first half of the fight, Paulino was a mark for Hansen's stiff left and right jabs, which quickly opened cuts over both of the Spaniard's eyes and balked most of his rushes. The wood chopper, undaunted, kept boring back and finally broke through Hansen's defensive shell.

A smashing right uppercut to the chin rocked Hansen in the eighth round. Paulino followed up his advantage and had the Dane in distress along the ropes, but Knute weathered the storm with the help of the bell in the last two rounds. Paulino hammered and mauled Hansen with a steady attack, but the Dane's defense saved him while at other times he shot home stiff jabs that brought the Basque up short.

Hansen's advantages in height, weight and reach helped him stave off Paulino's onslaughts. The blond Dane tied Paulino up repeatedly in the clinches, proving himself much the better boxer. He weighed 204 1-2 to Paulino's 196.

There were no knockdowns. Hansen slipped to the floor once in the eighth, carried down by the momentum of a missed left hook, but he was quickly back on his feet.

Joe Salas of Los Angeles, fast and shifty, featherweight stable-mate of Fidel La Barba, boxed his way to a clean-cut decision over Lew Hurley of Harlem, in a ten-round preliminary. Salas, 124 pounds, outfought and outboxed Hurley, 127, throughout.

MAROON PUCKS TO PLAY GLOBE SQUAD

McKenzie will keep four of his Detroit team here and sign them up for the balance of the schedule. The four players are Sheppard, Clark, Bonney and Breen. He will get Horsefall, Josephs and Headley, the other players the Maroons released several days ago. Jack Wilson, center and captain of the Maroons before the East-West series, was sold to the Globe team.

Now there's no chance of Cox and Patrick getting together until Monday, because Dick is going to be busy playing with the Shell Oil club in the Winter League championship series at Long Beach today and tomorrow.

Cox's visit to Wrigley Field yesterday probably will cost him money, because Mr. Artemus Griggs, now part owner of the Wichita Western League club, cornered him and tried to sell him an automobile. Griggs has to leave for Wichita soon and wants to dispose of his car. If Cox gets more money from Patrick, maybe the deal will go through.

Secretary Carl August Frederich Wilhelm von Woolen-Weber announced yesterday that the Angels will play their first practice game next Thursday afternoon against the U.C.L.A. nine. The game will be held at Wrigley Field, starting at 1 o'clock, and no admission will be charged. Marty says that he will give his youngsters a chance to strut their stuff against the Bruins.

Dode Bercot All Set for Gans Battle

Dode Bercot has attained the best physical condition he has ever shown for his bout with Baby Joe Gans at the Olympic Auditorium next Tuesday night, he states. This claim by the woodchopper welterweight is granted by those who have watched his workouts at the Main-street Athletic Club.

His punch is heavier, his legs and footwork faster and better and his general stamina greater than two years ago, when he had progressed to the top of the welterweight division on the Coast and had to retire temporarily because of illness.

Bercot will taper off training today, do a little road work tomorrow, and finish up his preparations to put the Baby to sleep with a light workout and a little sparring on Monday.

Gans is in excellent condition, as usual, and states that he has every confidence of being able to take the bout from Bercot.

SHEEHAN GIVES STARS WORKOUT

Calisthenic Kid Puts Boys Through Daily Drill

McCredie Starts Tutoring Hollywood Recruits

Phillips Picked to Start on Mound Tomorrow

BY BRAVEN DYER

Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars spent rather a quiet day yesterday, batting practice being temporarily discontinued because of the heavy fog of Thursday night which dampened the Santa Monica outfield to such an extent that the athletes couldn't cavort in the garden without contracting wet tootsies. This slight handicap did not prevent the boys from taking a lot of infield work, while pitchers continued to unloosen their soupers and those not otherwise engaged indulged in high-low games.

WALTER McCREDIE

Walter McCredie, the veteran scout, made his initial appearance in a Hollywood unie. Owner Bill Lane signed the former Coast League manager to help season his rookies. McCredie went to work immediately, gathering the young pitchers about him for an educational chat.

KNOWS HIS BASEBALL

The veteran knows a lot of baseball and should be a big help to Vitt. Oscar hopes to get four or five men out of the horde of youngsters and if there's any ability in any of them McCredie will detect it. Walter used to be an outfielder, but he knows something about all the positions and should be invaluable during the training season. With the opening of the Coast League schedule he will go his way as scout for the Detroit Tigers.

Some of the rookies will feel the ax following tomorrow's game with Larry Arnold's Santa Monica Merchants. Vitt plans to use only youngsters against the Bay City team, Johnny Frederick being the only regular slated to appear for the Stars.

Elmer Phillips, formerly with the Angels, will do some hurling for Hollywood. He wound up the season with the Stars last year, pitching a couple of shutouts. Galeria, a bespectacled southpaw, will also be given a trial, as will McCoy. The latter is a Hollywood banker of some magnitude, but has turned his attention to the diamond in hopes of gaining fame instead of dollars alone.

"Red" Strader, the former St. Mary's athlete, will do most of the catching for the Vittmen. Oscar has loaned Les Cook to the Merchants for the day and Denny Murphy will be playing with the Shell Oilers, so Strader gets a large assignment. Vitt has a couple of other youngsters to take their turn behind the log.

WATCH PIEROTTI

Lane and Vitt will watch the work of Leo Pierotti closely tomorrow. He has recently been shifted from third to second base and the Hollywood moguls expect him to show a lot of stuff.

Yesterday was visitors' day at the Santa Monica farm. Bill Essick, former Vernon manager and now scouting for the New York Yankees, was on hand. So was Dick Cox, late of the Brooklyn Dodgers and now the property of the Los Angeles club. Essick, who is one of the real veterans of the Coast, got quite a kick out of the setting-up exercises as directed by Chief Contortionist Les Sheehan.

POMONA TRACKMEN TROUNCE CHAFFEE JAYSEE ATHLETES

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Although he competed on a losing team, Larry Claypool, a short, broad-shouldered athlete, from Chaffee Junior College, was the hero of the Pomona-Chaffee track meet here today, scoring eighteen points in six events which he entered. The meet was between the Pomona varsity men not entered in the A.A.U. relays tomorrow and the junior college team, and the Sagehen subs won, 91 to 49. With the exception of the hundred and the javelin, there were few good times or marks made.

Claypool won three field events, copping the javelin and discus and the broad jump, got a third in the high jump and pole vault and a third in the 100-yard dash. Those were the only events he entered, or he might have picked up a few more points. He heaved the javelin 150 feet, 8 inches for his only good mark, and incidentally, one of the few good marks of the day. Foster Phelps won the century in 10 3-10s and his brother, Harl, grabbed the quarter in 53 3-10s. for the only other good performance. Johnny Woolfenden ran to a brilliant victory in the two-mile, completely distancing the field. The summary:

TRACK EVENTS

POMONA CAGERS INVADE OXY GYMNASIUM TONIGHT

A squad of hungry Tigers will be ready for a fine array of Sagehens tonight when Occidental College faces Pomona in the finish of the Southern Conference basketball season at the Oxy alumni gym.

If comparative scores mean anything, the Tigers have a fine chance to ruffle a few Sagehens' feathers. The Tigers lost two games to the U.C. Bruins by counts of 32-17 and 28-14, while the Claremont athletes failed to do better than a 42-16 score.

Coach Eddie Kienholz's athletes failed to play stellar ball in the recent Poet tilt, but undoubtedly will be in fine shape for the Pomona fray, for a Tiger-Sagehen battle is always a struggle for supremacy since the two institutions are among the oldest rivals in the conference league.

One big feature of today's battle will find the three Tiger veterans, Capt. Solly Mishkin, Mike Godett and Howard Black, in their last court performance for the Bengals. This in itself will make the Tigers a more savage crew of athletes.

Capt. Leo Manual and his Tiger babes will oppose the Pomona freshmen in a preliminary contest to the varsity battle. Art Kussman, lanky center, and Ed Beebe are among the athletes expected to shine for the frosh.

The probable line-ups for the varsity game follow:

Occidental.		Pomona.
Mishkin (C.)	F.	Manlildi
Archer	F.	Patton
H. Black	C.	Merritt
Ellsworth	G.	Gray
Godett	G.	Millet

CHECKERS

The State championship checker tourney ended last evening at Pasadena with Solomon Jeruchemson again winning the championship. This makes the third successive time Jeruchemson has been returned the winner. J. L. Wilson was second, John Dougherty was third and H. L. LeClere fourth.

Sheiks Still in Sprint for Soccer Title

"We are still very much in the running for the City Soccer League championship, and we expect to finish the season out in front." This from Danny Hall, manager of the Hollywood Sheiks. Hall has taken umbrage at reports that the Hollywood defeat by the Sons last week was a body blow to their chances of capturing the championship, and offers some figures to prove this contention.

"We are but two points behind the club and with a schedule that is all in our favor. While we face the Scots and Vikings in turn, the club will be opposed by the Magyars and the Sons. The latter outfit, on its present form can be looked upon as a likely conqueror of the leaders, while we do not anticipate much difficulty in annexing full quotas from either the Scots or the Vikings"

OXY NET TEAM FACES BRUINS

Tigers to Play Host Today on Tennis Courts

Winner Will Get Conference Championship Prize

Sagehens and Engineers in Tilt at Pomona

Coach Wynn Mace's Occidental varsity tennis team will play host to the invading University of California Bruins of Los Angeles on the Oxy courts this afternoon in a Southern Conference contest that means the 1927 conference championship to the winner. Pomona and Caltech racketers will meet on the Sagehens' courts in another battle.

Comparative scores against the invading California Bears of Berkeley give an edge to Bill Ackerman's local Bruins in the series of matches. The Bruins held the Bears to a tie at 3-3 while Oxy lost a 4-2 decision. Furthermore, the crack combination of Ben Gorchakoff and Norval Craig lost a decision to Tom Stowe and De Hoogs in a first doubles tilt while the Branch duo of Al Duff and Bob Laird defeated this machine. This doubles match may decide the conference crown.

Ponkona is a hevy favorite over the Engineers with the services of Baker, Mills, Arnold and other numeral winners of the 1926 freshman teams. Should the Branch take the Tigers into camp today, the title is all their own, but the Tigers on the other hand, upon victory, would have still another battle with the Pomona boys.

DODGE IS WINNER IN GOLF TOURNEY

Dr. Wallace Dodge won low gross honors in the Class A divisino of the Southern California Medical Association's tournament over the Hillcrest golf links yesterday. Dr. Benjamin Frieze took low honors in Class A with a score of 85-14-71, according to Dr. Spiers, recorder of the scores. In Class B Dr. J. E. Stevens of Santa Barbara, and Dr. D. C. Van Zwalenberg of Riverside took low gross and net honors respectively with scores of 92 and 104-24-80.

OXY BASEBALLERS START OFF FRIDAY

With the failure of the Occidental College officials to land a practice tilt for the Tiger diamond team, the 1927 baseball season for the Bengals will not open until the University of Southern California Trojan tilts next Friday and Saturday afternoons.

TROJANS, BRUINS IN VICTORIES

Ice Hockey Teams Gather Puck Tilts from Tigers and Southwestern

University of Southern California and University of California in Los Angeles were winners of the first games in the university ice hockey league, which opened with a double-header at the Palais De Glace yesterday afternoon. Southern California opened the day's program by rallying in the last period for a 4-to-2 victory over Occidental, and U.C.L.A. was forced into overtime to grab a 2-to-1 verdict over Southwestern. Both winning teams have been coached by Bill Shaver of the local pro league at various times. He is now Trojan coach.

Morley Drury and Howard Elliott, Trojan football stars, were instrumental in winning for Southern California. Occidental scored 1 to 0 in the first period and at the end of the second had made it 2 to 0, but the Trojans came back strong in the final spasm and swept through the Tigers for four big goals to nothing.

King and Schuckman, assisted by Pomeroy, got the Occidental goals, while Woodward, Drury, Cohen and Pienvenne scored for the Trojans, with Cohen and Drury each credited with an assist.

The line-ups of the four teams were:

Occidental—Goal, Krooman; defense, Justt and Noble; forwards, Kink, Abbe, Schuchman and Pomeroy.

Southwestern—Goal, Cantillon; defense, Luhr and Gross; forwards, Kunsman, Broker, Barth, Cole and Campbell.

NORWALK IS WINNER OF LEAGUE LAURELS

Norwalk High School scored its seventh straight victory yesterday, defeating Monrovia, 26 to 18, to win the San Gabriel Valley League championship. The victors will meet the winner of the Tri-County loop Tuesday in a play-off for the Southern California title. Philippi featured with 12 points yesterday, while Kusper tossed 11 for the losers.

I'M THE GINK

I'm the gink who forgets the wife the minute I get to a party. I park her and leave her to the tender mercies of friends and acquaintances. I take on a shot or so of hootch and start having a gay time. I dance with all the young girls and hand them what I think to be a clever line. I get a great kick out of that. I just know I am quite the gay old dog. Meanwhile folks notice how I neglect my wife and feel sorry for her. That makes the evening all the more difficult for her. I don't worry. I go to a party for a good time. The others can look out for themselves—even friend wife.

FARMS PROJECT ISSUES REPORT

Stockholders Hear Status of Delta Corporation

Deficit from Operations in Last Year $247,633

Vacancies on Board Filled; Old Officers Elected

Operations of the California Delta Farms, Inc., for the year ended December 31, last, after deducting all expenses and provision for depreciation, resulted in a net loss of $247,633, according to the annual report made yesterday by J. V. Mendenhall, president, before the annual stockholders' meeting. As of December 31, last, a total deficit of $362,[illegible] was shown.

Two changes were made in the board of directors, the stockholders electing Arthur C. Parsons, vice-president of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, to succeed W. W. [illegible], and Stanley L. Teele, general manager of the Empire Navigation Company of Stockton, to succeed M. P. Shaughnessy. All other directors were renamed.

The new board organized for the ensuing year by re-electing the same officers with the exception of Lee A. [illegible], who asked that he be relieved of his duties as chairman. For the present the office will remain vacant.

CANCELLATIONS HEAVY

During 1926 the company experienced the heaviest contract cancellations since 1921, twenty-three contracts covering 9,475,409 acres having been forfeited. These cancellations increased the company's net real estate and improvement account to $1,331,154.98. The net 1926 reduction in the land sale contracts was $1,469,474.95.

As a net result of the land contract cancellations, the company owned as of the end of 1926, 25,[illegible] acres in fee with 5531.7 acres remaining under contract, making a total ownership of 30,814.728 acres. Cancellations since 1921 have caused the real estate account to be increased from $1,862,078.25 to $6,015,[illegible], an increase of $4,153,022.20 during the five year period, while the gross land sale account decreased from $2,822,484.23 to $380,[illegible], a total decrease of $2,441,[illegible]

LARGE AREA FARMED

[illegible] because of the lack [illegible] the company farmed on [illegible] account 2,839,525 net acres [illegible] King, Bishop and Webb Islands [illegible] Mr. Mendenhall said. The [illegible] crops were potatoes, onions, corn, asparagus, barley, celery [illegible] sugar beets. Farming results as [illegible] were unprecedentedly poor, [illegible] a result the company will do [illegible] farming during 1927 and will dis[illegible] financing tenants.

The management has considered [illegible] highly important that additional [illegible] of crops be developed and [illegible] have been carried on [illegible] years on the raising of sugar [illegible] the past. The 1925 beet [illegible] proved a failure on account of [illegible] hopper and blight. However, [illegible] the company farmed 33.3 [illegible] on its demonstration farm. [illegible] acreage was planted early. Cultural methods were used which had [illegible] successful in the past, and [illegible] result the land produced 28.61 [illegible] per acre, at a gross return of [illegible] per acre, or a net profit of [illegible] $100 per acre after [illegible] for taxes, interest and other [illegible]. The sugar content ran [illegible] per cent.

OUTLOOK BETTERED

[illegible] 1926 twelve meetings were [illegible] for the purpose of encouraging [illegible] owners for an area of approximately 160,000 acres in the formation of a water storage district. Such [illegible] would have certain legal, [illegible] and financial advantages in [illegible] with establishing for all [illegible] a protective status in so far as [illegible] of irrigation water may be [illegible]

"[illegible] January 21, last, President [illegible] signed the rivers and harbors [illegible], which constitutes the final [illegible] to make deep water to Stockton [illegible] certainty. Much more optimism exists in the county since [illegible] achievement.

"It is believed that the cancellation period is now ended and that [illegible] company will hereafter be able [illegible] its ordinary expenditures [illegible] of income. Cancellations have [illegible] changed our budget, and [illegible] uncertainty will now be re[illegible]

"The year 1926 marks what appears to be the end of a transition [illegible] in the company's affairs beginning with 1921. The loss of orien[illegible] tenants was the largest factor [illegible] distress. The company had [illegible] from simple cash renting [illegible] to share renting and [illegible] simple company management [illegible] complicated district operations. [illegible] seems to be a widely held [illegible] that conditions are about [illegible] and that better produce [illegible] and lower farming costs may [illegible] dependable anticipation."

[illegible] assets of the California Delta Farms as of December 31, last, [illegible] $7,300,144.41.

OIL STOCKS FEATURE OF PRICE DROP

Julian Preferred, Union, Richfield and California Petroleum Decline

Prices on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday were in a general decline, with the oils leading the recession. Julian Petroleum preferred opened 3-8 of a point off at 7 1-4 and moved lower to 7, and sold throughout the day irregularly from 7 to 7 3-8, closing at the opening figure. The common held at 1 7-8.

Richfield staged a continual decline, moving off 3-8 of a point to a close at 23 3-8. Standard Oil of California held firm at 58. Union Oil of California lost a fraction to 52 5-8, while California Petroleum receded 1-4 of a point to 30 1-4. Shell-Union lost the same amount to 31.

Southern California Edison common lost a fraction but was in active demand at 34 throughout the afternoon. Los Angeles Investment closed off 1-2 of a cent to 2.32 1-2. Bank of Italy rallied to 664 early, then sold firmly at 660 near the close. Bancitaly Corporation closed steady at 112 1-4, after opening at 112 1-2. Bancitaly rights were quoted 5 cents higher at 3.45.

Sunnyside Consolidated featured the advance in the mining list, rallying 2 1-2 cents to a high and close at 17 1-2 on favorable development news at the mine. Boundary Cone continued in demand at 8. North Star receded another 1-2 of a cent to 5 1-2, while Big Jim added that amount to 38.

REPORT OF NATIONAL LEATHER ENCOURAGES

YEAR SHOWS IMPROVEMENT IN COMPANY'S FINANCIAL CONDITION

While operations of the National Leather Company for the year ended December 31, last resulted in a loss of $550,798.41, after deducting expenses and interest charges and providing for depreciation, the company's inventory was reduced $2,017,259, notes and accounts payable were reduced $2,192,129, and the current asset ratio was improved, now standing at more than 2 1-2 to 1.

This is revealed in the company annual report to stockholders made public yesterday. Sales of the company in 1926, including wholly owned subsidiaries amounted to $24,556,398. This is slightly less than in 1925 owing to the lower market prices, but on the basis of pieces, pounds or feet delivered, the 1926 volume was larger.

"Considering the shoe and leather business as a whole, there appear to be no accumulations of raw materials, of leather or of manufactured articles; nor does there seem to be the probability of over-production," the report states. "For the first time since before the war, the situation, from the supply of raw hides and skins to the demand of the consuming public, appears to be in balance."

LIVESTOCK RAISERS DO WELL

Not Logical Candidates for Legislative Relief Plans; Swift & Co. Report Shows Good Year

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Growers of cotton and producers of hogs in California and the Southwest have no legitimate reasons to become disgruntled over the veto of the McNary-Haugen farm bill by the President. The cotton growers generally are confident of a speedy recovery to a normal price level, while the producers of hogs, on the face of 1926 returns, are not logical candidates for artificial resuscitation.

Both of these commodities were named in the bill disapproved by the President as contrary to sound economics and containing unconstitutional provisions. But even if the bill were sound and did receive the signature of the President, it is difficult to see where the swine industry would have come in for relief. The record of hog prices for 1926 shows a satisfactory gain over the previous year and a considerable improvement over 1924.

WEST BENEFITS

Live stock, one of the major industries in the Western States, reported as a whole a notable betterment in 1926. Cattle prices increased slightly over 1925, hogs gained substantially, while sheep prices were slightly lower. As a group, live-stock prices in 1926 exceeded the performance of any other group of farm products with the exception of fruits and vegetables. In 1925 virtually the reverse was true.

The situation is comprehensively treated in the 1927 Year Book published by Swift & Co. This company shows that it paid $7.32 for cattle in the first eleven months of 1926 against $7.08 in the year of 1925, and $6.55 in 1924. Sheep prices in 1926 were $13.12, compared with $14.40 in 1925 and $13.10 in 1924. Hog prices were $12.31 in 1926; $11.54 in 1925 and $7.82 in 1924.

With respect to hogs, the Swift analysis reports that the increase in price more than offset the lower supply, resulting in producers receiving about $50,000,000 more for hogs than in 1925. Marketing of cattle continued to increase, although good business conditions and a smaller supply of pork resulted in slightly higher average prices for all cattle than in 1925. Heavy beef steer prices declined, but the prices of the cheaper kinds of cattle advanced sufficiently to raise the average.

PRODUCERS FAVORED

Live-stock producers will be interested in the data on the cost of marketing and the percentage of the retail price of meat accruing to the producer. As determined by Swift & Co., the producer of live stock receives a larger percentage of the retail price than the average of agriculturalists. The average is estimated at 50 per cent, while Swift & Co. returns about 60 per cent of the retail price, which is probably applicable to the industry as a whole.

Comparing this record with other commodities, it is stated that the growers of California cantaloupes, due to the high cost of marketing, including transportation, icing, etc., receive less than 20 per cent of the New York City retail price. Other examples cited are the California orange grower, 41 per cent; potato growers, 33 1-3 per cent; western apple growers, 20 to 25 per cent.

As further illustration of efficiency in the marketing of live stock, the Swift booklet declares that cattle producer alone receives for the beef content of his steer about 58 per cent of the final retail price of beef. This calculation includes the retailer's expense and profit; packer's expense and profit, and transportation and marketing expense.

After looking over this record it is evident that the live-stock industry is handling its own problems satisfactorily.

Bank of Italy Adds Ten More Names to Board

Ten more members of the regional board that will guide the policies of the new southern division of the Bank of Italy were announced from San Francisco yesterday by James A. Bacigalupi, president. The names, he explained, were inadvertently omitted from the original announcement.

The ten members are: Sam T. Hayward, C. A. Johnson, Jay Lawyer, George W. McCune, C. A. Larson, Lloyd McAtee, Byron M. Pattison, George E. Platt, Jay E. Randall and Raymond Taylor.

Douglas Heard by Retail Men in Convention

Declaring that only by reposing the proper confidence in his bank and its officers could the modern business man reap the full benefits of the service offered by the bank, James R. Douglas, assistant vice-president and manager of the research department of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, made a plea for closer co-operation between merchants and bankers in an address delivered yesterday morning at the opening session of the annual convention of the California Retail Clothier, Hatters' and Furnishers' Association taking place at the Alexandria.

In outlining the function of the modern banker, Mr. Douglas laid stress upon the important service rendered by officers of banks when acting in an advisory capacity. Speaking of this, Mr. Douglas said:

"Business men should realize that the banker sees the business situation from a broad, comprehensive angle and not from the narrower point of view of the individual in a particular line. The banker, too, has the advantage of a large fund of information not available to every business man."

NEW CLASS FORMING

Course in Accounting to Start Soon at University

Through a careful check just made by the extension division of the University of California, it has been found that many employees of well-known accounting and business firms in Los Angeles have availed themselves of the evening classes in accounting offered by the State institution. The demand for instruction in accounting classes has grown during the past five years to such an extent that classes are now opened regularly every fifteen weeks. A new section will be organized March 2, at 7 p.m., in Room 615, Hillstreet Building.

Roy S. Burton, comptroller for the California Petroleum Company, will be the instructor in charge of the course. Visitors may attend the first meeting without registering.

PHILLIPS OIL ADDS TO TEXAS HOLDINGS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—In addition to the purchase of about 5000 acres of Gibson Oil Company's properties in Hutchinson county, Texas, on which daily production is now about 10,000 barrels, Phillips Petroleum Company has acquired from the Gibson Company about 60,000 acres in Pecos county, Texas, and Lea and Quay counties in New Mexico.

ico. The Gibson Company will retain all of its other producing properties.

TAX RULING MADE CLEARER

In order to aid stockholders of the Pacific Oil Company in the preparation of their Federal income tax returns, Henry W. De Forest, chairman of the executive committee, has just issued a circular letter in which he explains the ruling of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue concerning the distributions made by the company during 1926.

Distributions made by the company to stockholders for the year ended December 31, last, included a cash dividend of $1.50 a share, payable January 20, to stockholders of record of December 15, 1925; a distribution of $3 a share in cash and two-fifths of a share of stock of the Associated Oil Company for each share of Pacific Oil stock, made March 6, to stockholders of record January 28, and a distribution of one share of stock of the Standard Oil Company of California for each share of Pacific Oil stock made May 10, to stockholders of record at the close of business on March 29.

"The dividend of $1.50 a share paid on January 20, the letter states, "was distributed out of accumulated surplus and is subject to surtax as a current dividend, according to the ruling.

"At the close of business on March 5, the total net undistributed earnings of the company amounted to approximately $6.30 a share, all of which was included in the distribution to stockholders on March 6. This disbursement of $3 and Associated Oil shares is subject to surtax as a current dividend to the extent of $6.30 a share, and the remainder should be regarded as a return of capital, and is not subject to tax, unless the value of such remainder exceeded the cost basis of the Pacific Oil stock to the shareholder.

"Such remainder will, however, reduce the cost basis of the stock of the Pacific Oil Company for the purpose of determining gain or loss from its sale or other disposition. If the value of such remainder exceeded the cost basis of Pacific Oil stock to the shareholder, this excess is subject to tax.

"The distribution of Standard Oil stock on May 1 was made in pursuance of a plan of reorganization and, therefore, no taxable gain to stockholders of Pacific Oil resulted from its receipt. Should, however, the Standard Oil Company of California stock be sold, or otherwise disposed of, by any Pacific Oil stockholder, for an amount in excess of the cost basis of Pacific Oil shares to such stockholder, then the excess would be taxable."

The company, in connection with the present financing, will acquire 130,000 shares of the common stock of Oil Well Supply Company, an option to purchase an additional 34,000 shares of the same stock, and to acquire 15,000 shares of the common stock of A. M. Byers Company.

The notes will be a direct obligation of the Oil Well Supply Investment Company and will be secured by a first lien upon the 130,000 shares of Oil Well Supply Company common and 15,000 shares of A. M. Byers Company common stock.

Fresno to Start Move to Acquire Water Utility

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The city of Fresno, through its City Attorney, L. E. Butts, announced in a State Railroad Commission hearing today that it expects to start a proceeding to take over the properties of the Fresno Water Company, sold recently to the California Water Service Corporation for $2,500,000.

The hearing was on an application by the corporation to issue $12,600,000 in stocks and bonds to finance the purchase of the Fresno company and a number of other water utilities in other cities. The city of Fresno intervened on the ground that it did not want any possible excessive appraisal made of the water plant by the corporation or otherwise in view of the city's intention to possess the property by condemnation or outright purchase.

Officials of the Water Service Corporation, which is a subsidiary of a large eastern corporation, were questioned exhaustively by representatives of the commission as to the manner in which the returns from the stock and bond issue will be expended.

The hearing was adjourned until March 22, when it will be continued in this city.

AMERICAN SMELTING EARNINGS INCREASE

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Estimated net earnings of American Smelting and Refining Company for 1926 are placed at $16,500,000, equal to slightly more than $21 a share on the common stock after preferred dividends, and would compare with $19.17 a share on the common in 1925. Increased disbursements on the common are expected later in the year when improvement in the lead, zinc, silver and copper situations are anticipated.

American Water Works Head Gives Views on Meaning of Stock Dividend

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Although the payment of stock dividends is not at all uncommon, probably no other corporate action has ever been the subject of so much discussion. Furthermore, it is difficult to find two persons, even among those who rank as authorities on financial matters, who have exactly the same ideas as to just what a stock dividend really constitutes.

The explanation of the term given to stockholders of the American Water Works and Electric Company recently by H. Hobart Porter, president, should, therefore, prove both interesting and informative. He said:

"Everybody comprehends a cash dividend; a stock dividend is not so well understood, although in principle it is about as old as human affairs.

"Our company is constantly growing in property and in earning power; the necessary and profitable extension of its business requires new capital.

"This situation is also as old as human affairs, and there is no new way to meet it; the capital must be furnished by the owners—in this case the stockholders—or by borrowing. For your company the soundest policy is to do both in just proportion.

"Our company can obtain the new capital which it does not borrow by the sale of additional stock to the public, or it can permanently invest in its business part of the earnings otherwise available for dividends and issue to the stockholders certificates for the amounts so invested.

"The certificate for your stock dividend is evidence that a portion of the earnings of your stock, otherwise available for cash dividends, has been permanently invested in the property and business of our company."

Incidentally, the consolidated tentative income account of the company and its subsidiaries for the twelve months ended December 31, 1926, sent to stockholders along with dividend checks, shows a substantial gain in earnings compared with the corresponding period of 1925.

Gross was $45,399,463, compared with $41,055,905 the year before, while the balance after subsidiary interest and dividend requirements, as well as participations of minority interests, was $9,040,977, contrasted with $7,017,143.

After providing for fixed charges on the parent company's obligations, renewals and replacements and its first preferred dividend requirements, there remained a balance of $3,541,891, as against $2,334,015 in 1925.

NEW COMMODITY INDEX OUT

[Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Post, Inc.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—The downward pace in commodity prices is proceeding at a rapid rate, according to a new index constructed by the National Bank of Commerce in New York, and by the middle of February had reached the lowest level since 1914. In fact, prices now are back to about their 1922 position. That the shrinkage within the last month has been 2 per cent and that prices in the last fifteen months have fallen 19 per cent, will be the facts in the new index that will interest men most.

So unusual is it for a bank to construct an index number of wholesale prices, however, that a student of business will be as much interested in the nature of this new instrument as in what it reveals of the current movement. The new index is not intended to replace that so ably constructed monthly by the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The bank properly recognizes the need of the business world, however, for a more sensitive barometer of the important price swings that the government compilation affords.

On a comparison of the National Bank of Commerce index with that of the Bureau of Labor Statistics it will be seen that the bank's curve is much more sensitive to change than that of the bureau. Warning of the precipitous drop in prices in 1920 comes earlier in the bank's index than that of the bureau, as did the warning of the subsequent upturn in 1921. As a reflector of the general movement within the commodity family, the weighted index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics still is, of course, our most reliable tabulation. As a barometer of the future, however, the bank's contribution may very easily prove to be the more valuable.

For the most part the commodities that enter into the new index are raw materials, but they are selected for their bearing on important business activity and include such commodities as burlap, cattle, coal, coffee, copper, corn, cotton, hides, hogs, petroleum, rubber, steel, sugar, wheat and wool. The bank very wisely has adopted a 1923-1925 base, instead of the usual 1913 base on which the standard indices are constructed. Conditions have changed since 1913 and the post-war level appears to have been fairly well stabilized during 1923, 1924 and 1925. Taking the post-war normal as 100, then the bank finds that prices are now substantially lower at 89.6.

Dun Sees Trend of Trade Still Points Upward

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

With the practical closing of the shortest month of the year, which has been made even shorter by holidays, reports indicate a continuance of the recent trend toward expansion of business. Some lines, such as leather and footwear, still lag and their status is disappointing, but the major tendency is in the direction of increased activity. The gains are for the most part moderate, yet of a wholesale character and the present movement is in contrast to that of a year ago, when there was a letdown in certain quarters where an upturn is in progress now. The great steel industry, as a result of a further enlargement of demand, from diversified sources, is operating at a rate equal to last year's at this time, while some textile branches are featured by a more definite interest among buyers in providing for spring requirements. These are not the only trades in which an improvement has occurred, but they are especially conspicuous in the favorable news of this week, and in some textile some fairness in prices has developed.

Weekly bank clearings $8,160,083,000, an increase of 8.5 per cent over last year.

BUSINESS IN WOOL LINES SLOWING UP

BOSTON, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Commercial Bulletin tomorrow will say:

The wool market has slowed up a bit during the past week both in the eastern markets and in the West, although there is still a fair volume of business being done. The bulk of the business, however, is for a few mills, and the worsted end of the trade is much better situated than the woolen section. On the whole, the market is considered healthy, although the heavyweight season in goods appears to be developing slowly.

"Contracting of wool on the sheep's back is slackening, although some 60 million pounds of wool in the territories is estimated to have been placed under contract to date. Prices are figured as fully on a parity with the eastern markets.

"The foreign markets are holding very strong everywhere, and the secondary markets of Europe are gradually edging up to a parity with foreign primary market values.

"Mohair is in fair demand for medium qualities at around 55 cents with fine hair rather quiet and usually held above the 60 or 61 cents which the manufacturers will bid.

"The rail and water shipments of wool from Boston from January 1, 1927 to February 24, 1927 inclusive, were 32,384,000 pounds against 38,554,000 pounds for the same period last year. The receipts from January 1, 1927 to February 24, 1927 inclusive were 42,001,200 pounds against 60,671,200 pounds for the same period last year.'

The Commercial Bulletin will print the following wool quotations tomorrow:

Scoured basis: Texas, fine 12 months (selected,) 1.05@1.10; fine 8 months, 95@1.00.

Prune, Apricot Returns Best in Several Years

SAN JOSE, Feb. 25. (AP)—Except for 1919, the apricot growers of the California Prune and Apricot Growers' Association experienced the best year of history in 1926, it was announced here today with the mailing of $232,187 in checks as final payment to grower members. The settlement for the 1926 pool of dried apricots is also one of the earliest on record. Average prices for the year ranged from 15 cents on standards to 23 cents on extra fancy Moorparks, the best average since 1919.

SAFETY ZONES FOR DOLLARS

Practical Ways of Investing in Home Ownership, Savings Accounts, Life Insurance, and Dependable Investment Securities

XLVI.—THE WORD "GUARANTEED" NOT SACRED

"This watch is guaranteed to have seventeen jewels," shouts the salesman in the shady auction house. And the word "guaranteed" sells the watch, regardless of the fact that it means virtually nothing, that the watch is otherwise of mediocre workmanship and that a better timepiece could have been bought more cheaply of one of the town's reliable jewelry stores.

Somehow that word "guaranteed" has a great appeal, which tricksters do not hesitate to capitalize. Whenever it is used to give added security to a thing purchased, at once a new element is introduced for the purchaser to consider. For a guarantee is no better than the guarantor. The writetr could perhaps find someone to whom he could sell Brooklyn Bridge in New York. He could also guarantee it, but what good would the guaranty be? He doesn't own that piece of public property. He couldn't deliver it, and it is doubtful if the buyer could recover very much by suing the writer on his guaranty.

The guaranty has a very valuable and legitimate use in the creating of sound investment securities. Where the guarantor is honest and has money or property sufficient to make good his guaranty, then the guaranty adds value to the security. Examples of the laudable use of the guaranty are several issues of guaranteed bonds issued by companies that were formed by several railroads to build union stations and terminals in large cities. The stations and terminals are absolute essentials for the railroads and where the railroads that guarantee the terminal or station companies bonds are sound, going concerns their guaranty makes the bonds more valuable.

There are many other examples of the legitimate use of the guaranty in making securities more desirable in the eyes of the investor. A strong company may guarantee the bonds of a little-known subsidiary because that guaranty at once would place the bonds in favor with experienced investors who know the large strong company but who naturally have little knowledge of the smaller subsidiary. These investors would, because of the guaranty, pay more for the bonds than if they were not guaranteed and as a result the company could borrow money more cheaply on the bonds.

"Guaranteed," however, cannot stand alone, and the investor, the moment he hears that word, should at once ask, "Who and what is the company doing the guaranteeing? Is it morally and financially responsible?" To know whether a guaranty is worth anything you must know whether the guarantor is worth anything.

Business Philosophy

By William Feather

For the last three weeks I have been watching a gang tear down a building.

The only tools I have seen them use are a crowbar and a sledge hammer.

As I watched them, it occurred to me that tearing down is crude work, requiring few tools and slight intelligence.

Building is a slow job that must be done with the plumb line and the footrule, and with intelligence and honesty.

As I travel around I meet a lot of fellows who throw a striking shadow as they swing the sledge hammer. Generally speaking, however, they are not as useful as the stone masons who can lay block on block and keep the wall plumb and true.

STOCKS OFF IN READJUSTMENT

Heavy Selling Develops in Recent Strong Spots

Veto of McNary-Haugen Bill Arouses Comment

Oils Hold Steady in Face of Gasoline Cut in East

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Further readjustment of the stock market's weakened technical position resulting from over four weeks of almost steadily rising prices took place today. Fairly heavy selling for both accounts developed in some of the recent strong spots, some of it probably inspired by the marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 5 per cent, but offerings generally were well absorbed.

President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill aroused favorable comment in banking and brokerage circles, but was not believed to have been an important influence in the securities markets. The commodity markets apparently had discounted the Executive's action, as both wheat and cotton closed higher on the day after a temporary flurry of liquidation. In the cotton trade, the belief was expressed that Presidential disapproval of the bill would result in decreased cotton acreage this summer.

The stiffening call-money rate accompanied the moderately heavy calling of loans incidental to the increased demand for funds in connection with month-end requirements. At 5 per cent, call loans were at the highest rate since January 5, but an early return to the 4-per-cent level is expected particularly as time-money rate softened, being quoted at 4 1-4 to 4 3-8 instead of on a flat 4 3-8-per-cent basis. Commercial paper rates were unchanged.

In the stock market, the average of twenty leading industrial issues touched a new record high for all time just below 151, but the average of twenty leading rails lost ground.

Oils held relatively steady in the face of a gasoline cut by the Standard Oil Comany of New Jersey. Houston soared to a new high at 106, Barnsdall B touched a new top at 31 7-8 and Texas and Pacific Land Trust (new) moved up over 2 points on a heavy turnover. A recent analysis of that company shows approximately one acre of land held for each new share outstanding, with 1926 estimated earnings showing a huge increase over those of the year before.

Steel failed to make much response to reports of stiffening pig-iron prices in the Cleveland district although crucible touched a new top at 87½ and then lost its gain, and U. S. Steel common closed fractionally higher at 161.

New peak prices in the industrial section also were established by Montana Power, Adams Express, All America Cables, Dupont, Westinghouse Air Brake, Air Reduction, Collins and Aikman and U. S. Industrial Alcohol. Strength of the local tractions was

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—The bond market was extremely quiet today and aside from a few changes of a point or two in some industrials, prices were generally steady. The dullness resulted largely from the tendency of buyers to remain inactive while preparing to meet March 15 tax payments.

Railway liens showed little change. Erie convertible 4s, "D," which have changed hands in huge volume during the past few days, were in considerably less demand, and prices eased a little.

In the industrial division, Granby Consolidated 7s continued to move up, while Bethlehem Steel refunding 5s and Liquid Carbonic certificate 6s were heavy.

Public utilities were mixed, with demand limited. Third Avenue Elevated 5s gave a good account of themselves in expectation of legislative action favorable to local tractions on pending subway bills.

Irregularity characterized the foreign group. Fiat 7s continued to advance, attaining a new high of 102 3-4. South American obligations also were firm.

The sale of a block of $1,000,000 United States Treasury 3 3-4s, one of the largest transactions in recent years, featured the Federal government list.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transmission, close is omitted when same as low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (AP)—Prices in today's curb market floundered about in erratic fashion, with the general tendency downward. There was little public interest apparent, and even nimble floor traders found the recent pastime of "scalping eighths of a point" rather hazardous.

Oils displayed a fairly firm undertone, the cut in gasoline prices by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey being offset by an increase in the Summa Petroleum dividend. Cumberland, Illinois and Prairie Pipe Line shares showed substantial net gains. Creole Syndicate made no response to reports of its possible acquisition by the Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company, which is said to be contemplating hooking Creole up with its Lago properties.

Motors were inclined to heaviness, Ford of Canada dropping 10 points on a couple of odd-lot sales, Marmon yielding 1 3-8 and Rickenbacker sagging to a new low at 76 cents. Radio, coal and baking shares also lost ground, but the recessions were slight. Pillsbury Flour advanced 3 points to a new top at 67 and Massey Harris touched a new peak at 99 1-2. Strength of General Fireproofing, Bancitaly Corporation, Libby Owens, Gleasonite and Dunhill was offset by the heaviness of Johns Manville (new,) Metropolitan Chain Stores, Richmond Radiotor preferred and Safeway Stores.

Active public utilities moved within extremely narrow and irregular limits.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Grains Turn Up on Veto of Farm Relief Measure

CHICAGO. Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen farm-relief bill was the signal for a general buying movement in all grains, which swept wheat prices up 1⅝@2¼c, corn 2⅜@2⅞c, oats 1⅜@1⅝c and rye 2⅛c from the early low point, and the close was within a fraction of the top. May wheat early was down to 1.38⅛, a new low on the present movement, but it advanced later to 1.40⅝, with the close at 1.39⅞@1.40. Net gains of wheat were ½@1c, with July 1.33½@1.33⅝ and September 1.31.

A feature in the trade was the marked broadening in the speculative interest, which was extremely apparent in corn, which developed independent strength. The close was at net gains of 1⅝@2c, with May 77⅛@77⅝, July 82⅛@82¼ and September 85@85⅛. Oats gained 1⅛@1⅜c, with May 44⅞@45, July 45½ and September 44⅛. Rye was ⅝@1⅛c higher, with May 1.06¼ and July 1.04⅝.

In vetoing the farm-relief bill, President Coolidge removed the cause of the extreme uncertainty which has been an outstanding feature in the grain trade for many weeks, and the action construed by many operators as a decidedly bullish factor, and one that is likely to have a material effect on general business of the entire country, as well as the grain markets. It is regarded as probable that the cash demand will be stimulated for wheat, corn and oats. While the veto was not unexpected, the manner in which attention was called to the many unfavorable features of the bill caused unusually favorable comment, especially to the discrimination which would exist toward producers who have gone in for diversified farming.

Export demand for wheat at the seaboard was only fair, with sales of 300,000 bushels in all positions. In the past few days, however, around 500,000 bushels of hard winter has been sold at the gulf, and the basis there was much firmer. Weather conditions over the belt were favorable for the new crop. Green bugs were officially reported as having been discovered, and there was some buying of the deferred deliveries, although no damage was claimed. Western Nebraska crop was said to have been injured by high winds.

There was a noticeable lack of liquidation in corn, and at no time were values as low as of the previous day. Commission houses bought early and absorbed the surplus in the pit, and later there was general buying, which disclosed a lack of pressure. Shipping demand for cash corn showed improvement, with sales of 180,000 bushels, making around 375,000 bushels in the past two days. At no time were oats lower than the previous day's close, there being an improvement in the class of buying, and after the farm-relief bill had been vetoed, there was aggressive commission-house and local support.

Export demand for rye continues, with sales of 150,000 bushels in all positions. Houses with eastern connections bought May, and there was short covering in July.

Provision prices held within relatively narrow limits, with commission houses moderate buyers of lard, while packers and locals sold, and the finish was 2½c lower to 2½c higher. Ribs were 5@10c higher and bellies unchanged.

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

The possibility that the townlot field at Huntington Beach, which already has shifted the residence section of the city to a less exposed location, may shortly begin elbowing the stores, theaters, hotels and other business establishments out of the way was forecast yesterday with the granting of a permit by the city to the Superior Oil Company to lay pipe lines from Seventeenth street to an alley between Fifth and Sixth streets, practically in the heart of the business district. The Superior paid $1000 for the privilege, and acquires the right to dig a trench along the first alley back from the ocean front, from Seventeenth street to between Fifth and Sixth streets, and to lay therein two five-inch lines to carry oil, a three-inch line for water, and another three-inch line for drilling mud.

The Superior Oil Company from the start has been one of the companies which believed in the possibilities of the eastern townlot area, and while it has done no drilling in the extreme eastern part of the field, it has taken the precaution of leasing considerable property. Other operators consider the permit to lay the pipe lines as a certain indication that a derrick will shortly rise practically in the midst of the business part of the city.

Argue Oil Restriction

The status of the city ordinance forbidding drilling in the townlot district of Alamitos Heights in the eastern part of Long Beach was the subject of discussion yesterday at a session of representatives of the operators and the City Council, and interested property owners. The net result of the session was a general agreement that the restriction should be lifted to permit drilling, but a code of regulations to govern the actual operations is yet to be definitely adopted.

Complete New Well

The Marland Oil Company yesterday brought in its Bixby No. 8 well in th eSeal Beach field with an initial production of 1600 barrels a day, according to officials of the company. The well was finished at 4410 feet, and was showing a steady increase in output last night.

Simultaneously it was reported that the Marland had finally solved the water problem which has been besetting its Bixby No. 4, and that the well was flowing 1000 barrels a day of clean oil. The Marland drilled this well into bottom water at 4505 feet, and had to put in a cement plug to shut it off.

After City Lease

Oil operators are giving each other considerable competition for the right to drill the property owned by the city of Long Beach along the edge of the lagoon in the Seal Beach field, according to reports. A. T. Jergins, who drilled the city property on Signal Hill, is among the operators who are after the property, but other companies are said to have offered a bonus of as high as $100,000 for the drilling rights.

Gets More Lots

The San Martinez Oil Company yesterday completed negotiations for the leasing of seven city lots at Huntington Beach at the corner of Ocean avenue and Tenth street, according to field reports. The lots are one block west of the location of the San Martinez test well, and the action is considered to confirm the report that the test well has had good showings. The San Martinez is said to have paid $1000 bonus for each lot, the lots being twenty-five feet in width.

Near Completion

The Standard Oil Company yesterday began swabbing its San Gabriel No. 4 well in the Seal Beach field, according to official reports. The well is down 4487 feet, and is expected to go on production today or tomorrow.

Report Good Showing

Two operators in the townlot field at Huntington Beach east of Seventeenth street have picked up a good oil sand, according to field reports.

The Olympic Oil Company, drilling at 3850 feet at Fifteenth street and Ocean avenue, is said to have penetrated 500 feet of oil sand. The well is to go at least 100 feet deeper before stopping for a test, it was said.

The Crude Oil Company, one-half block distant from the Olympic, is down 3520 feet, and has passed through eighty feet of oil sand, it is said.

To Deepen Well

The Marland Oil Company has killed its Selover No. 3 to deepen, according to field rpeorts. The well came in at about 1000 barrels a day and dropped to about 500 barrels. Marland officials believe the output can be materially increased by taking in more oil sand. Present bottom is at 4765 feet.

Old Long Horn Cattle Type to be Perpetuated

Beef cattle in the West today are so much improved over the old Spanish long-horn cattle, that the United States Department of Agriculture has established a herd of long-horns in Oklahoma to preserve the old style.

The Spanish long-horns were characterized by the extremely long horns, wiry tough bodies and long legs, and were a decided contrast to present-day cattle, most of which are dehorned and are well rounded, sleek and fat.

The improvement of Western beef cattle is considered phenomenal considering the short span of years between the old Spanish "black cattle" and today's beef types.

To Our Friends and Clients

Tonight at the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, which is being held at the Olympic Auditorium, located at 18th street and Grand avenue, Los Angeles, the actual facts regarding the earnings and assets of the Julian Petroleum Corporation will be revealed. We are relying on these facts to smash once and for all the barrage of destructive propaganda that has wrought havoc with the market for Julian securities.

This house has necessarily been in close contact with the operation of the Julian Petroleum Corporation and its management. In the course of our observation we have never for one moment entertained a doubt that eventually there would be worked out through the efforts of the present management, and especially Mr. S. C. Lewis, every dollar that has been invested in it with a handsome profit for those who go along with the constructive program which he is carrying forward.

While our faith in the Julian Petroleum Corporation has been evidenced by the courtesies which we have extended to our clients in the recent breaks in the market, this faith is backed up by Mr. Lewis' faith and judgment, on which he has placed many millions of dollars in the Julian Petroleum Corporation since his connection with the company two years ago, and his personal guaranty to this house covering margin accounts.

Not only has he invested millions in the Julian Petroleum Corporation and its allied companies in building them to a point for the consolidation, but he has placed with this house to protect customers who were carrying stock on margin his personal guaranty against margin calls, together with hundreds of thousands of dollars, in order to assist in carrying every customer through to the consolidation, and to a point where they could realize on their investment.

We know it to be a fact that in the recent break, when stock carried by Mr. Lewis on margin with brokers in distant cities was called, and in some instances before these requirements could be met his stock being "dumped" into the market, nevertheless, Mr. Lewis responded to the call of the smaller stockholders by placing with us all of the cash resources for which he was called, so that every client of this house would be enabled to carry his account through until the completion of the consolidation.

Irrespective of the rumors, you cannot discount facts. In every move made by Mr. Lewis, he took into consideration the full account of the small stockholders, and it was his desire to protect them in every possible human way that could be afforded, even though his efforts in many instances did not accomplish the results.

We especially invite our clients to attend this meeting, and will have available in our offices on Saturday morning regular admission passes to the meeting. We ask that you attend and join with us in showing our appreciation of and faith in the Julian Petroleum Corporation and its President, Mr. S. C. Lewis.

We further pledge to our clients and customers our continued co-operation in carrying out the program for the consolidation of the California-Eastern Oil Company in the event it is approved by the stockholders.

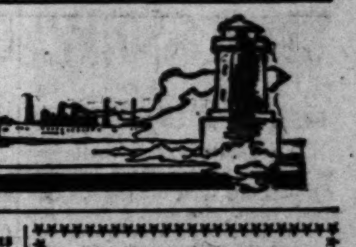
SHIPPING and Los Angeles Harbor NEWS



COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill had no influence on today's cotton market. Its announcement at noon caused a temporary decline of 5 points for the general contract list. No important selling pressure developed, however, and that decline was soon recovered.

By early in the afternoon, prices had been carried up to 6 and 7 points from yesterday's closing quotations on only a moderate amount of new trade buying, and some covering of shorts. Trading was light in the last hour, the market showing a good undertone and prices ruling around the closing quotations of yesterday of 13.90c for March; May, 14.05c; July, 14.25c and October of the next crop about 14.48c.

In the early decline of 5 to 9 points from yesterday's closing, March had sold at 13.84c; May 13.97c; July 14.16c and October 14.39c. On the rally in the early afternoon, March sold at 13.95c; May 14.12c; July 14.32c, and October 14.52c.

Liverpool spot cotton, which had advanced 8 points yesterday, declined 7 today, with middling quoted at 7.77d a pound. The day's sales were increased by late business to 18,000 bales, making 88,000 in this week.

Futures opened firm around their closing prices of yesterday, declined 6 points, but closed steadier at a net decline of 2 to 3 on the day against 4 to 5 due.

RUBBER MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25. (Exclusive)—Outside crude rubber exchange moved through a quiet and steady session today and spot on ribbed sheets held at 39½c. There seemed to be a scarcity of latex sellers below the 40c mark. There was evidence of factory buying in the spot market. The London market closed at ½d higher at 19½d, with shipments figures to date totaling 20,440 tons, which is slightly lower than the corresponding period a year ago. Coupled with the peak production in the automobile world many traders are preparing for the bullish drive which seems to be gaining more confidence in every session. The primary markets were steady and quiet.

GAIN IN TANKER FLEET LOOMING

Year to Witness Addition of Many New Carriers

Increase in Deadweight Tons Placed at 200,000

Fifteen Orders Announced During Last Week

Los Angeles' petroleum fleet will gain approximately 200,000 deadweight tons of new ships during the year as a result of construction contracts awarded to Atlantic and British shipyards during the past week. Notable among these was the award, on the 15th inst., of a contract to the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, Chester, Pa., by the California Petroleum Company of Los Angeles, for the construction of a 15,000-ton tanker, 600 feet in length. In all, construction of fifteen new tankers has been announced during the week.

The Standard Transportation Company of New York, on the 23rd inst., announced that it will build three 13,400 deadweight ton Diesel tankers for Los Angeles service; while British yards were given contracts by the Gulf Refining Company, also in the intercoastal trade, for the construction of six tankers, three of 15,000 tons, Diesel-driven, and three 3700-ton tankers, twin-screw steamers.

The Sun yards were likewise last week given orders by the Sun Oil Company of Philadelphia, for the construction of two additional 13,000-ton tankers. This will make three of these ships, 480 feet long and to be driven by Sun-Doxford engines. The Tidewater Oil Company of New York, also awarded a contract to the Sun shipyards for the building of a second tanker, much larger than the one Sun is now building at Chester for Tidewater. In England, the Asiatic Petroleum Company, Ltd., will build a 10,000-ton, steam-driven tanker, for the Los Angeles-Orient trade.

Nine tank steamers of the United States Shipping Board have also been purchased by private concerns and placed in trade out of Los Angeles Harbor during the year. They include the tankers Kehuku, Kekoskee, Dannedaike, District of Columbia, Hoven, Cecil County, Hampton Roads, Castana and Tuxpanoil.

POPULARITY OF TOUR TO HAWAII INDICATED

Almost doubling the number of passengers that sailed for Honolulu from the port of Los Angeles on the City of Los Angeles on the parallel voyage of the liner a year ago, the great ship will sail today with a total of 408 passengers, drawn in large measure from middle western and western States, according to an announcement made last night by R. F. Cullen, general passenger agent for the Los Angeles Steamship Company.

Providing the three-week round-trip tours from Los Angeles to Hawaii are becoming recognized the country over as an ideal vacation jaunt, the majority of the easterners booked for this voyage will make the round trip on the same liner returning to Los Angeles with her March 18.

Included in the large passenger list are fifty members of the Chicago Athletic Association, headed by William H. Powell, president. The party has honored the City of Los Angeles with the name of Cherry Cruiser, their tour being called the Cherry Circle Cruise.

That speed is not always the dominant feature in trans-Pacific passenger travel is indicated in the number of Los Angeles-bound passengers remaining aboard the Dollar Line's trans-Pacific ships to continue the ride down from San Francisco. The vessels from the Orient reach the Bay City early in the week and lie there several days before continuing here, yet few travelers abandon the ships for an over-night journey here by rail. The President Pierce, third ship in the new service, is due tomorrow, with thirty such passengers. She will take on fifty travelers here and 2000 tons of cotton, paper, sardines and oil well machinery and sail on her return for the Orient Monday noon.

Los Angeles shipyards today will complete one of the Coast's biggest repair jobs when it discharges the Associated Oil Company tanker Solana from the drydock. The vessel has been repairing 110 days at a cost of $345,000, following her beaching at Point Arguello in a fog late last year. She will return to service as a gasoline carrier March 10.

Efforts are being made at William Muller's shipyards to launch the new Wrigley tug, Louis, Black, March 5, the thirty-third wedding anniversary of Capt. Louis Black, for whom the craft is named, and Mrs. Black. It will be the tenth tug in the towboat fleet of the Wilmington Transportation Company.

E. L. Doheny's big cruiser yacht Casiana, arrived late yesterday afternoon from a cruise of the Spanish Main. The vessel left here two months ago, picked up several Standard Oil officials on the gulf and visited Tampico and Venezuela.

Five thousand crates of early tomatoes arrived on the National Navigation Lines steamer Washington from the Mexican west coast yesterday for discharge here. Tomato importations have increased greatly this winter, four small vessels entering that trade exclusively, while several larger ships like the Washington have brought frequent cargoes. The quality of the commodity is said to have risen as much as the quantity.

The McCormick coastal liner Rose City failed to complete her trip from Portland and San Francisco to Los Angeles this week, turning around this side of the Bay City and putting in there with mechanical difficulties. Passengers bound here were given rail tickets here, and the liner will proceed north from San Francisco today to resume her schedule.

Cecil B. De Mille and fifty-four film folk went out on the Admiral liner Emma Alexander yesterday morning for San Diego. Sea scenes will be taken aboard the liner en route, the party returning on her today. Joseph Schildkraut and Julia Fay are featured in the picture.

Oil carriers comprise roughly one-fourth the ship traffic through the Panama Canal, according to figures in a recent customs bulletin. Twelve hundred and sixty-two tank ships transited the waterway in 1926, carrying 7,117,408 tons of mineral-oil products. They showed a combined net tonnage of 7,323,942 and paid $6,447,399.40 in tolls. They comprised 28.1 per cent of commercial transits; 28.3 per cent of net tonnage; 26.9 per cent of tolls collected, and 25.7 per cent of total cargo through the canal. The year was excelled just twice in the canal's history. In 1923 tanker transits numbered 1704 with 9,625,714 tons and in 1924 there were 1320 ships with 8,050,846 tons of cargo.

S. Nasu, Pacific Coast manager for the Mitsubishi Soji Kaisha at San Francisco, was at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday superintending the loading of the line's tanker Manju Maru at the Associated Oil Company's docks.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Dollar liner President Van Buren came off dry dock this morning, her annual cleaning and painting completed, and another Dollar liner, the President Pierce, went on dry dock to repair her propellers. The Van Buren, on an around-the-world cruise, is scheduled to leave here tomorrow in command of Capt. J. J. Cadogan, while the President Pierce is due to sail a week from tomorrow for Seattle.

The Williams liner Wilburn, one of the latest additions to the line's intercoastal fleet, arrived here today from Baltimore on her first voyage to this port under her new owners. The vessel was formerly the Eastern Admiral, but was purchased by the Williams Line along with two other vessels, and the names changed. The three ships were then converted into oil-burners and especially fitted for the coast-to-coast trade.

The Panama Mail motorship City of Panama arrived here today from Cristobal and Latin American ports with a large passenger list and a full cargo. The vessel is scheduled to leave here Monday.

SEATTLE, Feb. 25. (AP)—The Pacific Steamship Company vessel Ruth Alexander arrived here today, after standing by during the rescue of the crew of the Mary E. Moore by the motorship Admiral Peary, off the Oregon coast. The Ruth Alexander carried 400 passengers.

Lumber from local mills was also taken today by the steamer Pacific Fir for east coast delivery, the Missoula for California and the Rensu for South America. These three vessels shifted down Sound this afternoon for additional cargo.

The steamer Ruth Alexander arrived late today from California, via Seattle, with freight to discharge and to load general cargo and flour for the return trip.

PORTLAND, Feb. 25. (AP)—A survey of the bow of the steamer Daisy Gadsby, reported to have struck a log when moving today to the Inman-Poulsen lumber mill, is said to have disclosed no serious damage. She is loading for San Francisco and will proceed as scheduled.

The schooner K. V. Kruse has been chartered for a voyage from the Columbia River to Adelaide with lumber. The rate was given as $14.50.

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Feb. 25. (AP)—With nearly 80,000 cases of liquor in transit and a full cargo of general merchandise and lumber, the Swedish freighter Falsterbo sailed from Vancouver yesterday for the Antipodes.

SEWARD (Alaska) Feb. 25. (AP)—A terrific storm forced the Admiral Watson of the Pacific Steamship Company to return to port this noon, and some concern for the safety of the halibut fleet on the Alaskan banks is expressed by shipping men.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Notable Crecimiento de Población en los Estados Unidos

WASHINGTON, Febrero 25.—Puede encontrarse interesante campo para la especulación y para los cálculos relacionados con el futuro aumento de población de los Estados Unidos, en os cómputos oficiales sobre el número de habitantes que habrá en este país el primero de Julio próximo. Si esos cómputos fueren exactos—y hay que advertir que los anteriores se han acercado notablemente a la verdad—la nación norteamericana pasará de los 200,000,000 de habitantes mucho antes de que termine el siglo actual.

El cálculo hecho por el Negociado del Censo, que se refiere sólo a los Estados Unidos continentales, estima que el primero de Julio de 1927 nuestra población será de 118,628,000, lo que significa un aumento de casi 13,000,000 sobre el total que arrojó el censo de 1920. El crecimiento es, pues, de más de 1.5 por ciento al año, o sea más del 15 por ciento para la década de 1920 a 1930.

Fuertes Multas se Impondrán a los Adulteradores de Leche en Italia

ROMA, Febrero 25.—La campaña que está llevando a cabo el primer ministro Mussolini es todo el reino para el fomento de las familias numerosas en Italia, y los esfuerzos paralelos que se han estado haciendo para reducir la mortalidad infantil, han dado como primer resultado que se descubran las adulteraciones de la leche en Roma.

Agentes públicos especiales se han encontrado durante el mes de Enero 168 expendios donde se vende leche descremada y adulterada; en algunos casos con agua sucia. Otros tantos han sido señalados en el curso de este mes.

Ha anunciado ya el gobierno que van a aplicarse muy severas sanciones por este delito: se impondrán fuertes multas; en los casos de flagrante culpabilidad se dictarán sentencias de prisión, y se publicarán asimismo las listas de los delincuentes.

La Votación Será Obligatoria en el Estado Libre Irlandés

DUBLIN, Febrero 25.—Pronto se presentarán proyectos de ley para obligar a todos los votantes del Estado Libre Irlandés a registrar su voto; caso de no hacerlo, se les aplicarán sanciones. El partido del gobierno manifiesta que esto es necesario, pues que en anteriores elecciones sólo votaron un 45 por ciento de todos los electores. Esta declaración equivale a la indicación de que se proceda desde luego a remediar este estado de cosas. Hay más: el partido gubernamental exige que la nueva legislación esté ya en vigor para las venideras elecciones generales de diputados al Dail Eireann, que se efectuarán en Junio próximo.

Gran Exposición de Pieles en Compton

Tres amplísimas tiendas pardas, capas cada una de contener un circo de tres pistas, estaban ayer recibiendo los últimos toques de los decoradores, que, por dentro y por fuera, las estaban convirtiendo en hermosos edificios multicolores. Se está preparando en la citada población suburbana la tercera exposición anual de conejos de piel fina, que se abrirá el próximo martes y durará una semana. Puede decirse que los 12,000 habitantes de Compton empezaron ya a ensayar los papeles que individualmente van a desempeñar en la citada feria. Se espera que concurran unas 150,000 personas a visitar el certamen, y que lleguen a $2,000,000 el valor de las piezas industriales que se exhiban allí.

El Viento y la Inundación Exponen a unos "Bootleggers"

Las aguas de lluvia y el viento les han jugado una mala pasada a Charles Morrell, la señora Clara Aguiar y Joseph R. Encinas, del número 606 de North Bonnie Beach Road, en Belvedere, según parte rendido ayer por el capitán Benton, jefe de la escuadra "seca" del sheriff.

Dice el parte que los subordinados del capitán Benton andaban buscando a un "bootlegger" misterioso. El viento había arrancado de sus goznes la puerta del sótano de la casa arriba citada, y al explorar por allí, dicen los agentes que distinguieron ocho objetos, parcialmente visibles, y que parecían barricas. Sospechosos de Morrell, lograron comprarle un galón de whisky. Habiendo registrado después el sótano, encontraron barricas de cinco a diez galones con whisky, un alambique, y mucha malta.

"Times" Daily Short Story

A Retrieved Reformation

By O. HEN

THE clerk handed him a railroad ticket and the five-dollar bill with which the law expected him to rehabilitate himself into good citizenship and prosperity. The warden gave him a cigar, and shook hands. Valentine, 9762, was chronicled on the books "Pardoned by Governor," and Mr. James Valentine walked out into the sunshine.

He tossed a quarter into the hat of the blind man sitting by the door, and boarded his train. Three hours set him down in a little town near the State line. He went to the cafe of one Mike Dolan and shook hands with Mike, who was alone behind the bar.

He got his key and went up-stairs, unlocking the door of a room at the rear. Everything was just as he had left it.

Pulling out from the wall a folding-bed, Jimmy slid back a panel in the wall and dragged out a dust-covered suit-case. He opened this and gazed fondly at the finest set of burglar's tools in the East. It was a complete set, made of specially tempered steel, the latest designs in drills, punches, braces and bits, jimmies, clamps, and augers, with two or three novelties, invented by Jimmy himself, in which he took pride. Over nine hundred dollars they had cost him to have made at a place where they make such things for the profession.

In half an hour Jimmy went down stairs and through the cafe. He was now dressed in tasteful and well-fitting clothes, and carried his dusted and cleaned suit-case in his hand.

"Got anything on?" asked Mike Dolan, genially.

"Me?" said Jimmy, in a puzzled tone. "I don't understand. I'm representing the New York Amalgamated Short Snap Biscuit Cracker and Frazzled Wheat Company."

This statement delighted Mike to such an extent that Jimmy had to take a seltzer-and-milk on the spot. He never touched "hard" drinks.

A week after the release of Valentine, 9762, there was a neat job of safe-burglary done in Richmond, Ind., with no clue to the author. The loss was high enough to bring the matter up into Detective Ben Price's class of work. Price investigated the scenes of the robbery and was heard to remark:

"That's Dandy Jim Valentine's autograph. He's resumed business."

One afternoon Jimmy Valentine and his suit-case climbed out of the mail-hack in Elmore, a little town five miles off the railroad down in the black-jack country of Arkansas.

A young lady crossed the street, passed him at the corner and entered a door over which was the sign "The Elmore Bank." Jimmy Valentine looked into her eyes, forgot what he was, and became another man. She lowered her eyes and colored slightly. Young men of Jimmy's style and looks were scarce in Elmore.

Jimmy collared a boy that was loafing on the steps of the bank.

"Isn't that young lady Miss Polly Simpson?" asked Jimmy, with specious guile.

"Naw," said the boy. "She's Annabel Adams. Her pa owns this bank."

Jimmy went to the Planters' Hotel, registered as Ralph D. Spencer. He leaned on the desk and declared his platform to the clerk. He said he had come to Elmore to look for a location to go into business. How was the shoe business, now, in the town? He had thought of the shoe business. Was there an opening?

Later on he met Miss Annabel Adams, and became more and more captivated by her charms.

At the end of a year the situation of Mr. Ralph Spencer was this: he had won the respect of the community, his shoe-store was flourishing, and he and Annabel were engaged to be married in two weeks.

One day Jimmy sat down in his room and wrote this letter, which he mailed to the safe address of one of his old friends in St. Louis:

Dear Old Pal:

I want you to be at Sullivan's place, in Little Rock, next Wednesday night at 9 o'clock. I want you to wind up some little matters for me. Say Billy, I've quit the old business—a year ago. I've got a nice store. I'm making an honest living, and I'm going to marry the finest girl on earth two weeks from now. I wouldn't touch a dollar of another man's money now for a million.

Your old friend,

JIMMY.

On the Monday night after Jimmy wrote this letter, Ben Price jogged unobstrusively into Elmore in a livery buggy. He lounged about town in his quiet way until he found out what he wanted to know. From the drug-store across the street from Spencer's shoe-store he got a good look at Ralph D. Spencer.

"Going to marry the banker's daughter are you, Jimmy?" said Ben to himself, softly. "Well, I don't know!"

The next morning Jimmy took breakfast at the Adamses.

After breakfast quite a family party went downtown together—Mr. Adams, Annabel, Jimmy, and Annabel's married sister with her two little girls, aged five and nine. They came by the hotel where Jimmy still boarded, and he ran up to his room and brought along his suit-case. Then they went on to the bank. There stood Jimmy's horse and buggy and Dolph Gibson, who was going to drive him over to the railroad station.

The Elmore Bank had just put in a new safe and vault. Mr. Adams was very proud of it, and insisted on an inspection by every one.

While they were thus engaged Ben Price sauntered in and leaned on his elbow, looking casually inside between the railings. He told the teller that he didn't want anything; he was just waiting for a man he knew.

Suddenly there was a scream or two from the women, and a commotion. Unperceived by the elders, May, the nine-year-old girl, in a spirit of play, had shut Agatha in the vault.

The old banker sprang to the han-

PUBLICITY LAUDED BY CITY GUEST

Work of All-Year Club Called Benefit to Tourist as Well as to Section

A man who is personal sponsor for at least 18,000 tourists and perhaps for several times that many, believes the All-Year Club is not only a priceless benefit to Southern California, but an equal benefit to the tourists as well.

The man is John Hooper, a retired publisher of Vancouver and Winnipeg. Hooper is president of the Affiliated Tourists' Society that now has a registered membership of 18,000. Hooper is in Los Angeles from October to May. Then he is home a little while, and later he is in Toronto and other cities. Three years ago the Hudson Bay Society awarded him a gold medal for being the most consistent of all tourists.

"Each year," said Hooper, "thousands of my friends come down here from Canada. The number is growing each year. Each year new hundreds and new thousands are influenced to come by the advertising of the All-Year Club of Southern California. They are the folks who, at this minute are helping to make the hotel and apartment-house business better in Southern California than it has been for years and this in spite of the fact that Los Angeles has more space for transients than ever.

"If the transaction ended with a benefit to Los Angeles only it would be a poor bargain. But it does not do it. It is a benefit to each tourist visitor. Each has a splendid time. Each is well received, for in a definite way Los Angeles has acquired the art and knack of entertaining visitors. Each of your visitors here this winter has visited elsewhere. He has been in many places. In each place he has mingled with other well-informed people. He has learned from them. In coming here he communicates to people here ideas gained elsewhere. It is right in this particular point that Los Angeles is better off than almost any city in the world. Because of the tourists who come here, and because of the creative minds that are drawn here by the motion pictures, this is the most progressive city in the world. It is also a radical spot for progress elsewhere.

"And because it stirs people to travel, because it gets them to come and mingle, the All-Year Club is not only a big benefit to Southern California, but a wholesome educational influence, on all who, through it, make new contacts."

Filing of the liens against the property of Oates followed a lengthy investigation of the accounts of Oates by the special intelligence unit of the Internal Revenue Department. According to the complaint, Oates has banked money under the names of C. C. Moore, J. M. Myers, W. L. McBride and W. K. Hall. Accounts of Mrs. Dorothy Oates, wife of Oates, were also attached.

Tale of Gin and Kiss in Dark Told in Court

Death was not the wages of sin in the case of F. W. Davisson but when the whole story of the bottle of gin which caused his arraignment before Municipal Judge Turney was unfolded he might have wished that such punishment awaited him.

When Officer Kramer had completed his role as prosecuting witness, the mere charge of possession of liquor had been shunted into the background.

"Your Honor," the officer testified, "I found this defendant in a parked car with a bottle of gin."

"Was there anything else in the car?" demanded Chief Trial Deputy City Prosecutor Thoms.

"There was a girl," Kramer replied. "He was kissing her."

"Did she resist?" queried Judge Turney.

"No, sir; she appeared to be cooperating," replied Kramer.

The witness then declared that he had ascertained the defendant is married; that he had called on his wife to furnish bail and as a final count that he had admitted being a real-estate salesman.

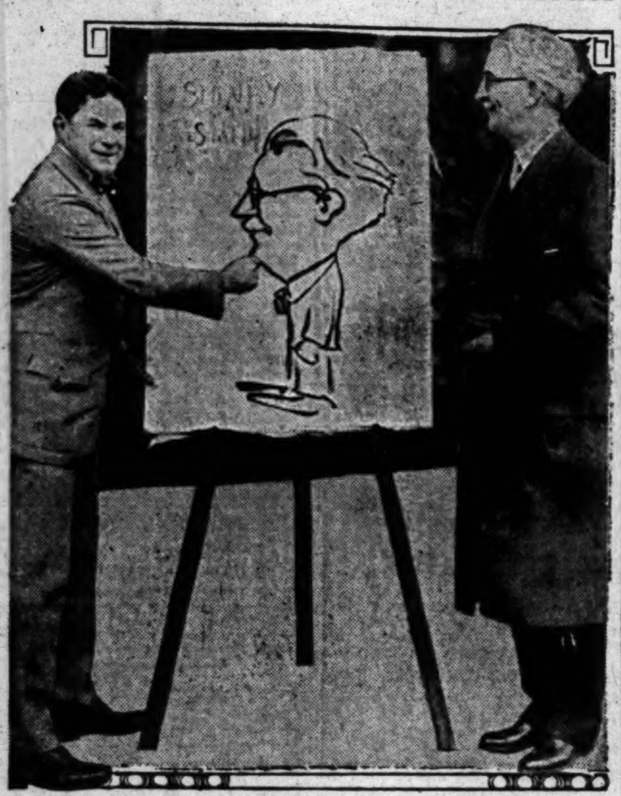
GUMP CREATOR IN ACTION

Cartoonist Has Educator as Model



Sid Smith Sketching Dr. R. B. Von KleinSmid

ANDY GUMP and his creator, Sidney Smith were introduced to more than 400 Ham-and-Eggers yesterday morning at the Breakfast Club, 3213 Riverside Drive. Smith's mirth-provoking fingers brought peals of laughter from Lady Diana Manners, Morris Gest of "The Miracle," and other notables, as he caricatured Dr. Rufus B. Von KleinSmid, Lionel Belmore and then closed with a "speaking likeness (Oh, Min!) of Andy, himself.

"Hollywood! The greatest word in the world today! California! You think you are boosters, but you don't boost half enough—$150,000,000 wouldn't be enough to let you tell the story adequately," said Gest in his address. Mr. Gest and Lady Manners were presented with gold membership cards in the club by President Maurice DeMond.

Other guests of the club included the officers and members of the Cooperative Club, headed by President Bob Weaver; J. F. T. O'Connor, officers and show committee of the Automobile Show and E. L. Cord, president of Auburn Automobile Company, Auburn, Ind.; Frederick E. Muscovics, president of the Stutz Motor Car Company of Indianapolis; Puss Halbriter and a dozen or more of his racing stars entered for the Culver City speed classic on March 6, next.

The famous Breakfast Club initiation was given Mr. Gest, Lynn C. Buxton, Dr. J. David Beatty and C. G. Pyle. The hosts were Lonnie G. Feagans and George Witte.

Mr. Gest said Los Angeles has made a world's record for artistic appreciation of "The Miracle" and that he intends to produce at least one motion-picture feature a year in the future. He stated his belief that Hollywood is destined to equal in influence on world history the nation's capital city, Washington, and reiterated that he is planning a great production for the Bowl.

Other members of "The Miracle" cast who were present included Mme. Maritzka Aldrich, Maria Cherer-Bekefi, Orville Caldwell, Fritz Feld, Michael Dalmatoff and Mrs. W. T. Webb.

Mrs. Allen C. Balch has endowed the new Scripps College for Women at Claremont with a Browsing room to be placed in the first college building which is now being constructed on the Scripps campus. Endowment of the reading room was announced yesterday following a meeting of a group of Scripps College trustees and Pomona College faculty members at Mrs. Balch's Biltmore residence this week.

Those present at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Balch, Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of schools of Los Angeles; Mrs. Orville Routt of Hollywood; Miss Ethel Richardson, assistant State superintendent of adult education; Mrs. Paul Jordan Smith of Hollywood; Dean E. J. Jaqua, director of Scripps College, and Dr. Bruce McCully and W. H. Kerr of Pomona College.

The room which Mrs. Balch is endowing will be on the court side of the dormitory. It will be furnished completely for comfort and convenience and a large fireplace will be one of the conspicuous features. Approximately 1000 books will be placed in the room when it is first opened, and all from the best authors. Ample provision has been made for the replacement of old books and the addition of new ones.

ELKS' BAND TO GIVE DANCE

NORTH HILL STREET PLAN GIVEN COUNCIL

The City Council received yesterday from the North Hill Street Extension Association the engineering maps and plans of the proposed extension of Hill street north and northwest proposed by Leslie R. Saunders and known as the Saunders plan. By this plan, which includes the construction of a 1200-foot tunnel, Hill street is to be linked in the north with the North Figueroa street extension to provide an artery of traffic to serve the central business district. The plan has been approved, the proponents said, by the Major Business Center Association, the Central Business District Association and the North Hill Street Association. The Council sent the plan to City Engineer Shaw and to the Council's Street Opening and Widening Committee for investigation and report.

EXTENSION ORDER URGED

City Engineer Shaw yesterday asked the City Council that he be instructed to proceed with the plans for the extension of Vine street into Arden Boulevard, and informed the Council that the extension will not interfere with the proposed new building for the Church of Christ the King.

Six Large Tents Necessary to House Exhibits

Air Craft and Motor Boats Add to Interest

The fourteenth annual automobile show of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association will open at 2 o'clock this afternoon in six large tents erected at the southeast corner of Hill street and Washington Boulevard. More than $1,250,000 worth of exhibits are to be shown.

Automobiles, motor boats, airplanes, dydroplanes, accessories and equipment are ready for inspection. Crowds are expected to throng the tents this afternoon. Announcement was made yesterday by Burt Roberts, secretary of the Los Angeles Motor Car Dealers' Association, that everything is in readiness for what he termed the greatest and most spectacular automotive exhibit ever given in the Southland.

NEW HIGH MARK SET

"Nowhere in the nation has a show ever been offered on so large a scale," Mr. Roberts said. "And the automobiles and accessories on display here will set a new high mark for motordom in Southern California."

Five major bands have been engaged to furnish music to visitors. Elaborate decorations valued at more than $100,000 have transformed the tents into a flower garden and sea of beautiful tapestries.

Each of the six inclosures has a color motif of its own. Wide aisles have been so arranged that visitors pass from tent to tent with the minimum of time and the maximum of comfort.

An inclusive display of airplanes is one of the features of the local automotive event that is sure to attract scores of interested spectators. The American Aircraft Corporation, the Western Air Express, Aero Corporation of California and the Warren School of Aeronautics all have planes on display.

MOTOR BOATS AND CRUISERS

The Pacific Coast Hydroplane Association is showing a number of fast water craft and the Howard Motor Company has installed an exhibit of motor boats and cabin cruisers.

One of the elements of interest will be a demonstration of latest-type garage equipment. Visitors will see exactly how repairs are made and what steps are necessary to keep a machine in condition.

The Los Angeles Traffic Commission through C. R. Snether announced that it has compiled 100,000 copies of a booklet on local traffic rules. These will be given to show visitors.

Closing hour is placed at 10 p.m. Tomorrow the show will open at 10 a.m. and run for twelve and one-half hours. This schedule will continue until final closing on March 6.

Coast Route to San Diego Will be Open Today

The San Diego coast route by way of San Juan Capistrano, Oceanside and La Jolla, will be open at noon today, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California. A detour by way of Rancho Santa Fe has been provided for the use of pleasure-car travel only.

Trucks up to two and one-half tons capacity are using the route, via San Juan Capistrano, Oceanside and Escondido.

WILSHIRE BOULEVARD LIGHTING SANCTIONED

The ordinance of intention for the installation of ornamental lighting posts on Wilshire Boulevard from Westlake Park to Fairfax avenue was adopted unanimously by the City Council yesterday. The delay in the adoption of the ordinance was due to the fact that it could not be presented until the curbs had been set back to widen the street. The standards and lanterns are to be of a type specially designed for Wilshire Boulevard. The majority petition presented asking for the street lights was sponsored by the Wilshire Boulevard District Chamber of Commerce.

Two-Year Disagreement at End

MISS PINCHOT TO PLAY NUN

Former Governor's Niece Here for "Miracle" Role; Morris Gest to Make Stage Debut

Rosamond Pinchot, niece of ex-Gov. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania, first to play in this country the role of the nun in "The Miracle," arrived in Los Angeles last night to prepare for her special appearance in her former role at the Benefit performance to be given in the Shrine Auditorium tomorrow night.

At the same time Morris Gest, producer of the spectacle, announced that for the first time in his career he would appear on the stage Sunday playing a part in the play. This announcement was greeted with enthusiasm by thousands of the director's admirers who have urged him repeatedly to broaden his activities and become an actor as well as a director.

Coincident with these developments Mayor Cryer issued a proclamation urging residents of Los Angeles and Southern California to attend the benefit performance of "The Miracle" tomorrow evening. A large percentage of the receipts will be given to the Actors' Benefit Fund and the remainder will be divided among other local charities to be named by Mr. Gest later.

DISAGREEMENT AT END

Miss Pinchot's arrival in Los Angeles marked the termination of a two years' breach between the actress and Mr. Gest. When Miss Pinchot left the cast of the play two years ago to enter the University of California it precipitated a disagreement between her and Mr. Gest. This disagreement continued until last week, when they became reconciled and Miss Pinchot agreed to appear in "The Miracle" Sunday, Tuesday and Thursday nights in the role which she played originally.

Gest's appearance will be his first on any stage as a performer. His father-in-law, David Belasco, has tried vainly for years to persuade him to create a stage role. Constantin Stanislavsky, one of the founders of the Moscow Art Theater, sought Gest for a role in the dramatic company of that organization on its tour of the United States.

Huge Order for Copper Cable Placed by City

An order for 800,000 pounds of copper cable costing more than $100,000 was received by the California Wire and Cable Company at Orange yesterday from the water and power division of the city of Los Angeles. The order is one of the largest received at the plant in some time.

The cable is to be used for electrical purposes in Los Angeles and its delivery will be spread over the next six months, according to officers of the wire company. The California Wire and Cable Company is facing the greatest year in its history, according to reports. Outstanding unfilled orders at the local plant total more than 6,000,000 pounds of copper wire and cable, it was reported. An extra half-shift of employees, is working at the plant to fill orders and more people may be employed, it is reported. There are approximately 150 persons working at the plant at the present time.

Orders received during the last few weeks include those for electric cable for the Philippine Islands and several small orders from Mexico.

Film Stars Vie With Others to Be First to Talk by Phone With British Friends at $87 Per Call When Commercial Line Opens

A little sisterly chat and some light gossip will be exchanged among other things between the sister cities of Los Angeles and London over the telephone today.

The chat will mark the inauguration of trans-Atlantic radio-telephone service between Southern California and England. At the same time, the remainder of California, Oregon, Washington, Nevada and Arizona also will be placed in communication with the tight little isle overseas. Extension of the service to these five States will give all of the United States direct telephonic connection with all of England, Scotland and Wales.

N. R. Powley, vice-president and general manager of the Southern California Telephone Company, will open the service in a short chat to Col. H. E. Schreeve, assistant vice-president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company in London. This call will flash across the intervening 7000 miles of land and ocean at 7:30 a.m. today.

Thereafter, a merry race will be run, it is predicted, for the distinction of being the first to engage in a strictly commercial call. Both Bebe Daniels and Colleen Moore, cinema actresses, will attempt to be first, according to announcement. They are not the only candidates for the honor. Calls have been filed steadily since the application for service was opened at 12:01 a.m. yesterday. Procedure is no different than in telephoning to San Francisco.

Others who have filed applications for calls include James M. Burke, prominent Visalia attorney, who, it was announced, will endeavor to speak to the Prince of Wales in behalf of the Visalia Chamber of Commerce.

Miss Daniels is to speak with the editor of the London Chronicle, greeting her British admirers.

FRIEDLANDER IN STATE POSITION

City Prosecutor Appointed Corporation Chief

Strong Indorsements Swing Job to Local Man

Young Names San Diegan to Real Estate Post

John M. Friedlander, City Prosecutor of Los Angeles, was appointed State Corporation Commissioner and Stephen Barnson of San Diego, vice-president of the California Real Estate Association, was named State Real Estate Commissioner by Gov. Young yesterday.

Friedlander will fill the position made vacant several months ago by the resignation of Corporation Commissioner Edwin M. Daugherty. Barnson takes the office of former Real Estate Commissioner J. R. Gabbert, Riverside newspaper publisher.

J.M. FRIEDLANDER.

In a statement accompanying the appointments, Gov. Young said:

"Realizing the extreme importance of the Corporation Department, I have proceeded with very great care and deliberation in my appointment of Corporation Commissioner. I have chosen Mr. Friedlander out of the dozen or more applicants who have been suggested, largely on the showing of the 400 or more extremely strong indorsements which have come to me from those who are acquainted with his record of public service in Los Angeles.

STRONG BACKING

"I have carefully studied these indorsements and find that they come from all parties and factions, from all professions, from all business and industrial interests. I find strong letters from the presidents and vice-presidents of almost twenty of the largest banks of Los Angeles, from scores of her most prominent judges and attorneys, from her leading and most conservative business men, all assuring me that Mr. Friedlander possesses an organizing ability, a fairness and breadth of mind, a soberness of judgment, and an unimpeachable integrity which will render him an ideal appointee for this responsible position.

"I have received practically nothing adverse to these opinions. I have, moreover, learned nothing regarding the other suggested candidates which can match the unanimity of indorsement I have received in this case."

VETERAN IN SERVICE

John M. Friedlander is 37 years of age. He was born in New York, the son of Joseph and Rose I. Friedlander. He was educated in the New York City public schools, and was graduated from the New York University in 1912. In the same year he came to Los Angeles and engaged in the general practice of law for three years thereafter. In 1915 he entered the City Prosecutor's office, in 1919 was appointed Chief Deputy City Prosecutor, in 1921 Assistant City Prosecutor and City Prosecutor in 1923, a position he has held ever since. He is married and is the father of two boys.

"I haven't been notified formally of my appointment yet," the appointee declared yesterday, "but if I am to be the new Corporation Commissioner you can say that I will strive not only to uphold the laws of the State, but to encourage and strengthen all legitimate endeavors."

Mr. Barnson, one of San Diego's principal real-estate operators, is 45 years of age. He came to California seventeen years ago and is self-made. He served two terms as president of the San Diego Realty Board in 1923 and 1924, twice was vice-president of the California Real Estate Association and now is a director in that association.

He a Republican and has been active throughout his residence here

BACHELORS HOSTS AT BALL

Brilliant Fancy Costumes Striking Feature of Mardi Gras at Biltmore

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY

With the usual elaboration, which has always marked their entertainments, the Bachelors celebrated their twenty-fourth anniversary last evening, with their usual Mardi Gras Ball. A slight deviation from previous affairs was made in this celebration for instead of the usual hour 10:30 o'clock as in previous balls, the invitations read dinner-dance at 8:30 o'clock, and there were no dinner parties given by hosts or hostesses before the affair, although many gathered their guests at their homes before going down to the Biltmore.

The affair was as is their usual custom, a fancy dress ball and the guests were also invited to breakfast at 4 o'clock this morning.

The Bachelors invited Mrs. Walter Jarvis Barlow, Mrs. Ernest Albert Bryant, Mrs. Edward Laurence Doheny, Mrs. Calhoun James Drake, Mrs. William May Garland, Mrs. Frank Silas Hicks, Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin, Mrs. John Barnes Miller, Mrs. Daniel Murphy, Mrs. Lee Allen Phillips, Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers, and Mrs. Russell McDonnell Taylor to assist them as patronesses.

BEAUTIFUL COSTUMES

The guests wore beautiful and artistic costumes as follows: Mrs. Garland wore a Spanish costume with black velvet bodice and cerise skirt, with very full ruffles at the bottom banded with ribbons of all colors. A large Spanish comb was worn in her hair.

Mr. Garland was a diplomat with broad red satin ribbon and many jeweled decorations. Full-dress evening clothes.

Mrs. Daniel Murphy wore an imported evening gown of white and silver, with jeweled headdress.

Miss Sue Sinnot wore a period costume of white taffeta, with flounces or rare old lace, and a jeweled coronet in her hair.

Mrs. Lee Allen Phillips wore a Spanish gown of the Seventeenth century of red satin and black Spanish lace. A three-cornered hat of black satin with flowing black Spanish lace at the back, and pearls completed the costume.

Mr. Phillips wore a Lord Chesterfield costume, snuff-colored trousers and dark blue broadcloth coat, with ruffled lace shirt, and heavily embroidered waistcoat. A tall snuff-colored hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers were Pierrot and Pierette, the latter in dainty frock of black lace and tulle, with silver wig, while Mr. Rogers was also all in black. They wore pointed caps and carried jesters' wands.

Mrs. Eugene O. McLaughlin wore an all-white Russian costume, while Mr. McLaughlin was in diplomatic garb.

Mrs. Frank Silas Hicks wore an im-

THE "threat" of England to send a warship to Nicaragua . . .

I imagine it will not turn out to be such a frightful threat, after all.

On the contrary, it appears—if you read between the lines—to be a reassurance that Uncle Sam can go down to Central America and do his stuff in the way of forcibly preserving the peace without interference from Europe.

A FRIENDLY NUDGE

By this message England not only suggests that America take a firm hold but says that if we do not she will.

Meanwhile knowing full well that we will.

BLOODY FINGERS

If the whole truth is ever known, I imagine it will be found that the bloody fingers of soviet Russia have all along been in this Nicaraguan affair.

Just as it is now made clear—as predicted in this column a week or so ago—that this Chinese fracas is in reality the beginning of a terrific struggle between Russia and England.

ELEPHANT GRAVEYARD

An interesting cable message from South Africa relates to one of the strange mysteries of animal life —the elephant graveyards. To which old elephants always return to die.

There is always something uncanny about an elephant. He always seems to be living in a world of his own—of sights and sounds that we do not see or hear.

Kipling says that the elephants run amuck because things get going funny in their heads.

That's why the gun elephants will lug artillery just so near the firing line and no nearer. The unimaginative bullocks have to go the rest of the way.

WORDS FOR SONGS

Mrs. Edith McCormick of Chicago has decided to turn song writer—while her friend, Eleanor Everest Freer, writes the music.

If anybody with a human brain will turn to and tackle this job, the world will thereby be saved much agony.

I sincerely hope that the chap was wrong who said he could judge a people by its songs. By that criterion we would belong somewhere about forty degrees lower than the Cro-Magnons—mentally.

BASHFUL STREET SIGNS

Sometimes I am constrained to wonder just what the engineers who put up street signs intended them for.

Certainly not to be seen.

They made them, to begin with, so small they couldn't possibly be seen. Then they stuck them in the Stygian darkness that exists under the edge of electric light globes.

ALSO HOUSE NUMBERS

The same instinct guides householders when they put up house numbers.

Wherever possible they hide them behind rose bushes. Where this is not possible they put them as far removed from visibility as may be in the hope and belief that a rose bush or something will grow up in front of them.

DIRECTOR DEATH DECIDED SUICIDE

Coroner Issues Certificate in Reynolds Shooting

Guests and Wife Give Story of Heated Quarrel

Tragedy Follows His Return from Location

LYNN REYNOLDS

Satisfied that Lynn R. Reynolds, 36 years of age, a motion-picture director, ended his own life by sending a bullet through his brain as the culmination of a heated quarrel with his wife, which started over a joking remark made by her about Renee Adoree, film actress, Coroner Nance yesterday signed a certificate of death by suicide, thus halting any further investigation into the case. His action means no inquest will be conducted.

Miss Adoree, who was confined to her bed yesterday at her home, 851 South Burnside, from physical exhaustion as a result of being snowbound in the High Sierras for nearly three weeks while on location with Reynolds an da company, issued a short informal statement through her attorney, Maj. Walter K. Tuller. She said:

"News of Mr. Reynolds death came as a distinct shock to me and I am very sorry. I know nothing at all about the circumstances of his death, and I am in no way connected."

OFFICERS CONVINCED

Reynolds shot himself while in a back room of his home at 8281 Fountain avenue, Thursday night, several hours after his return from the vicinity of Bishop, where he took his company three weeks ago. The shooting occurred before the eyes of his wife, known on the screen as Kathleen O'Connor, and two guests, Mr. and Mrs. William H. White of 433 South Kenmore. He died yesterday morning at the Receiving Hospital.

MRS LYNN REYNOLDS

Dist.-Atty. Keyes and Capt. Bright, chief of the Sheriff's homicide squad, who personally investigated the shooting, reported to the Coroner they were satisfied from the statements of the witnesses that Reynolds killed himself in a fit of fury. The statements of the eye-witnesses, they said, also were substantiated by the physical facts surrounding the shooting.

In a sworn statement to Mr. Keyes Mrs. Reynolds denied that she and her husband quarreled but White asserted that they had a violent altercation in which they hurled accusations and counter-accusations. The quarreling started, White told the officers, when Mrs. Reynolds, in a jesting manner, accused her husband of having shared a lunch basket, which she herself had prepared for him, with Miss Adoree while they were on location.

"That's a lie," he is reported to have shouted.

LEADS TO QUARREL

This remark, the witness said, seemed to infuriate Reynolds and one word led to another between the couple when Mrs. Renyolds threw an ash tray at her husband and he threatened to shoot her and kill himself. The argument took place during a dinner party in celebration of Reynolds's return.

Reynolds seemed irritated, "rather wild and disturbed," and appeared displeased at the home-coming party, as he had wired his wife to invite guests for a surprise party and he expected more of his friends to be present, White stated.

Finally Reynolds, after agreeing to a separation following a hot argument as to the ownership of the house in which they lived, got up from the table and went to a rear room, White said. His wife followed him and when he, White, went into the room he was threatening Mrs. Reynolds with the gun. His own wife also went into the room, White stated, and Reynolds pointed the gun at her and told her he would shoot her if she tried to "butt in."

"With that he up with the gun and shot himself," was the way White explained the shooting.

EFFORTS IN VAIN

All during the quarrel, in which they fought over many different subjects, White said he tried to pacify both Reynolds and his wife, but it was of no avail.

Following the shooting, Mrs. Reynolds made a sworn statement, in which she said she threw the ash tray at her husband. She said she was laughing and joking with him at the time. She was unable to explain how both her eyes were blackened and told officers she thought this happened when she fell against a door.

"He threatened to kill me and as I stood there he pointed the gun at Mrs. White and said he would shoot her. I thought he was going to shoot me. Then he pointed the gun at his head and I fell against the door and I thought I had been shot. I didn't know what it was all about."

"Didn't he hit you in the eye?" she was asked.

"No, I am sure that he didn't hit me. It all happened so quick I don't think he hit me. I went right against the side of the wall and I fell and hit my eye."

Mrs. Reynolds denied she had a scuffle with her husband or that he threw her to the floor, although White said that when he entered the room Mrs. Reynolds was on the floor, her husband standing over her, making her answer questions and brandishing his revolver.

DENY INTOXICATION

The witness admitted that they each had three cocktails during the dinner and said that Reynolds had told them he and a companion shared a pint of liquor on his return from Bishop. They insisted, however, that he was not intoxicated.

According to White's statement and from other sources, it was learned that Reynolds expected to remain in the Sierras for only three days with his company from Universal City. They were snowed in for three weeks and worry over the added expense and a physical breakdown from his experiences during that time are believed by his friends to have been the cause of his mental condition.

Mrs. Reynolds, and Mr. and Mrs. White all agreed that he was "not himself."

Miss Adoree was loaned to Universal for Reynolds's picture by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio at a cost of $3500 per week, White said. By an irony of fate his picture, half completed, was to be titled "Back to God's Country."

Mrs. Reynolds yesterday was prostrate at the White home under the care of a physician and unable to make any additional statement concerning the death of her husband. Reynolds had been associated with the motion-picture industry since 1918 and was a member of the Motion-Picture Directors' Association. Mrs. Reynolds is his second wife and they had been married six years. He has two children by his first marriage. He was a Mason.

Funeral services for Reynolds will be conducted Monday at 2 p.m., from the funeral parlors of W. M. Strother, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard with Masonic ritual. Interment will be at the Hollywood Cemetery.

in civic betterment and public welfare work.

In commenting on his appointment, Mr. Barnson said:

"I would like to rid the State of pseudo brokers often met with behind store counters and in hotels, apartments and banks, many of whom are solely concerned with getting a split commission for peddling confidential information. There are thousands of brokers who procured their licenses before the exacting examinations now required. I hope to check up on their fitness. I want to make the path of the honest, conscientious and competent brokers more pleasant and the way of the transgressor more hard."

Dispatches from San Francisco yesterday also bore the information that Clifford J. MacMillan, incumbent State Corporation Commissioner, has requested Gov. Young to relieve him of his duties immediately in order that he may return to the practice of law. MacMillan forwarded his resignation on January 5, last, but agreed to remain until a successor was appointed.

His request to be relieved was forwarded to Gov. Young before the announcement of Mr. Friedlander's appointment.

Not that it worried Charles much, anyhow. I have an awful suspicion that Charlie is getting considerable kick out of all this grief.

OBSTRUCTIONISTS

It is difficult to believe in the sincerity of the criminal lawyers who are now trying to block needed reforms in the criminal laws.

Especially the proposed change permitting a judge to advise the jury as to the weight of evidence.

Under the present feeble-minded arrangement, the judge on the bench, being the only one present who knows how to pass on the value of testimony, has to sit there like a dummy and watch his jury trying to guess.

As a matter of fact, if there have to be juries at all, they should serve only as checks on the judge.

RUM RING JURORS IN DEADLOCK

Ten Hours' Deliberation Fails to Produce Verdict in Liquor-Smuggling Case

Unable to reach a verdict aften ten hours of deliberation, the jury in the case of Marcus Aldacosia and four others charged with violation of the Tariff Act in connection with the activities of the $10,000,000 Pacific Coast rum ring was ordered locked up for the night by United States Judge McCormick late last night.

The suspects all are charged with smuggling liquor into the city from a vessel operating out of Canada. The leaders of the ring have fled to Canada and are now fugitives from justice.

On trial with Aldacosia are his cousin, Elmer Aldacoste, Herman Mensing, Walter Emmons and Vincent Roberti.

IMPROVEMENT ASKED

The paving of Bronson avenue from Pico street to Venice Boulevard with six-inch cement concrete pavement was petitioned for yesterday in a communication received at the City Hall.

POLICE SEEK EX-FIGHTER IN GUN PLAY

Joe Benjamin, ex-Husband of Marian Nixon, Accused of Firing Into Her Home

Police last night were conducting a search for Joe Benjamin, ex-lightweight prize fighter and former protege of Jack Dempsey, on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon upon Howard E. Hodge at the home of Marian Nixon, moving-picture actress, the pugilist's divorced wife.

Police Officers Freudenberg and Luke, who investigated the affair at Miss Nixon's home, obtained a complaint setting forth the charges from Dep. Dist.-Atty. Lickley yesterday.

According to the officers' report, Benjamin appeared at his former wife's home, 156 North Citrus avenue, Thursday night, while Mr. Hodges, her brother-in-law and former business manager of a government hospital at Minneapolis, was a guest at the house.

The report said Benjamin demanded entrance, which was denied by Hodges, whereupon the pugilist began brandishing a gun. He fired a shot, the officers said, and then launched an orgy of window smashing before he retreated and disappeared.

During the height of the siege Hodges and Miss Nixon fled to a rear room in the house, where they remained until they heard Benjamin's car drive away.

About two weeks ago, the officers said, they learned from Miss Nixon, she was lunching with a friend in a Hollywood cafe when Benjamin entered, picked a quarrel with her and struck her in the face. A scene was averted because Benjamin was on crutches. He was ejected from the place.

At Miss Nixon's home it was stated that Mr. Hodges was there to protect the actress because of threats made against her life.

Action Against Former Theater Man Grants Time for Settlement

On representations by Deputy City Prosecutor Chotiner that Michael Corper, former head of the Majestic Theater Corporation and defendant in a wage-claim action brought by two former chorus girls for work in the production of "Monkey Business," was attempting to reach a satisfactory settlement, Municipal Judge Richardson yesterday continued the case until March 30.

Ruth Marion and Mary Godsey, chorus girl complainants, through Attorney Milton Golden, protested the continuance, declaring that Corper has failed to make payments on their claims. Each girl is seeking $100 said to be due them for their work in the Corper production.

ALASKAN FILM

JUDGE REQUESTED TO QUASH PAJAMA CASE

Arguing that the prosecution had failed to establish jurisdiction, and further that guilty knowledge that the goods were stolen had not been established, Attorney S. W. Thompson yesterday moved for dismissal of receiving stolen property charges against Marvin and Marion Schucweiler before Municipal Judge Wilson. Thompson further argued the prosecution had not established that the black silk lounging pajamas, said by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Go To Church Sunday

Why You Should Go To Church

By Rev. Joseph P. Hicks, A.M.

Director Schools of Evangelism, Presbyterian Church, U.S.A.

Rev. Joseph P. Hicks, A.M.

More than three decades ago, a close observer of the times, said, "One of three things will come to pass; first present tendencies will continue until our cities are completely heathenized, or their arrested growth will enable the church to regain lost ground or the church will awake to its duty and responsibility."

The last of these has come to pass. The church is awake. It has come to realize that "He who makes the city makes the world." You should, therefore, go to church in order to help make the world what it should be.

The strongest sentiment of the human soul is the religious sentiment. This needs proper nourishment and guidance. The church furnishes the needed nourishment for the human soul and commands to it the one who will guide aright.

"The Lord is in his Holy Temple." He makes an engagement with every man to meet him there.

Is the worship of the Madonna taking the place of the worship of Jesus?
Will some one now build a real Cathedral in Los Angeles instead of an imitation?

Dear Friends:
This Church is coming to be a mecca for visitors from everywhere. Our welcome is as big as our tower is high. This Church belongs to God and all the people. Come tomorrow and share its services. Bring your guests from every State. Visitors never know a city until they have worshiped with its people. We have nothing sectarian to offer them.

More than 6,000 peope greeted DR. M. E. DODD, the new pastor of TEMPLE BAPTIST CHURCH, at their services on last Sunday. Many were turned away from the doors at the morning service. There were 32 applications for membership in the church.

Dr. Dodd expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the beginning of his new work here. Members and friends of the church speak of Dr. Dodd as eloquent, scholarly, scriptural, and spiritual in his teaching. Special provision will be made to take care of the crowds who come next Sunday, February 27.

THE SERMON SUBJECTS WILL BE:
10:50 A.M.—"Christ's Church, the Christian's Method for Service to the World." Matthew 16:18.
7:45 P.M.—"The Promise of His Presence." Matthew 28:20.

What was the rock on which Christ founded His Church? Can the blasphemous attacks now being made upon this Foundation ever prevail?

The music of Temple Church is of the highest order. The large four manual organ with chimes is presided over by Dr. Ray Hastings. The large chorus choir, under the direction of Hugo Kirchhofer, renders inspiring music. The quartet of artists, consisting of Eleanor Woodford, Minna Dorn, Herbert E. Kragh, Frank E. Geiger, renders solos, duets, and quartets.

DANGER AHEAD

The worst is yet to come. If it costs so much to dress a woman now, what will it cost when they take to wearing enough to cover them again?

BROADWAY

Broadway, Broadway, in little old N' Yawk,
Is rather more than naughty, so they say.
And so they frankly named it, we gather from the talk,
To show it's not a straight and narrow way.

THE CHAMPION VOTER

An Illinois man who died the other day at the age of 97 cast his first vote for Winfield Scott in 1852 and had never missed an election of any kind from that time until his death. Here was one man who had a perfect record as a persistent voter and it will be hard to duplicate the story.

ALL STOCKHOLDERS

Every ninth person in this country is a stockholder in some sort of a corporation. The utilities, the industries and the banking of the country are largely in the keeping of the masses. Even the man who shines the shoes owns a share in the light-and-power company. Perhaps this is a reason why the modern politician does not find so much sport in baiting the corporations.

A ROYAL STUDENT

The Prince of Wales may do a lot of riding, dancing and traveling, but this does not prevent him from being the titular head of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. Neither is he merely an ornamental chief. He takes an active part in the proceedings and watches all research work with a keen eye. As a scientist he knows something more than the law of gravity.

CITY HELPS CHURCHES

The city of McAlester, Okla., has loaned nearly $250,000 of municipal funds to half a dozen different church organizations for the purpose of building new houses of worship. It isn't every community that has money to loan. Usually the politicians see that it is spent before it comes on. But if there is money ahead it is all right to loan it to the churches. They pay no taxes, but they have to pay interest on the money they borrow and its use in constructive work adds much to the permanent beauty and moral progress of the town.

SHEARING LAMBS

Whenever there is something happening in Wall street the whole countryside seems to be cluttered up with petty margin-traders. As Frank Vanderlip puts it: "There is no way of safeguarding a man who persistently goes out to buy something he cannot use or sell something he hasn't got." Such is the position of the average man who dabbles in margins, but the awakening does not usually come until the fingers are badly burned. The speculative market should be reserved for those who can afford to lose. The money that lasts is that which is made through legitimate labor.

MODERN MIRACLES

Few things really startle or astound us any more. Telegraphy and radio bring the wonders of the world to us along with our morning coffee and we sip them together with little emotion. News which should make the lips whistle and the eyes bulge we glance over without ejaculation or comment. Yet none of us need think he is blase unless he read two headlines which appeared on the same page of the paper the other day without gasps of astonishment. One of them read: "Beauty Contest Queen Shuns Stage," while the other, over a Stockton dispatch, announced: "Retired Police Chiefs Refuse Pension Boost."

CLOTHES FOR MEN

Alexander Zeitlin, the sculptor, has designed a surprisingly different costume for the modern man and the next thing will be to back modern man into it and persuade him to wear it to the next directors' meeting. Instead of being a parking place for a flock of buttons the new suit is really a one-button affair and that one button is a massive jeweled trophy that holds the pointed wings of the vest together at its center. The coat is a sort of buttonless tuxedo with the lapels pressed back all the way down. The trousers are velvet knickerbockers, held in place with a girdle or belt. There is a lace jabot instead of the harsh and uncomfortable collar and the feet are encased in soft shoes with silver buckles. With a lively color scheme the outfit is designed to bring palpitation to the feminine bosom.

THE PRESIDENT'S VETO

In his veto of the McNary-Haugen bill President Coolidge has demonstrated not only economic sagacity but moral courage of a high order.

In refusing to permit this unsound measure to become a law the President maintained a stand which is in refreshing contrast to that of those numerous professional job-holders in Congress who reversed their previous attitudes on the bill because they feared the political effect of longer opposing it.

Those who expected the President to sign this so-called "farm-relief" enactment in order to harvest a big block of farmers' votes for the Republican ticket next year were seriously mistaken.

But even more mistaken are those who believe that the President's veto will, in the long run, do otherwise than augment the support and confidence accorded him by the country at large. What slight loss he may suffer in highly interested quarters will be more than offset by general approbation.

The fact that the McNary-Haugen Act triumphantly passed both houses of Congress was no index of intrinsic merit. A large proportion of those whose votes swelled its majorities were as fully aware as President Coolidge of its fundamentally fallacious character. They voted for it because they were afraid of alienating from themselves the support of our great and populous farming areas and they merely passed along to a braver man than themselves the unwelcome job of killing it.

Of course, the bill had its honest and able supporters, most of them from those parts of the country where are raised the crops which the act was intended to benefit. Some of its later support was derived from the representatives of cotton-growing areas after cotton was added to the products affected by the measure. It was significant, however, that the bill had almost no support other than that dictated by sectional interest or politics.

In his veto message to the Senate the President went directly to the root of the fundamental economic principles which the act so flagrantly violates—that no system of artificial price-fixing can be successfully maintained, even by government fiat, but that only the primary law of supply and demand can so operate.

Again, the President pointed out, the bill singled out for its favors a few largely sectional products and proposed to benefit the growers of these at the direct expense of all those other farmers who did not happen to be engaged in growing these particular crops.

The practically unlimited power given the projected Federal board to set on these special products almost any desired price would inevitably result in completely upsetting the normal markets, the message declares, and would ultimately make it necessary to extend the vicious system to other goods and services.

"Government price-fixing," wrote the President, "once started, has alike no justice and no end. It is an economic folly from which this country has every right to be spared."

The President likewise denounced that phase of the plan providing for the delegation of the taxing power of Congress to the proposed Federal Farm Bureau and the projected system of "equalization fees" which would in reality be a special tax on necessaries of life not for revenue purposes, but for the special benefits of particular groups.

The scheme outlined in the bill whereby the government obligates itself to export the farmers' surplus of the few favored crops is shown to be unsound.

"Increased production on the one hand, coupled with decreased domestic consumption on the other, would mean an increased exportable surplus to be dumped on the world market," the message sets out. "This in turn would mean a constantly decreasing world price until the point was reached where the world price was sufficiently low so that, even though increased by our tariff duties, commodities would flow into this country in large quantities."

Time will demonstrate with equal clarity the truth of the President's unequivocal declaration that the act would not even prove of ultimate benefit to the special group for whose aid it was designed. Nothing which works economic hardship upon the country at large can long profit any important single element of the population.

Again the people of the United States have reason to congratulate themselves upon the sane vision and sound common sense of their Chief Executive.

A SHARP REMINDER

Something akin to palsy bound the mouths of the radicals and conscientious objectors in Congress when a note was handed to the Secretary of State by the British Ambassador announcing that a war vessel flying the Union Jack was on the way to Central American waters for the purpose of protecting British lives and interests in Nicaragua. Opponents of the administration have been demanding that the American warships and marines should be withdrawn, charging that they were sent to Nicaragua only to protect the big oil interests there. But this summary action on the part of the British government warned them that they were gesticulating and dancing on a volcano.

If Nicaragua were located elsewhere than in one of the two Americas there would have been interference months ago by European powers. Under the Monroe Doctrine our government protects the lesser American states against armed aggression from without. But, in doing so, it assumes the responsibility for the protection of the lives and property of foreigners when they are menaced by interior disturbances in one of these states.

We might be willing to abandon our own nationals and their interests—although it would be the abandonment of a policy our government has maintained ever since the formation of the republic—but we cannot maintain the Monroe Doctrine and, at the same time, abandon to their fate the lives and property of the nationals of governments who rely upon us for their protection.

We could not, if we would, play the part of the surly dog in the manger. Subjects of Great Britain reside in Nicaragua. The British government has been informed by its representatives in that state that the lives of British subjects are menaced by the present civil war. If our government will not protect them Great Britain demands and will exercise the right to protect them herself.

Her attitude is that which our own government and people would assume in a similar case. If Great Britain would not or could not protect out nationals in one of her mandated states, and would protest against our doing so, a storm of indignation would sweep the country.

According to press dispatches from London, the opposition in Congress to our landing marines in Nicaragua and the vociferous demands that they be withdrawn, caused the British government to send one of its fastest cruisers there in order to take up the defense if our marines withdraw.

While we of this country have paid but scant attention to the Congressional fusillade against the administration, we must admit that there was at least partial justification for the action of the British government. Our Congresses have done some weird things in recent years; administration policies have repeatedly been reversed and there was no assurance that the objectors would not be strong enough to force the withdrawal of the marines.

Too often some of us are inclined to overlook the fact that the rights we assert and exercise under the Monroe Doctrine entail duties that we cannot evade, and one of these duties is to protect the lives of foreigners in the Central and South American states in time of revolution.

FASHION PLATES

Carlyle must have been right about it in his "Sartor Resartus." Clothes hold primacy of place in the thoughts of men as well as of women. Board and clothes occupy most of our time as well as attention.

The Prince of Wales "is the unchallenged mentor of fine fashions, and it has been a long time since either sex has followed so fascinating a leader," says Jane Grant in the Shrine Magazine.

The women have had their DuBarrys and Irene Castles and the men their Beau Brummels and Prince Alberts. Whether it be great work for a prince or not, His Royal Highness is padding the lop-shoulders and shaping the bow legs of the race more than its political destiny.

If he turn down the soft brim of his hat to shade his eyes all mankind affects a rakish brim. If he surround his neck with a certain tie at the Ascot races the ascot is the tie that binds continents as well as the islands of the sea together. If he don a rain coat, top coat it is from Alaska to Australia.

He is the constant victim of spies—not for military purposes—but to find out what fool thing he may wear next. If he put on bulldogs every man wears toes that bark. If he squeeze his under-pinning into toothpicks all men are picking their teeth with their toes.

If Faire Island looms are silent for lack of trade he puts on a colorful sweater and wears it two weeks and forthwith blues and yellows and all the shades that fight both science and art bedabble the landscape.

If he plan a trip to Scotland he searches for the peculiar plaids of that section for political purposes, and America and all the planets of Hollywood wear them without any purposes whatever. All the golf courses from Keokuk to Kamchatka are ablaze with the same cross-fire.

The prince's only competitor is the American college boy. A few years ago Bill Roper, Princeton's coach, told his stale athletes in language that burnt like a Kentucky cocktail as they swallowed it, that they were a bunch of dubs—or words to that effect.

He even suggested that they were as soft as their clothes and intimated that they might be improved by putting on the corduroys of their ancestors. Within a week corduroys covered the campus. Nor did they confine themselves to the Princeton premises.

The lumber jacket was the fad of the college youth. Harvard, Yale and Princeton have almost as much weight in tailor shops as in educational circles—from bright-colored felt hats to barrel overcoats.

Hollywood may crook her finger and women change their styles in garments and husbands. But the male seems to be made of the same mud and indulges in as many foibles.

AND THIS IN AMERICA!

What is happening? The air is filled with smoke and the shouts of rioters. The ballot is in conflict with the bullet.

Two hundred gun toters keep the police busy around the polling booths to test whether the law can shoot as quickly and as accurately as the lawless. Vote repeaters and stringers are arrested, rescued, rearrested and scuffles and scrimmages end in bloodshed.

Rowdies steal two boxes of ballots. A canvasser is shot and killed by the agent of a rival candidate in front of a polling place. In another candidate's headquarters the police seize twenty-six armed men and rifles and revolvers and machine guns.

Hoodlums at the close of the polls attempt to steal the election records of a doubtful ward and engage in regular battle with a squad of detectives. In other precincts a large automobile filled with armed gangsters succeeds in carrying off many ballot boxes after six ruffians had held up at the gun's muzzle police, election officers and a crowd of intimidated bystanders.

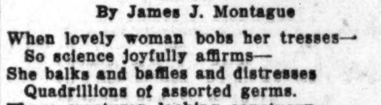
Precinct workers are mauled by gunmen, their badges torn off and the victims ordered to take a ride. Two election judges are kidnaped and rioting and shooting scare timid citizens from exercising their rights as citizens.

This is no imaginary melodrama of the screen staged at Hollywood. Nor is it the record of an election held in Nicaragua, where we have sent our marines to keep the peace, nor did it take place in China, torn by civil war, nor is it the story of an incipient revolution in a small Balkan state.

All these manifestations of uncivilized savagery occurred in the second largest city of the most law-respecting and God-fearing nation of the twentieth century.

FOOT FORECASTS

Chiropodists warn us that the human race will develop hoofs in a few centuries if we don't watch out. But some of the fundamentalists go even farther and predict that the hoofs will be cloven.



IN ALL CHARITY

By James J. Montague

When lovely woman bobs her tresses—
So science joyfully affirms—
She balks and baffles and distresses
Quadrillions of assorted germs.
These creatures, lacking sanctuary
Where they may multiply by stealth
Far fewer maladies can carry
Which makes for better public health;
And so the women of the nation
By bobbing, fight a noble war
For more and better sanitation;
But that's not what they do it for!

When lovely woman curtails yearly
The lower segment of her skirt,
The tiny garment is not nearly
So apt to gather up the dirt.
Skirts, once bacilli omnibuses,
No more provide an easy roost
For these malicious little cusses,
And thus infection is reduced.
With skirts above her dimpled kneeses,
So scientific men report,
A woman helps stamp out diseases;
But that's not why she wears 'em short!

If, at some newer mode's dictation,
The shingled locks must go unshorn,
And, throughout all mundane creation
Long trailing dresses must be worn,
No longer will the smiling barber
Provide for antiseptic heads,
And petticoats base bugs will harbor
Wherever lovely woman treads.
Though germs may swarm upon her garments
And hide amid her hair the while,
She dare not dispossess the varmints,
She simply must be in the style.

CALIFORNIA'S OPPORTUNITY

Editorial in the Saturday Evening Post of February

The State of California is to be congratulated upon the
mitted to the Legislature. The bold fashion facts out into the daylight, the telling simplicity lyzes the causes of existing evils and the practical by which it proposes to abate them should with new respect for the power of the law and administered.

This commission, under the chairmanship of Walter K. Tuller of Los Angeles, finds that the prevalence of crime in the United States, particularly crimes of violence in the big cities, is simply staggering. The report repeats the testimony of the East and of the Middle West when it goes on to say: "Crime has become an organized business. It operates throughout the length and breadth of the land. . . . It undermines the very foundations of the entire social structure. Either society must control and destroy organized crime or organized crime will control and destroy society."

Conditions in California are no better and no worse than in many other commonwealths, but it is not too much to say that if the recommendations of the Tuller commission are promptly and whole-heartedly carried out results as striking as those which followed the passage of the Baumes laws in New York may be confidently expected.

The importance of the reform measures instituted in New York less than a year ago can scarcely be over-appraised, for they have not only put the fear of God into the criminal element in that State, but they have shown the entire country how any commonwealth can achieve like results by a similar tightening up of criminal law and procedures.

The framers of the Tuller report strike at the root of the matter when they say that we are attempting to handle twentieth-century criminal business by seventeenth and eighteenth-century procedure; that the old system, being designed primarily for the protection of the defendant, ignored almost entirely the rights of the public. The new system must protect all legitimate rights of defendants, but at the same time must insure and protect, as far as possible, the great body of law-abiding citizens, the public. It must short-circuit roundabout methods. It must insure speedy trials and the early hearing of appeals, both of which are of the very essence of deterrent punishment. Technicalities which are notorious connivers at miscarriages of justice can, and should, be thrown into the discard. Simpler forms of pleadings will bring this about.

Two examples will suffice to show the laxity of the California criminal code as it now stands. Section 165 relates to the offense of bribery and yet it is so worded that a public official who offers to receive or solicits a bride is not guilty of any crime. Section 190, which is concerned with murder, makes it the duty of the jury in first-degree convictions to fix the penalty at either death or life imprisonment. In a recent case, in which the jury brought in a first-degree verdict but failed to agree on the punishment, the Supreme Court ruled that the judgment of conviction must be reversed and a new trial ordered. Both these statutes obviously require revision along the lines recommended by the commission.

A proposed new section consolidates into one crime, designated as theft, what are now separately described as larceny, embezzlement and obtaining property under false pretenses. These offenses are so similar that it is often virtually impossible to tell which has been committed in a given case. By combining them all as the crime of theft conviction will be made easier. If the proposals of the commission are carried out, sharper teeth will be put into the habitual-criminal act and any person convicted of a felony who has twice previously been convicted of a felony, either within the State or elsewhere, shall be judged a habitual criminal and sentenced to imprisonment for life. These provisions are somewhat similar to those of the Baumes law, which has operated so powerfully to check crime in New York.

To carry out all the recommendations of the Tuller commission would involve the rewriting of several statutes, the passage of certain new ones and eight amendments to the State constitution. The first of these amendments, which has a parallel in a defeated recommendation made by the Baumes Commission, would permit the jury to consider the fact that the defendant fails to take the stand on his own behalf. The third would sanction the waiving of a jury trial in felony cases when so desired by both prosecution and defense. The fourth would allow the jury, as in English courts, to have the benefit of the comments of the trial judge on the evidence; and the fifth would authorize the Legislature to create new divisions of the District Courts of Appeal when necessary.

WE NEED MORE TIN

Tin enters into so many minor articles of daily use that it is held in contempt by many persons who are ignorant of the real value and purpose of the mineral. In the first place they do not know that a tin cup, we will say for instance, is very slightly tin and very largely iron. The tin is a thin covering of the iron to protect it from the rusting action of water and moisture. In the whole world there is only about six weeks' supply of tin and if for any reason the supply should be suddenly cut off for that time the result would be serious. If there was no tine mined for three months the result would be disastrous. The great preserving establishments of America and Australia would be forced out of business and there would consequently be a shortage of food that would mean starvation for thousands of people. Most of the supply of tin comes from the Cornwall mines in England, and in response to the demand for the metal there has recently been a great activity in that part of the country. The mines have been worked for hundreds of years and they are now being worked harder than ever.

ADDICTS IN TEST SHOW NEW VIGOR

A drug addict, known among his own gentry as a main-liner because he injected narcotic drugs directly into his arteries yesterday was able to leave his cot in the hospital ward at the County Jail to walk in the roof garden of the Hall of Justice following four days' treatment of the reputed new cure for drug addiction known as narcosan, according to Drs. Benjamin Blank and E. L. Anthony, supervising physicians. Five others undergoing the treatment were also strong enough to go to the roof garden.

The main-liner declared he had been addicted to the use of habit-forming drugs for nearly twenty years and had taken many cures but that this was the first that almost entirely eliminated the distressing illness which usually accompanies the first treatment of most cures.

"I was pretty sick and weak the day before but I feel pretty good now," he said during an examination tour made by Sheriff Traeger, County Jailer Dewar, former Prohibition Administrator Frith and Drs. Blank and Anthony, County Jail and Federal physician, respectively. "This is the first cure that has almost entirely eliminated the usual two or three days of terrible sickness. The serum seems to stimulate the whole body and I think it's going to be a success as far as I am concerned."

Members of the committee were elated by the reports from the voluntary patients but the physicians said it will be a number of days before any definite conclusions can be reached. Dr. Anthony said he expects to report the results of the test at its conclusion, after three weeks, for a number of medical journals.

A number of women addicts who have volunteered to submit to the new treatment probably will receive the first injection of the serum early next week, Drs. Blank and Anthony said.

Organ Company Affiliates With Local Dealers

An affiliation with the Wicks Pipe Organ Company, as its Southern California retail distributors, has been made by the Fitzgerald Music Company, according to an announcement yesterday by James Taber Fitzgerald.

The new department will be in charge of W. J. Mullaney, who has been identified with the organ business for many years.

"We believe that the last few years have brought an appreciation of the organ as a musical instrument for the home, never before realized," stated Mr. Fitzgerald. "The new console pipe organ has been revolutionized as to method of construction, and beautified almost beyond belief as to tone. Today it stands forth a new thing, full of heretofore undreamed musical possibilities, and it is essentially the instrument of the home.

"In addition to regular manual playing, a new improvement makes it possible for the owner to enjoy on the organ the finest recorded music, played by the world's famous artists through the medium of music rolls."

CONSIDINE, JR., SIGNS DANCER

Rosita, Orpheum Dancing Star, in Five-Year Contract; Lya de Putti Will Star With Cecil De Mille; Times Critic Becomes Actor

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

That gorgeously beautiful and expressive child, Rosita Moreno, who is the sensational hit of Herman Timberg's dancing production at the Hillstreet Theater this week, is to go into pictures.

ROSITA MORENO

John Considine announced yesterday that he had signed Miss Moreno for Feature Productions, of which he is the head, on a five-year contract. At one time the parents of the girl worked for Considine, Sr., on his circuit, which bore weight when it came to signing the girl.

It is understood that ever since Miss Moreno made her appearance at the Orpheum here several months ago, when all the critics used up their fanciest adjectives to describe her, recommending that she go into the movies, the different picture companies have been negotiating for her services. It remained for Considine to secure her services.

So great is her charm, even from across the footlights, that Victor Schertzinger tells me he has written a song to her called "Rosita." One wonders if professional rivalry between the two film firms, Fox and United, will now prevent the song being published.

Tumultuous is the applause which greets the young dancer at every performance in which she appears at the Hillstreet.

"We consider Miss Rosita one of the greatest film finds," said Mr. Considine yesterday. "Her beauty and expressiveness, her exquisite grace, and vivid pantomime, as well as her personal magnetism, which registers equally well in the films, according to the screen tests we have made of her, make us most enthusiastic regarding her future on the screen."

It is the desire of Considine and his associates in Feature Productions that Rosita be at once released for her picture work, but her contract with the Orpheum has yet four weeks to run, and it is not certain whether the circuit officials will be willing to release such an excellent drawing card. In case she is so released, says Mr. Considine, she will go in at once as leading lady in "Two Arabian Knights," now being made by Feature Productions. Otherwise another vehicle will be found for her when she arrives.

Herb Moulton a Trouper

Now we are going to have a chance to find out whether one dramatic critic's ideas of acting were right or wrong, and now the tables are to be turned sure enough. After criticising hundreds of performances in good, bad and indifferent photoplays, Herbert Moulton, former dramatic critic on The Los Angeles Times, has placed himself in a position to take the pannings or praises of his critical colleagues.

HERBERT MOULTON

Herb has turned actor! Of course, we have long suspected this young fellow-worker of ours, possessed as he is of the requisite Greek profile and soulful eyes for pictures, of having hankerings for the movies. In fact, we knew that he had already played two or three small parts. And now he has gone and got himself a job with Clarence Brown, who has signed Moulton for a featured role in "The Trail of '98," the film of the Alaskan gold rush on which Brown has already begun production this week for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

Negotiations between the director and critic have been pending for several weeks, it is understood, with the result that Moulton decided to drop the typewriter for the grease paint.

This will not be Moulton's first experience before the camera, as hinted above. He played a bit for Clarence Brown in "The Goose Woman" a few years ago, and again in that director's picturization of "Kiki" with Norma Talmadge. In both he acquitted himself well.

After packing up his pencils and giving his typewriter to the poor, Moulton will leave with Brown and the other members of the "Trail of '98" troupe this week for Colorado, where the Chilkoot Pass sequences of the Robert W. Service story will be filmed. Charles Dorian, for years Brown's assistant, will again function in that capacity.

Barbara Kent In It

Barbara Kent, Universal's contribution to the Wampas Baby Stars of 1927, seems destined to be the first to attain stardom.

Her work in Clarence Brown's M.-G.-M. feature, "Flesh and the Devil," at the Forum, placed her in an enviable position among the younger actresses of the screen. Now she has been selected to play the leading feminine role opposite Andre Beranger in "The Small Bachelor," which William A. Seiter will direct for Universal. The story is taken from a yarn by P. G. Wodehouse.

Miss Kent is still busy on "The American Eagle," a Universal picture in which she is playing the leading feminine role opposite Raymond Keane, the juvenile of "The Midnight Sun." Emory Johnson is directing "The American Eagle," which is a story of the American air service during the war.

Red Grange's Next

It looks as though all the ice that Red Grange cuts this summer will be that ice that he cuts in the movies. Which will be plenty.

"Red" Grange

Harold (Red) Grange, the famous "Galloping Ghost," "Wheaton Ice Man," and what have you, has reported at the F.B.O. lot for picture work that will keep him busy until the late fall, when the football season is resumed.

According to an announcement made yesterday at the office of Edwin King, vice-president, work on Red's new picture will begin Tuesday next week.

"The Motor Maniac" is the selected title, and it is an original by Byron Morgan, and will be directed by Sam Wood, who made such a success of Red's initial screen venture, "One Minute to Play."

Grange is to have a high-power cast around him, including Jobyna Ralston as leading lady, and Walter Hiers as chief comedian.

They do say that not only can Red play football, but he is an auto driver who can hold his own with any of the big stars of the speedway such as Lockhart, Benny Hill, Harold Fengler and Eddie Hearne.

Lya De Putti With De Mille

According to well-authenticated report, that beautiful young actress, Lya De Putti, has signed a long-term contract with Cecil B. De Mille and Producers Distributors Corporation.

LYA de PUTTI

Miss De Putti's services have been sought by a number of film companies since she severed her professional relations with Paramount, but she has refrained from signing any contract up to this time. Her work in the German picture, "Variety" is considered to have made of her a brilliantly outstanding figure of the screen.

The actress left on Friday night for a brief vacation of three weeks, when she will return to play a star role in a P.D.C. production.

Three Held as Officers Find Rum and Guns

Caught in an apartment said to have been well stocked with liquor and lethal hardware, Miss Dorothy Rundell, 28 years of age, J. M. Amsler, 25, and William M. Curran, 23, were arrested yesterday on suspicion of robbery and violation of the Wright Act.

The arrests were made by Officers Newman and Massey, who saw Amsler make a number of trips between an apartment at 443 South Catalina street and an automobile parked in front of the house. In the car were two gallons of liquor, according to the officers, who shortly afterward arrested Miss Rundell and Curran inside the apartment, where, they reported, they also discovered four quarts of gin, two quarts of whisky, several bottles of beer, two automatic pistols and a revolver.

The two men admitted, according police, they had been bootlegging, while the woman is said to have confessed making sales of liquor from the apartment during the absence of Curran and Amsler.

PAVING FORWARDED

The City Engineer has been instructed by the City Council to prepart ordinances for the permanent paving of Sixty-sixth street from Hoover street to Vermont avenue, the pavement to be six-inch cement concrete.

TALKS ON COLORADO

C. J. Ullrich of Salt Lake City, president of the American Association of Engineers and a member of the Utah Bar Association, will talk on the Colorado River situation at a luncheon meeting of the City Club on Thursday, March 3.

MORAL PAINTED IN "PREACHY" WAY

"The Fourth Commandment" Has Chief Distinction in Belle Bennett

BY KATHERINE LIPKE

"The Fourth Commandment," which opened yesterday at the Uptown Theater, paints a very forceful moral. And it is done with an old-time melodramatic flourish. However, though it has much to do with the commandment "Honor thy father and thy mother," the main lesson is for women who seek careers outside their homes at the sacrifice of their children.

There is a lot of preaching in this picture, which is exceedingly irritating. It seems to me that the day for this type of thing is past. However, this doesn't make it a dull picture by any means. There is a force and drama to "The Fourth Commandment" which is convincing and at times thrilling. Belle Bennett is splendid in the leading role. As in "Stella Dallas" she plays a young girl, who is seen in the various stages until middle age and Miss Bennett seems the one actress on the screen who is able to make these transitions successfully.

The story is that of a young woman who leaves her baby in the care of her husband's mother and goes to work after her marriage so that there will be more money for pleasure. She wants too much out of life, and destroys her own happiness in a fit of jealousy when her child comes to love the grandmother more than herself.

As the picture progresses the audience is given a glimpse of time with a stern hand dealing the same treatment to her when she in turn becomes a mother-in-law.

If it weren't for Miss Bennett and others in the cast I am afraid "The Fourth Commandment" would be an exceedingly unreal and preachy bit of film. Mary Carr does her best to give a charming and human portrayal as the grandmother, but she is made to be so exceedingly old that one wonders that she can survive the many winters of the film story. Strangely she looks much older in the early part of the picture than at the close when she is supposed to be 20 years older.

Little Wendell Phillips Franklin just about steals the picture as the small son of Belle Bennett. As natural as breathing, and as unselfconscious, he is adorable in all his scenes. One of the best child bets seen in pictures for some time.

Strangely enough Robert Agnew, who plays the child grown up looks amazingly like him. Agnew is attractive in a comparatively small role and successfully suggests the lovable, happy-go-lucky young fellow out for a good time.

Kathleen Myers plays a short bit fairly well, with one splendid moment of acting when she has her emotional tantrum. Henry Victor is good as the husband of Miss Bennett, while Frank Elliot has a small role. "The Fourth Commandment" is a Universal picture, directed by Emory Johnson.

The Collegians have another comedy this week featuring George Lewis and Dorothy Gulliver in a college baseball picture. It is human, clever and real. Great entertainment.

Abe Lyman and his orchestra have an entertaining stage entertainment with several dancers to help them. Light and amusing and well put on.

PRODUCER TO LEAVE FOR EAST

Jack Laughlin Signed to Produce Prologues in Chicago Theater

J. W. Rubenstein, Jr., who represents Marks Brothers, directors of one of Chicago's largest theater chains, has made arrangements to send Jack Laughlin, local prologue producer, to that city to direct the stage presentations at the Granada, said to be one of Chicago's finest theaters.

Mr. Laughlin is well known for his work in the city, having directed the prologues for "The Volga Boatman," "Bardeleys The Magnificent," and "What Price Glory," at the Carthay Circle, as well as staging presentations for various features at the Figueroa.

Mr. Laughlin will remain in Chicago for three months. His first presentation will be the prologue to the "Loves of Sonya," Gloria Swanson's latest starring vehicle.

DANCE FILMS PLANNED

Theodore Kosloff has just completed arrangements with Cecil B. De Mille, whereby he will begin production at once on a series of dance films of one reel each. The first film to be made will be "Valse Triste." A special musical score is also being made that will synchronize with the film. The films will be released as special program features. Members of Kosloff's ballet will appear in these dances and Kosloff's Flower will be featured.

Appears as Comedienne

Leatrice Joy

Who is the star of "Nobody's Widow," an Avery Hopwood farce, which opens at the Figueroa today.

Herb Wiedoeft Will be With Theater Chain

Bidding against three London theatrical units, West Coast Theatres, Inc., recently completed negotiations with Herb Wiedoeft and his orchestra, which resulted in an engagement for an indefinite stay at the West Coast Boulevard Theater, Washington and Vermont, beginning tomorrow.

HERB WIEDOEFT

Wiedoeft and his orchestra returned to Los Angeles a few weeks ago, having completed a sixteen-weeks engagement with a national vaudeville circuit, the second national tour the orchestra has made in succession.

While in New York, Wiedoeft and his orchestra spent several months in a large phonograph-record studio making discs, which featured a wide variey of musical offerings, including many cornet solo records made by Wiedoeft.

Novel Prologue Appearing With Marine Romance

Something new in the way of stage settings is being offered by Frank L. Newman in his new prologue, "China Bound," at the Million Dollar Theater, the atmospheric presentation to "Tell It to the Marines."

The scene shows a group of marines, sailors and navy nurses giving entertainment below deck on a modern battle cruiser. Above them, on the deck of the ship, huge guns move back and forth, manned by gobs. Other sailors swab the deck, while a wireless flashes messages.

Featured members of the cast of forty in the prologue are: Bemis and Brown, the tap dancers who appeared in the "Kid Brother" stage presentation; a ballet of Ernest Belcher dancers; Reeves, Schwartz and Weber, novelty song trio; Jack Pennewell, steel guitar player who has recorded many numbers and been heard in eastern radio stations; Steve Savage, eccentric dancer who has just finished work with a number of Schubert shows, and prologue presentation work at the Balaban and Katz theater in Chicago; Frank Shannon, tenor, and Harold Prendergast.

MELBA'S CHOICE OF SINGING SUCCESSOR

Australian Singer Also Adopts Geographic Name for Concert Stage

"Mme. Melba chose me as the one on whom her mantle was to fall and as she brought honor to her native Melbourne by her name I selected Austral as my name for singing so that the world might know I came from Australia," explained Mme. Florence Austral in a recent interview. She is to appear at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight in recital.

She is a tall and good-looking blond citizeness of Great Britain's far-away continent, and she brings with her one of England's distinguished flautists, Mr. John Amado, who is her husband. He will play a flute sonata by Bach and assist Mme. Austral with a flute obbligato. Mme. Austral has an Australian accent but her smartness of dress is Parisian.

"Singing is so natural to British people," she explained, "because of the singing societies. Everywhere the middle class are members of oratorio societies and join in singing festivals. Just recently Sir Henry Wood conducted a festival with 3000 voices. I sang solos.

"In England, if a singer is liked, she appears again and again before the same audiences. It is different in America. For instance, I sang with Sir Henry Wood's Queen's Hall Orchestra six times in the autumn. I can't imagine any singer singing six times in one season with an American orchestra.

"It was such a pleasure to sing in London with Mme. Melba. It was a surprise to me to have her say that I was the one to succeed her."

Mme. Austral might have added that it is seldom that a singer of such triumphs as Melba's is gracious enough to suggest that anyone could fill her place.

Mr. Amado has played for many years in symphony orchestras and opera. His wife, too, has sung in Wagnerian opera, but prefers the recital field. In this she is greatly aided by her artist husband as they work on her songs together. This is their first tour in America.

NYIREGYHAZI HOLDS AUDIENCE IN SPELL

Other Worldliness of Young Pianist Apparent in Impressive Musical Thinking

That fourth-dimensional pianist, Nyiregyhazi, appeared at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night, moving across the stage like a wraith from another world. He is a rare being—a great thinker who thinks in notes. Most good musicians are able to translate their thoughts into sound, but Nyiregyhazi's language is sound. The translating has to be done by the listener.

In the first of his two programs, the other of which is to be given Tuesday night, the young Hungarian ranged from the Mozart Rondo in A minor which he had the audacity to couple with Scriabine's Poeme Tragique, through Beethoven's Apassionata sonato to trifles like Sauer's Music Box and the Strauss Artist's Life Waltz.

There is something elemental and impressive about him. The audience listened as if a spell had been cast over it, and so it had. Having heard Nyiregyhazi play, who could forget the peculiar, haunting, vibrant tone he emits, or the feeling he invokes of pulling the tone thickly out of the piano in such lyric moods as Grieg's Poeme Erotique?

Some of the things he does with the classics have little or nothing to do with the composer's intentions, I fancy, but they have everything to do with Nyiregyhazi. It may not be great pianism but as long as I believe in his sincerity I shall believe in the greatness of Nyiregyhazi.

Another reincarnation of music was heard last night in the Beaux Arts recital of 9-year-old Master Danenberg. This boy played an excruciatingly long and difficult program with the assistance of his father and teacher, Emil Danenberg, of Hongkong, China. He is really marvelous in his technical feats and in his prodigious memory. The delicacy of his tonal effects seemed to be innate and although it is too early to prophecy in his case he has certainly made a long step toward musical artistry.

"KISS IN A TAXI" IS FRENCHY FARCE

Bebe Daniels is Tempestuous But Virtuous Waitress in Feature

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Very Frenchy, this "Kiss in a Taxi" at the Metropolitan. It was safer to make it French anyway—because as a waitress, the unkissable Ginette, Bebe Daniels lacks the amoure propre of her kind in America, where a waitress who gets fired is quite efficiently fired.

Ginette is fired ten times a day and won't go. Her clothes are unwaitressy, her temper appalling and her wear and tear on the glassware ruinous. Bebe has a gorgeous time being Ginette, whom all the boys want to kiss, and get pelted with glassware for their pains. In fact, she has one of those confusing roles in which we are to understand that she is a most lovable and desirable and virtuous young lady, whom it is most horrid of the men to misunderstand when—er—she seems about to be intimate.

It is Frenchy, too, in that a married gentleman (played by Henry Kolker) permits himself certain privileges, of whom Ginette is one, to the point where he buys a cafe for her. She jolly well makes him do it, after he has kissed her in the taxi in mistake for another siren. But it is all perfectly proper, really, because she is ardently in love with Lucien (Douglas Gilmore,) who never once seriously doubts her even if he does show an uncomfortable disposition to slit up the other lady's husband with a knife, until he is convinced he is Ginette's father—which he isn't.

It is French farce, all right, confusion worse confounded, with everybody deceiving everybody else, only friend wife, played by Eulalie Jenson, isn't so silly as her roaming hubby thinks she is. Ginette and the wife put over some highly profitable tricks on the giddy gentleman that ultimately cost him dizzy hundreds of thousands—in francs. Chester Conklin has a peach of a role as the secretary of the art association who "keeps both books and his purity"—vide one of the occasionally clever subtitles. Indeed, a good many of the husband's alibi plans are frustrated through Chester's insistence upon keeping his purity unstained.

Dorothy Anderson made a good scenario out of this energetic farce, and Clarence Badger has directed a picture that never once drags. Bebe Daniels has endless opportunities for her versatile talents, even unto one brief but tender little scene—and plenty of sumptuous "beautiful virago" stuff. There isn't any moral—even a righteous guardian gets shamefully hoodwinked. But Bebe looks so lovely in the chic but more refined gowns provided for her by conspiring wife, that a little deceit one way or another really doesn't count.

The one or two good subtitles are quite good . . . such as when Chester Conklin says he "will not have his reputation besmirched in women's smoking rooms."

The news reel is full of good things—sheep farming, and seeing the poor lambs getting bobbed in Australia being particularly good. We were also introduced to Miss Mildred Pinkenfield, the country's most superior ten-weeks-old baby—and someone is certainly going to be mean enough to show her that negligee picture of herself when she grows up. We also discovered that there was someone else in Italy besides Mussolini, and that the heir-apparent, Prince Humbert, is quite a very personable and attractive young man.

The Bob Nelson orchestra had one Australian prima donna, Lucille Benstead, with a very good voice, and a little lady who is completely charming—until she sings. Her best notes are in her toes. Two colored gentlemen supply some violently energetic dancing, and the final "Trip to the Moon" number is very effective—they only let the male singers in on that and were content to let the girls look lovely.

BLAZING FOREST OFFERS THRILL

Elaborate Presentation at Loew's Runs Feature Close Race for Honors

A scorching, realistic forest fire, furnishes a series of thrills de luxe, in the photoplay, "The Understanding Heart," which opened yesterday afternoon as the attraction at Loew's State Theater.

"The Understanding Heart" was adapted from Peter B. Kyne's novel of the same name.

It deals with the story of the life of the forest rangers, who as one of the subtitles expresses it "spend their lives playing nurse-maid to a flock of pine trees."

The spectacular fire comes at the climax of the story, and serves as a means of unraveling a rather complicated state of affairs, concerning the heroine, who is caught shielding an escaped criminal.

The story is portrayed by a cast including Joan Crawford, Francis X. Bushman, Jr., Carmel Meyers, and Rockliffe Fellows.

More pretentious than ever was the Fanchon and Marco stage presentation, billed as the "Fan Idea."

A huge fan, placed against the black velvet drops, formed a striking setting for the acts, which featured Edna Covey and Arthur West, both formerly of the Ziegfeld Follies.

Miss Covey scored a triumph with her comical cavortings. Her "swan" burlesque as well as her skit with Gene Morgan, was responsible for continuous laughter.

Arthur West presented a series of song patters, that were amusing.

In addition to the headliners, a group of clever offerings characterized the offering.

The "Crayon" number is one of the cleverest.

The miniature ballet, consisting of a series of fan dances was also commendable.

The adagio team of Ted and Sally was a particularly interesting offering. Some extraordinary feats of skill were exhibited by the two.

Genial Gene Morgan was as amusing as ever, with a new supply of capers to perform.

FIRST NATIONAL STARS WILL ATTEND

As Fanny Brice sings in her "Bride and Groom" song in Louis O. Macloon's new "Music Box Revue," "tonight is the night," and at this evening's midnight performance of the revue, "First National night" will be officially observed.

Among the First National stars that will be present are Charles Murray, Jane Winton, Jack Mulhall, Ben Lyon, Anna Q. Nilsson, Lewis Stone and George Sidney. June Mathis, scenarist, will also attend, as will Ruth Roland. Studio and department heads and officials from First National will aid in the celebration of this event. Screen stars representing practically every studio in Hollywood will also attend.

Council Hears Inspector on Drain Extras

The City Council's investigation of the $298,985 West Adams storm drain "extras" yesterday was comparatively brief and was devoted to reading from the transcript of the testimony given by Public Works Inspector Rook before the City Council's investigating committee last August. This testimony, in brief, was to the effect that in his (Rook's) opinion the piling and other additional work or "extras" installed on the West Adams storm drain were necessary due to soil conditions and that in ordering them installed when he deemed them necessary he was following the orders and resolutions of the Board of Public Works and the plans and designs of the City Engineer for them.

The Council adjourned the investigation until 7 o'clock Monday evening.

"OLD-FASHIONED GIRL" GOES ON BUYING TOUR

Apparently completely recovered from the small dose of iodine which she is said by the police to have taken Thursday with suicidal intent, Mrs. Ross Lee Conahan, wife of Jimmy Conahan, taxi-driver, yesterday celebrated her recovery and reconciliation by accompanying her husband on a shopping tour. Mrs. Conahan, writer of the scenario for Chaplin's "It's a Dog's Life," said she decided to end her life because Conahan had called her "too old fashioned," the police reported.

Actress's Sister Fails to Press Alimony Claim

Margaret Fillmore, sister of Mary Miles Minter, did not appear in Judge Scott's court yesterday to press her application for alimony pending trial of her suit for a divorce from H. H. Fillmore, which was on the calendar for hearing. The matter was continued until Tuesday. In her complaint she charges cruelty and asserts her husband enjoys an income of $1000 a month.

In an answering affidavit Fillmore asserted his wife was oppressed by business cares in connection with her management of property belonging to her family and that he had given her no cause to sue him.

Police Raids on Lottery Games Net 141 Men

Lady Luck was mean to 141 men last night who were in twelve lottery rooms when the vice squad under the direction of Sergt. Jess Watson, descended on the place, mostly in Chinatown.

For a time the patrol wogans were kept busy bringing the prisoners to the Central Station for booking. Those taken in the round-up included every nationality with Japanese and Chinese heading the list.

The raiding which was of a general character, occupied the most of last night and thirty members of the vice squad took part in it.

Charging breach of promise to marry, Rae L. Belben, said to be a resident of Placer county, yesterday filed suit for $50,000 damages against J. H. Scales, Jr., of this city. The plaintiff charges Scales proposed marriage to her July 9, 1925, and she accepted him. Although more than a year and a half has elapsed since the asserted agreement was made Scales has failed to keep his asserted promise, the complaint recited.

AUTO-STORAGE LAW DETAILED

Police Talk Over KHJ Gives Pointers on Reporting Use of Garages

Explanation of the State laws governing the conduct of public and private garages featured the daily police pointers given yesterday over KHJ.

Every person conducting a public garage must keep a written record of every motor vehicle stored therein for a period of longer than twelve hours," the law was summarized. "This record must include the name and address of the person storing the car, a brief description of the car and its motor and license numbers.

"The State law also makes it the duty of the owner or lessee of any private garage to report to the police department the storing of any motor vehicle within twenty-four hours, together with a complete record of the machine. This fails to apply only if the garage is rented to persons living on the premises."

JURORS OUT FIVE HOURS LOCKED UP

Venire in Plane Death Case Sent to Hotel After Vain Effort to Reach Verdict

After five hours' of deliberation without reaching a verdict, the Superior Court jury which heard the evidence at the second trial of Carroll B. Crossan, Venice aviator, on two counts of manslaughter, last night was locked up for the night at a downtown hotel.

Crossan's fate in the hands of the jurors is a result of the deaths of two girl bathers, Letizia A. Normandin and Madeline Kupfer, at Venice last July. The State charges the aviator was flying carelessly when his plane developed trouble and fell upon the children.

The first jury disagreed, 11 to 12, for conviction after being out seventy-eight hours, a Los Angeles county record in jury deliberations, and was dismissed by Judge McLucas. The record was previously held by the jury which convicted Kid McCoy on manslaughter in connection with the death of Mrs. Teresa Mors in 1924, it being out seventy-six hours.

Dep.-Dist.-Attys. Costello and Van Cott conducted the prosecution, and Attorney Paul Schenk the defense. The jury retired for deliberations at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Local Girl to be Taken as Bride by Donald Keith

Donald Keith, motion-picture actor, known in private life as Francis X. Feeney, yesterday obtained a license to marry Kathryn C. Spicuzza, 21 years of age, of 407 West Seventy-fourth street.

The romance between the two, which began when Miss Spicuzza was a student at Manual Arts High School, will culminate in marriage tomorrow night at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Hollywood.

Keith is under contract with the Famous Players-Lasky Company and is now playing opposite Lois Moran. Many players from the Lasky studio will be present at the ceremony and Bobby Vernon, comedian, is to act as best man. The couple will make their home in Hollywood.

Nathan Kleinberg, violinist, presented a group of solo numbers.

Thomas F. Ford, literary editor of The Sunday Times, gave the first of a series of book reviews which will be delivered Fridays at 7:40 with brief mention of the latest tomes and Rev. John Boyd, pastor of the Montebello Baptist Church, gave the evening scripture reading at 7:30.

HARMONY BOYS

Bob Garrett's Harmony Boys, heard on American Legion radio programs and at Saturday dances of the Maywood Post, gave an hour's entertainment through KHJ. The personnel of the musical aggregation included Virgil Malone and Lloyd Spence, saxophones; Bob Garratt, drums and manager; Gus Gable, saxophone and banjo and Gus Phillips, piano and saxophone.

The Harmony Boys program included popular tunes by the orchestra as well as old-time song favorites by Gus Gable and his guitar; Virgil Malone in a saxophone solo; music by the vocal trio, Gagle, Spence and Phillips. All in all this group presented one of the most diversified programs offered by any small group from the KHJ studio in many months.

On the evening musical broadcast Naomi Sweeney Brown, whistler, known as the "California Mocking Bird," offered four numbers accompanied by Evelyn Surbur, including "By the Waters of Minnetonka;" "In the Heart of the Hills," and "The Glow Worm."

WANDERING MINSTREL

The Moana Hawaiian Preserves Entertainers completed their week's visit of a half-hour broadcast each night at 8:30. They have given radioland a musical treat in their repertoire of native airs played on their native instruments with vocal refrains by the costumed entertainers from the Islands.

"Doc" Williams, known in radio fields as the "Wandering Minstrel," visited KHJ last night for the first time and this station was the forty-third radio studio from which he has entertained. The Wandering Minstrel was one of the original five entertainers who presented the original program at WBZ in Springfield, Mass. and he was for two years the "Voice of the Night," at KDKA in Pittsburgh. Williams's repertoire from KHJ last night included a piano solo; some songs to the accompaniment of an overgrown uke; popular airs, playing his own piano accompaniment; and still more songs with the ordinary sized ukulele. The Minstrel has at last drifted to Los Angeles where he hopes to remain indefinitely.

JUDGE SPEAKS

Municipal Judge Myron Westover, now sitting in the Superior Court, was the speaker at KHJ last evening on the usual Friday night address under the auspices of the Council on International Relations. Judge Westover was State Railroad Commissioner Examiner for eight years and visited the world court two years ago when he heard the first decision given. The speaker's topic was "My Visit to the World Court at the Hague."

Mrs. Charles Richmond, former president of the Hollywood Woman's Club, has just been appointed radio chairman of the Council on International Relations, according to the Council President, Dr. Rufus B Von KleinSmid, and she will shortly announce the list of Friday evening KHJ speakers.

The rotogravure section of The Sunday Times this week will include a full page of talent from the children's hour at KHJ together with the photos of the children and their radio goodnights.

Bettimae Pfefferkorn, juvenile singer who usually takes part on the Friday night children's hour entertainment was not able to be in the studio last night, but her part of the program a week ago was to sing the official National Orange Show song. Carrying out the Orange Show motiff she wore a specially designed orange costume fashioned of crepe tissue with orange and green the predominating colors. Tomorrow is the last day at the show.

PASTEL TRIO

Yesterday noon at The Biltmore the Pastel Trio from KHJ furnished music for the meeting of the Los Angeles Chapter of the National Constitution Club. Herbert Wenig, a former national winner, presided and Allan Nichols, U.S.C. debate coach and member of the School of Speech faculty, spoke.

The Pastel Trio is one of the favorite KHJ music groups and its personnel include Frieda Runyon, violinist; Alta Runyon, 'cellist, and Irene E. Bowering, pianist.

Out of town stations located in near-by points will have some worthwhile air talent tonight. KPSN in Pasadena will have its Ensemble at 8 and KMIC from Inglewood, will have some studio talent from 8 to 10 p.m.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

GOOD AND POOR TEETH

The question is asked daily, "When is it necessary to wash a child's teeth?" Obviously—as soon as he has any to wash!

The cause for good or poor teeth is too often attributed to inheritance. While inheritance does affect the shape, size and general color of the teeth, just as it also affects the length or shortness of the nose or the stature of the person, the kind of teeth one possesses depends entirely on the diet of the mother before the child is born and during lactation, and the child's diet the first year.

One can trace the effects of environment to the following extent, and make it seem inheritance: The kind of food the mother is used to feeding her family in many cases is exactly the same kind of food the mother has been used to getting in her own home. If such food has been inadequate to build good, strong, white teeth, the mother will have poor teeth and so will her baby, because she will continue to eat poor food herself, and she will feed it to her children. Naturally, such a family will continue to be cursed with crumbly, easily decaying teeth until one of the offspring discovers the sublime relation between food and teeth and changes her method of living and feeding her family.

In order to provide the materials for strong teeth the mother must eat foods containing lime and phosphorus, and such foods are milk, green vegetables, unhulled or whole grain cereals, and fruits.

Mrs. Eldred has a leaflet on the normal and abnormal symptoms of teething in infants. Send a self-addressed stamped envelope and ask for Leaflet No. 9, "Various Questions."

FLOOD AND WIND REVEAL RUM AND LEAD TO THREE ARRESTS

Flood waters and wind played a trick on Charles Morrell, Mrs. Clara Agular and Joseph R. Encinas of 606 North Bonnie Beach Road, Belevedere, according to a report yesterday of Capt. Benton, head of the Sheriff's dry enforcement squad.

Deputies working under Capt. Benton, the report stated, were looking for a mysterious bootlegger. The wind had wrenched the cellar door of the house from its hinges and in prowling about the officers say they saw eight objects which looked suspiciously like kegs partly exposed. They followed Morrell several blocks and then managed to buy a gallon of whisky from him, they asserted.

Then they followed him back to the house and examined the cellar, which, according to their story, gave forth six five-gallon kegs of whisky and two ten-gallon containers, from which flood waters had washed away dirt underneath in which they had been buried. They reported also finding a twenty-five-gallon still and considerable mash.

The three were taken to the County Jail, bail for Morrell being fixed at $2000 and $1500 each for the other two.

BRANCHES OF LIBRARY WILL OPEN

New Buildings Ready for Use Tuesday at Van Nuys and Owensmouth

The Board of Library Commissioners yesterday announced the opening of two new branch buildings March 1 at Owensmouth and Van Nuys.

The Van Nuys branch, formerly located at 14529 Sylvan street, will open in the attractive new building at Sylvan and Vesper streets at 1 p.m. Tuesday. This building cost $27,700. A formal reception will be given and a dedication address made by Orra E. Monnette, president of the library board, at 4 o'clock.

The Owensmouth Branch, formerly at 21508 West Sherman Way, will be opened formally at 1 p.m., at the new building at Owensmouth avenue and Wyandotte street. The furniture ordered for Owensmouth has been delayed because of special finishing, and though the branch will be open to the public for book service, the formal dedication will take place later. This building cost approximately $10,000.

These buildings are erected with a portion of the $500,000 bond fund of 1925. Fourteen branch buildings have been built or are in process of building, and an extra site obtained with this fund.

SMOTHERED CHICKEN

Split a young roasting chicken down the back and lay it, breast up, in a baking pan or a casserole. Spread with a layer of butter, pepper and salt, and pour over it a cupful of boiling water. Cover closely, and when nearly tender, pour over it one cupful of thick, hot cream, and two cupfuls of fresh mushrooms; cover again, and cook from fifteen to twenty minutes longer. Place the chicken on a hot platter, stir the gravy well, and, if necessary, thicken it with a little flour, pour over the chicken and serve. Oysters can be substituted for the mushrooms.

SWEET POTATO CUSTARD PIE

Beat to a cream one and one-half cupfuls of butter with one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and beat until light; add to the butter and sugar one pound of peeled boiled sweet potatoes rubbed through a sieve, six well-beaten eggs, the grated rind and juice of one lemon, half a teaspoonful of grated nutmeg and half a cupful of orange juice. Pour the mixture into pie pans lined with rich pastry and bake firm in a moderate oven. When done sprinkle top with sugar and finely chopped citron.

CHEESE SOUFFLE

Two tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-half cupful of scalded milk, one-half teaspoonful of salt, a few grains of cayenne, one-quarter cupful of grated American cheese, yolks of three eggs, whites of three eggs.

Melt butter, add flour, and when well mixed add gradually scalded milk. Then add salt, cayenne and cheese. Remove from fire; add yolks of eggs beaten until lemon-colored. Cool mixture, and cut and fold in white of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Pour into a buttered baking dish, and bake twenty minutes in a slow oven. Serve at once.

CHOCOLATE GINGERBREAD

Place in a mixing bowl, half a cupful of molasses, one tablespoonful each of melted lard and butter, half a cupful of brown sugar, half a teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, a quarter of a teaspoonful each of grated nutmeg and ground ginger and a heaping tablespoonful of grated sweet chocolate mixed to a paste with a little warm water; blend the ingredients thoroughly and then stir in one teaspoonful of baking soda, dissolved in a small cupful of sour cream and sufficient sifted flour to form a cake batter. Pour into an oblong greased cake pan and bake about twenty minutes in a moderate oven, covering when cold with a chocolate frosting.

DIET and HEALTH

FACES AND NECKS

Mrs. H., who is 39 years old, five feet, five inches tall, reduced from 210 to 180. She feels very much more active and youthful at 180, but, oh! her poor face and neck! Her face was none too plump when she was overweight, and is the first place to show her dieting, and she has been wondering which is more tragic: To look terrible in her figure and youthful in her face, or youthful in her figure and terrible in her face? She most urgently wants a formula for good tissue-building cream; also, a lotion for tired eyes.

Your normal weight, for your height, should be around 155, according to the rule of 110 pounds for five feet in height (in stocking feet) and five and a half pounds for each inch over. And my advice to you, Mrs. H., is to continue your reduction very slowly, not more than one pound a week, and just forget your face for the while. Tell your friends you know you look like the d—, but it's all right, that you expect to look much better after you stop dieting. If you don't, you are going to sue a certain Lulu H. P.! At 39, your skin should still be elastic and if I were you I would get down to normal weight, perhaps a trifle under, then plump up perhaps ten pounds.

About half of those who are reducing, especially those over 30, look haggard while reducing, no matter how well they feel. But I assure you that after you are back on your maintenance diet, that haggard look will disappear. Of course, your feeling well while reducing depends upon your getting a scientific diet. You have to remember that your need for growth and repair food, mineral elements and vitamins is just as great as before your reducing, and the foods containing those elements must be eaten just as liberally. Only the foods that produce fat, and give power and heat, are the ones that must be cut down. (The instructions as to the diet while gaining and reducing are in a booklet which can be obtained by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in stamps, with request.)

Facial treatments, if given correctly, are of use in keeping the muscles in tone and stimulating the blood circulation. Dr. Rea McGee recommends face tapping. The best way is to stand before the mirror, with the elbows bent and held fairly rigid, and with the wrists relaxed and fingers separated, beat a tattoo on the face. If this is done for five minutes night and morning, it not only gives a most exhilarating sensation, but keeps up the good tone of the tissues, improves the circulation and will therefore nourish the tissues.

There is no cream, nourishing or otherwise, that can be absorbed by the skin and deposited as fat in any particular spot. Fat tissue has to be made through the process of digestion in the intestinal tract and will not be made immediately under the skin without going through that process. The good face creams and lotions will keep the skin soft and pliable. If you could go to a good beauty specialist and have some facial treatments to learn how to give them to yourself, it might be advisable. I know that here in New York, they are using the smart slapping rather than the rubbing, with very delicate patting under and around the eyes.

Any pure cold cream that you know agrees with your skin can be used. Personally, I find that simple glycerine solution agrees with my skin more than anything else, but it must be very dilute, such as rose water, four parts, and glycerine, one part. Sometimes I use the plain glycerine; put a few drops in my hands and add about four parts of ordinary water, and rub it on. And I always use this solution after washing my face with soap.

A good eye lotion for tired eyes is as follows:

Take a moderately heaped teaspoonful each of bicarbonate of soda (ordinary baking soda,) of borax and of table salt; dissolve in a quart of boiled water; add a full tablespoonful of glycerine, and filter. (You can filter by pouring the solution through a funnel stuffed with absorbent cotton.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must inclose 10 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the stamped, self-addressed envelope if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

MOTHERS AND THEIR CHILDREN

Stockings Caps For Dolls

One Mother Says:

From little red silk half sox we fashioned some exquisite sport caps for dolly. We selected only those sox whose heels were worn beyond any possibility of repair. Simply cut off the stocking top to a depth of six or eight inches. Gather the cut end with needle and thread, turn, and it is ready for dolly's head. One may place a yarn or silk pom-pom on the top to make it especially chic.

Plain white or black silk is quite as satisfactory as the brilliant colors. However, stripes are a bit more interesting and fashionable at our house.

SCOUTS IN CONTEST

Thirty Teams Compete Today for Red Cross First-aid Trophy

Thirty teams of picked first-aid workers among the Boy Scouts of Los Angeles will compete this afternoon at Polytechnic High School grounds in the American Red Cross Society annual trophy tests. The best three teams in the ten Scout districts of the city are entered, each team consiting of five boys.

The competitions will cover practically every form of first aid for accidents or forms of sickness. Physicians, representatives of the Red Cross and life savers will serve as judges.

The contest has been conducted annually for seven years, the award being a huge bronze perpetual trophy. This goes to the Scout troop winning the most times in ten years. Troop No. 82 now holds the trophy. The Scout experts spend a year in advance training for this work, so keen has the competition become.

Chamber for Prison Site in Southland

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 17 which would authorize a legislative investigation as to the advisability of establishing a State prison in Southern California, has received the indorsement of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

The action followed recommendations of the Chamber's laws and arbitration committee, according to secretary and general manager A. G. Arnoll. It was the opinion of the committee that such an investigation should be made and if it is found necessary that the State should have another prison, that it should be located in one of the southern counties.

AFTER PERIOD OF TORTURE, MAN FINDS RELIEF FROM ITCHING

Skin now entirely healed

Charlestown (Boston), Mass., Dec. 18:—"Last June I had an itching irritation on my back, principally between the shoulders, and also on the back of my hands, extending to the shoulders. The skin was apparently clear of any disorder, but the itching was intense. After a vigorous rubbing with a Turkish towel there would appear two spots, about an inch apart, which bled from the effects of the rubbing. I used Bay Rum and other lotions before I tried your Resinol Ointment. At bedtime my back received a thorough washing with Resinol Soap and a very generous application of Ointment, after which I would rest quite comfortably until about two or three in the morning, when I received another application. A third upon arising would be enough to make me feel at ease during the day. Thanks to the above treatment, the trouble is new entirely healed." (Signed) John John W. Matthews, 1 Crystal Place.

NIGHT COURT IN MURDER TRIAL

Judge Seeks to Speed Up Westcott Case

Mustard Seed Introduced as Important Evidence

State Forging Chain Against Slain Man's Son

Seeking to speed up the trial of Carl Westcott, charged with the murder of his father, Charles G. Westcott, Judge Craig of Superior Court yesterday ordered night sessions to be conducted in the case. The first of such sessions was held in the courtroom last night, following which the jury was locked up in its quarters in a downtown hotel.

Link by link, the State yesterday began to forge the chain of circumstantial evidence by which the prosecution hopes to connect Westcott with the fatal shooting of his father the night of October 20, 1926.

The principal feature of the State's evidence yesterday was the introduction of a handful of mustard seed and weeds taken from a vacant lot next door to the Westcott home at 909 Cochran avenue and declared to be similar to seeds and weed particles asserted to have been found in the cuffs of the younger Westcot's trousers the morning following the murder.

MUSTARD SEED MURDER

The seeds, which have caused the case to be styled the "mustard-seed" murder, were introduced through the testimony of Police Detective Claude M. Dryden.

Dryden stated he removed a number of seeds and weed particles from the cuffs of Westcott's trousers at 2 a.m. the night of the murder. The samples introduced yesterday, and which Dryden stated were similar to those taken from the trousers' cuffs, were taken from the vacant lot about November 5, the witness testified.

The witness also testified Westcott appeared nervous and anxious during his questioning by detectives at Central Station.

"He kept his left knee covered with his right leg," said Dryden. "I asked him to remove his leg and it was then that I noticed his trousers were town across the left knee."

Dep. Dist.-Attys. Hill and Dennison have declared they intend to prove that Westcott tore his trousers on a plank in the vacent lot next to the Westcott home.

WORE GRAY SUIT

In connection with this theory, Dryden testified he found fragments of gray cloth on the plank, which was introduced as a prosecution exhibit. The witness also declared Westcott wore a gray suit at the time he was first brought into Central Station for questioning.

In another attempt to link the gray trousers said to have been worn by Westcott with the crime, the State called Robert L. Dallas, bootblack in a West Sixth-street barber shop as a witness.

Dallas identified Westcott as a man whose shoes he shined about 9 o'clock the night of the murder. The elder Westcott was shot about 8 o'clock in the evening.

Dallas declared Westcott appeared highly nervous as he took a chair to have his shoes shined

"His shoes were ditry and dusty, and I noticed his trousers were torn across the left knee," said the witness. "He told me he was in a hurry to get to a dance, and I thought it was funny a man would go to a dance with his trousers busted like that."

DALLAS CORROBORATED

Dallas's testimony was corroborated by Leroy Johnson, a fellow bootblack, who also identified Westcott.

Other witnesses included C. L. Wooley and R. E. Masterson, conductor and motorman on a West Ninth street car, who asserted a man appearing to be highly nervous and excited boarded their car a few minutes after the shooting was said to have occurred. The witnesses said the man resembled Westcott, but they were not positive Westcott was the man.

Marie Carter, maid in the Westcott home, testified she noticed a suspicious-looking individual in the proximity of the Westcott home as she was leaving the house shortly before the shooting occurred. She could not say that Westcott was the man she noticed.

Mrs. Hazel Westcott, widow of the slain man, was recalled and testified she heard a noise resembling that which might be made by a falling plank, within a few seconds following the shooting of her husband. It is the State's theory that Westcott shot his father and knocked over the plank in making an escape from the place.

Detective Dryden resumed the stand at the night session and was followed on the stand by Police Stenographer Swenson who read a ten-page statement taken by the police from Carl Wescott a few hours after the murder.

The younger Wescott at that time, according to the statement, asserted that he was downtown at the time of the murder, attended a drinking party on East Seventh street, and ripped his trousers at the knee when he was attempting to climb the stairs of a public dance hall. The case will be continued at 9 a.m. today.

associate of Stanislavsky, also sent repeated cables to the American producer urging his appearance with the Moscow Art Theater Company, but Gest turned a deaf ear to all suggestions that he attempt stage work save as a director of others. Joseph Schenck, president of United Artists, also is said to be responsible for the statement that Gest has dramatic talent that motion-picture studios would gladly welcome.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

Mayor Cryer's proclamation yesterday regarding the performance follows:

"Whereas, a special presentation of 'The Miracle' will be given at the Shrine Auditorium Sunday night, the 27th inst., and, whereas, through the generosity of Morris Gest all of the proceeds of this feature performance are to go to charity, part to the Actors' Fund and the balance to worthy Los Angeles interests.

"Therefore, I invite and urge the people of Los Angeles and Southern California to avail themselves of this opportunity and attend this special performance; thereby aiding the maintenance of humanitarian activities and expressing their appreciation for Mr. Gest's gift to Los Angeles."

CONSTITUTION CLUB FORMED

Los Angeles Launches Chapter of National Order; Herbert Wenig Leads Southland Contestants

At an enthusiastic luncheon meeting of some thirty-five contestants who won renown in former years in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, a Los Angeles chapter of the Constitution Club, an outgrowth of the contest movement, was launched yesterday.

The meeting, which was conducted under the chairmanship of Herbert Wenig, last year's national and international champion in the contest, was the last step in the organization of the local chapter, which now is a branch of the national organization that was initiated in Washington just after the contest of 1925.

The program included music by the Pastel Trio, and brief speeches by two former oratorical champions and also by some of the prominent educators present, sponsors of the local chapter. The session concluded with a brief business conference and the election of officers for the local organization. The following were elected:

WENIG MADE CHIEF

Herbert Wenig, representing Hollywood High School, president; Elizabeth Henninger, representing Santa Monica High School, vice-president; Arthur Syverton, representing Pasadena High School, secretary;; Gregson Bautzer, representing San Pedro High School, treasurer.

An executive committee also was elected, composed of Don Tyler, representing Franklin High School, Los Angeles, national champion in 1924; Virginia Cook, representing Excelsior High School, and W. D. Dehnke, representing Whittier High School.

The Constitution Club began in 1925 as a purely social organization composed exclusively of national finalists. Last year it was decided to expand it so as to include former contestants all over the country who had attained a high place in the competition. It was also decided to expand the scope of the organization and to make it sprincipal object continuation of the promotion of interest in the Constitution begun by the contests.

OBJECTS OF CLUB

The object of the Constitution Club as distinguished from the object of the contest movement is expressed by Randolph Leigh, national director of the contest, as follows:

"The oratorical contests are designed to bring about a broader knowledge of American institutions, while the club, aside from its social aspects, is to try to make that knowledge of practical benefit to the country by having it express itself at the polls."

"The purpose of the club is to aid in improving citizenship and to use its influence in helping to maintain the best possible government," said Herbert Wenig in outlining the aims of the organization. "The club membership will use its best efforts to co-operate in the promotion of the annual oratorical contests on the Constitution from year to year."

Arthur Syvertson, winner of first place in 1923, when the contest was conducted as a Southern California enterprise, in a brief talk suggested that his understanding of the aim of the club is that it will seek to promote the spirit of citizenship so glowingly described in thousands of orations delivered each year by the participants in the contest.

NATION'S FOES ORGANIZED

"The most important function of this club, to my mind, is to organize the forces for representative government that are created by the contests," said Don Tyler, 1924 national champion. "One of the greatest dangers to this form of government is that the forces opposing it are so well organized. It should be the aim of the Constitution club to leave nothing undone in the way of organization of its own forces."

Mrs. Susan M. Dorsey, superintendent of the Los Angeles schools, in a brief speech recalled the begining of the contest movement four years ago.

"It was a small beginning, but it has grown to the point where it now is of international proportions," said Mrs. Dorsey. "As for the Constitution Club, I want to remind the members that they will find this organization their greatest support in whatever effort they may put forth through life in behalf of better government. They will often ask themselves if it is worth while to struggle aganist popular legarthy in the matter of civic betterment, and they will always find the Constitution Club a source of renewal of their courage and flagging energies."

APPEAL OF CONTESTS

Dr. E. C. Moore, director of the University of California at Los Angeles, suggested that he regards the national oratorical contests on the Constitution as an agency that is elevating a purely educational movement to the same plane of popular interest as football.

"There is as much dramatic appeal in these competitions for oratorical supremacy as there is in the contests that merely involve carrying a ball over a field, and the public is quick in its response to it," said Dr. Moore.

"So far as the Constitution Club is concerned, I believe that it presents an agency for the development of the finest service in the interests of our government and American institutions. I am inclined to believe that these young men and women do not as yet fully realize the opportunities for service that are opening up for them through this club."

STRONG BID FOR PLACE EXPECTED OF PASADENA

PASADENA, Feb. 26.—With public-speaking classes numbering 220 students as a nucleus, the largest number of students on record here is expected to enter the Pasadena High School try-outs for the fourth National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution.

Reference lists have already been posted and within a few days the students will start work on the compositions. From these, the eighteen which are deemed best will be delivered before a committee of judges about three weeks from now. All but the finalists will be eliminated at that time. In the district finals —Pasadena High School comprising one district in itself—the representative of the school who will compete in the interdistrict eliminations will be chosen.

The number and ability of experienced orators in the school indicates that Pasadena High School should have an excellent chance in the contest, in the opinion of Mrs. Helen M. Stone, chairman of the forensics committee of the faculty, in charge of the contest here.

Three students are particularly promising. Stanley Hahn, son of Judge Edwin F. Hahn of Los Angeles, has demonstrated unusual ability in past contests, recently winning the annual Davis-Hall oratorical contest at the local institution. He is a careful, clear thinker with a logical mind and a strong background.

Herbert Resner and Josephine McClellan were both finalists in the Pasadena High School elimination contest in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution last year and will be eligible for competition again this year. Resner won the G. A. Nelson oratorical contest held here recently and is styled a "born orator."

PARKING BAN ASKED

One-hour vehicle parking restrictions in the 1500 block in the vicinity of Sunset Boulevard and Selma street was asked of the City Council in a petition received yesterday from residents of that district.

BOGEY MAN OF FINANCE DEFENDED

Speaker Tells Rotarians Wall-Street Fetish Same as Savage Demonology

Wall street is not wicked, as it is often painted by ignorance, but is a perfectly respectable little thoroughfare, which reflects rather than causes economic conditions, according to Jason Westerfield, director of publicity of the New York Stock Exchange, who spoke yesterday on "Wall Street of Fact and Fiction," before the Rotary Club at the Biltmore.

"We pity primitive people who personalize the destructive elements of nature, and yet this anthropomorphic tendency has been reincarnated in so-called civilized men of today who believe that the 'demons of Wall street' are plotting day and night to rob the poor and destroy the nation," said the speaker.

"On my way out here I read in a paper the headline 'Wall Street Causes Disaster to Agriculture,'" continued Mr. Westerfield. "What bunk to hand to intelligent people! America is one vast workshop in which the workers are mutually interdependent. Any depression or inflation is quickly felt in the financial realm, and Wall street is just as desirous of general prosperity as any member or organization of the commonwealth. All industries and business react upon one another, the East prospers with the West, and all investors constitute that terrible Wall street. Not Wall street, but fear, suspicion and ignorance are the demons that play havoc with the minds, conduct and welfare of men."

Another feature of the luncheon program, which was attended by 300 members and 200 visiting Rotarians, was the entertainment by Sidney Smith, whose drawings of Andy Gump and of the "handsomest man in the audience" were greeted by roars of laughter.

Announcement was made that baseball teams of the Los Angeles and Alhambra Rotary clubs will compete at 2 p.m. today at the Alhambra High School diamond.

PURCHASING AGENTS PLAN ENTERTAINMENT

The Los Angeles Purchasing Agents' Association will observe their annual "Ladies' Night" at the Masonic Club tonight, it was announced yesterday by Arthur E. Carlson, vice-president of the organization and purchasing agent for the Pioneer Paper Company.

More than 450 members are expected to attend the function, which will be featured by a series of vaudeville and other entertainment numbers, with dancing between the acts. Because of the extended nature of the program and the desire of the association that it be finished by midnight, dinner will be served promptly at 6:30 p.m. The banquet room will be transformed into the semblance of a night club for the occasion.

DOLLED-UP MALE CONSIDERED

National Clothiers' Head Tells California Association in Convention Here Customer's Bad Taste Should Not Be Permitted to Make Him Dress Ridiculously

If Mr. Average Man is not faultlessly attired on every occasion, he is more to be pitied than censured; it's not his fault so much as that of the merchant who sold him his anatomical scenery, said H. B. Ober, president of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, to the Retail Clothiers', Furnishers' and Hatters' Association of California at the closing session of its eighth annual convention yesterday.

The merchant's responsibility to the customer, he said, does not end with wrapping up the suit and taking the money, but it is his duty to see that the customer buys the right kind of suit. In other words, he said, the dealer must supply the taste which the customer may not have.

"Of course," Ober admitted, "if a man is determined to wear a green shirt with a pink necktie or anything of that sort, you needn't argue with him. But you can—and should—point out what is correct in apparel and best suited to his personality. Then, if he still insists upon wearing the wrong thing, you have done your duty. But don't let him wear a brown hat when he should wear a gray one. What is more, don't be satisfied with merely selling him a suit—sell him a complete wardrobe!"

Yesterday morning the clothiers, furnishers and hatters made an automobile tour of Hollywood and Beverly Hills, winding up the trip with a visit to Universal City. A business session was held in the afternoon at which resolutions were adopted in appreciation of the hospitality extended the delegates by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, retailers of the city, the newspapers, and all other agencies which helped to make the convention a success. A vote of thanks also was tendered to the retiring president, William H. Stansbury, for his services and the Better Business Bureau was indorsed for its activities.

Fresno was selected as the city of next year's convention and the clothiers were hosts to the Men's Apparel Club last night at a ball in the Alexandria ballroom.

The Men's Appparel Club, which also held its convention at the Alexandria while the clothiers' session was in progress, elected the following officers: President, Maurice A. Robbins, Los Angeles; first vice-president, Lester Bristow, San Francisco; second vice-president, Al C. Tross, Los Angeles; third vice-president, J. J. Hoffman, San Francisco; recording secretary, Darrel L. Nelson, Los Angeles; financial secretary, Ben Hagen, San Francisco. National directors elected were M. I. Broudy of San Francisco and M. A. Robbins of Los Angeles. Ben Quittner of Los Angeles was elected chairman of the board of directors. Each of the retiring officers was presented with a handsome gift.

REALTY BOARD ADDS PROTEST

State Building Urged in New Civic Center

Exposition Park Site Held Great Inconvenience

Board of Control at Capital Notified of Stand

Definite expression of its opposition to the suggested location of the new State Building in Exposition Park was made yesterday by the Los Angeles Realty Board in a communication dispatched by its president, Harry H. Culver, to the State Board of Control at Sacramento. The letter reads:

"The governors of the Los Angeles Realty Board have been informed that Exposition Park has been suggested as a site for the new State building to be erected in Los Angeles, and I am directed by the governors to call the attention of your honorable body to the fact that this location would be most inconvenient for the great number of citizens of this city who have business with the various State departments.

"Members of this board, as well as the general public, contact frequently with the Real Estate Commissioner and other State officers, and it would be most inconvenient for the hundreds who have business with these officials to be obliged to make the long trip to Exposition Park.

"It is the belief of the governors that this building should be located in the downtown section. It was assumed that it would be one of the governmental buildings to be located in the proposed Civic Center plan.

"We hope that the board of control will give the location of this State building in Los Angeles a most careful consideration and decide upon a site which will be accessible to those who have business with the various departments."

The communication was countersigned by Tom Ingersoll, secretary.

HOMESTEAD HOPE ENDED BY DECISION

Federal Officials Reject Applications for Land in San Fernando Rancho

Would-be homesteaders on the old San Fernando Rancho, one of the early-day Spanish land grants, are doomed to disappointment, according to word received yesterday by Registrar Smith of the local land office, from United States Land Commissioner Spry. Officials at Washington, the message stated, have turned down the applications for homesteads on the land.

The refusal follows the rejection of claims recently filed here on the Palos Verde Rancho property. The local office of the Land Commissioner yesterday was busy in returning the filing fees presented by the Palos Verde homestead applicants and in the near future will start returning the fees filed on the San Fernando Rancho.

The office of the United States District Attorney in Los Angeles persistently has warned all persons that the titles to the early Spanish land grants are valid and cannot be homesteaded. However, certain real-estate agents have been urging attacks on the grants, advising persons to do so for "fees" said to be approximately $100 in each case.

Messages will be conveyed from the Pacific Coast to New York by wire—thence to London by radio. The rate for the first three minutes of conversation is $87, while a charge of $29 is made for each additional minute or fraction thereof. The "person-to-person" rate is identical with the "station-to-station" rate.

The first two-way trans-Atlantic telephone conversation was conducted publicly on an experimental basis but a year ago, and commercial service for the London and New York metropolitan areas was opened for the first time last month. With the opening of service from Southern California to England today, man will have conquered more than one-third the circumference of the world—a greater distance than heretofore covered by either radio or wire transmission.

Regular commercial service will be offered daily between the hours of 5:30 a.m. and 10 a.m., the British time corresponding to this being from 1:30 p.m. to 6 p.m.

"TELEPHONE FRIGHT" BOTHERING LONDONERS

LONDON, Feb. 25. (AP)—"Telephone fright" is preventing some persons from hearing well and speaking clearly when telephoning across the Atlantic. It is akin to stage fright, the thought of speaking 3000 miles over the ocean being just as befuddling to these persons as appearing before a large audience.

When telephones first came into use in England it took a long time for some customers to get over "phone fright." Telephone officials jestingly charge that Rudyard Kipling and old-fashioned folks who refuse to have telephones still are suffering from the ailment.

SOCIETY TO DISCUSS SHAKESPEARE PLAY

The Lovers of Shakespeare Society will meet next Thursday at 8 p.m. in Rowland Hall, 313 West Third street. The members will complete the reading of "Antony and Cleopatra" with discussions and quotations. Numbers on the program will be a talk on "Roman Warfare," by Maj. G. J. Oden, and the reading of Gen. Lytel's poem, "Anthony to Cleopatra," by Helen Bainbridge. The reading of the play is directed by Prof. B. F. Sisk, president of the society.

WOMAN WILL STAND TRIAL IN SHOOTING

Mrs. Drummond Bound Over to Superior Court for Wounding of Husband

With no defense offered other than the "unwritten law," Mrs. Mabel C. Drummond, who told officers that "I shot my husband because I loved him," yesterday was ordered held to the Superior Court for trial by Municipal Judge Rosencrans on charges of assault with intent to commit murder.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Frampton furnished yesterday's high light in the case when he called to the stand Mrs. Helen Salyer, 335 1-2 West Forty-second street, said to be the other woman in the case. Mrs. Salyer on the stand admitted under cross-examination by Fairfax Cosby, attorney for Mrs. Drummond, that she had been living with the defendant's husband, George Drummond—victim in the shooting—prior to the offense with which the wife is charged.

Drummond, according to Mr. Frampton and the former's attending physician, is in a precarious condition at the California Lutheran Hospital and unable to testify against his estranged wife.

Other witnesses called by the prosecution testified that Drummond was shot by his wife as he started to enter the home of Mrs. Salyer on the night of January 13, last. Detective Lieutenant Condafer testified that Mrs. Drummond was seated in her car when the officers arrived at the scene.

Judge Rosencrans in spite of spirited opposition by Attorney Cosby, raised Mrs. Drummond's bail from $5000 to $7500, as he ordered her bound over to the higher court.

SAWTELLE DEDICATES NEW JAIL

Modern $100,000 Structure Declared to be Last Word in Policing Equipment

The Sawtelle division of Los Angeles police moved yesterday into a new $100,000 station and jail, said to be the most modern and up-to-the-minute police headquarters on the Pacific Coast. All the experience of Los Angeles police development has gone into the fine brick structure which occupied an entire 100-foot lot at 1633 Purdue avenue, almost opposite the handsome Sawtelle library and community buildings on the corner of Sawtelle Boulevard and Purdue.

CAPTAIN O. L. POOR

A noteworthy feature of the new jail is the juvenile and women's department, with special facilities for caring for unfortunate women and youngsters. Cleanliness and sanitary conditions make the place anything but prison-like. The enamel plumbing is specially protected in the cells, and the jail kitchen has the latest inventions in steel range and electric refrigerator. Sleeping accommodations in the cells are all arranged with perfect ventilation and sanitation in view.

The Sawtelle division covers seventy-six square miles of policing. There are now fifty men on the Sawtelle force. Capt. O. L. Poor is division chief.

Fairfax High School Ready for Carnival

Fairfax is entering two decorated floats in the school pageant which is one of the events of the evening. Finn Frolich, sculptor, has supervised the building of these ice floats which are the work of the manual arts and art department. One of the Fairfax floats is a reproduction of the old viking ships, the other will carry Lady Fairfax.

Stewart Robertson, member of the Painters' and Sculptors' Club, has contracted to paint a portrait in oil of the school's most popular girl who will ride on this float.

In the matter of bands Fairfax will have some competition as Van Nuys High School is sending a delegation with a fifty-piece brass band.

BIRD SEED COST BASIS OF SUIT

Wife Charges Mate Refused Her Canary Because of Maintenance Price

It was the high cost of bird seed that wrecked the home of Anthony Baker, according to the divorce complaint of Mrs. Margie Baker filed yesterday.

Mrs. Baker wanted a canary bird, she related. Baker declined to get it for her, assigning as the reason that bird seed cost too much, she declared. She cited this as an example of a degree of economy that made life with him intolerable.

The only shows Baker would take her to, Mrs. Baker said, were those that charged no admission price or a price of not more than 15 cents.

Rentals You Can't Find Elsewhere

Many of the choicest homes, apartments and flats for rent in Los Angeles are discovered only by those who read TIMES RENTAL ADS. Not only are they listed here exclusively—there are so many, such wide choice, that the most critical demands are met.

And here is an added feature it took years of experience to perfect: All rentals are grouped by city districts, with houses and flats listed according to number of rooms.

RANCH SACRIFICE

CLEAR

1840 acres, and the use of three thousand acres that are inclosed by our fences, we own the only water in this section and have the use of this additional land. The Edgewood ranch was originally homesteaded by that sturdy pioneer, Capt. Oliver Applegate, the hero of the COVERED WAGON play. Capt. Applegate had the entire country to choose from, and he chose the Edgewood because he believed it to be the best ranch in America, he so informed a visitor last week. Alfalfa has grown on Applegate ranch for twenty-five years without irrigation. Practically this entire ranch will grow alfalfa, due to the peculiar subirrigation, and gravelly subsoil. Almost entirely level land, sloping gently from the mountains adjoining. Ranch lies near the northern line of California and southern line of Oregon. Has large ten-room dwelling, almost new, electric light plant two barns, 100x50 each, one 50x70. Applegate's original home five rms. and three cabins, blacksmith shop, fully equipped; garage, granary, hog and chicken houses, brooders, etc. New tractor, Jenkins stacker, buck rakes, seeder, plows, harrows, rakes, etc., in abundance. New harness and wagons. Plenty of work stock, racing stallion, Belgian stallion, range stallion, 105 head of Poland China hogs, sixty sows with pig, milk cows, chickens. Three hundred acres planted in fall grain, 100 acres ready to plant, plowed last fall. We own title to the running stream on property, two wells, 1000 gals. per minute capacity. In short, a wonderful ranch. There are millions of acres of free range adjoining. Reason for selling, my wife badly injured Feb. 6 in auto accident. Entire property in first-class order. I will loan any amount needed on ranch for cattle or sheep. Will take good local clear property as part pay, but not on my cash price basis. Ranch 12 miles from Klamath Falls, Oregon. Same rainfall as in Los Angeles county and at same time of year. Finest water and climate on earth. Cold season about six weeks each year. Abundance of deer and big game in abundance and finest trout fishing on earth near ranch. Price $65,000 net, cash to me. Property insured for $102,000. Can add three thousand acres adjoining if desired, yielded forty bushels of wheat to acre last year without plowing, will grow alfalfa also. Will accept any kind of property as security on contract and loan cash for stock. If you want a real ranch it is before you. Owner, BOB COYNE 1435 Crescent Hgts. Blvd., Hollywood. Phone HE. 4261.
